—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY B. E. POWELL.

Do you, gentlemen of experience, sometimes find yourself a little weak on the knowledge side? Do you occasionally feel that any move you make may end in business disaster?

Perhaps your state university in this very month can help you out. Courses are being offered from Jan. 19 in highway engineering, while at the same time the corn growers' and stockmen's convention will convene, together with the school for housekeepers for such of their wives as can induce some one to borrow the baby and the kittens for two weeks. From Jan. 12 another group is gathering to trim the wick of the lamp of learning, when the industrial course in ceramics will call together a group who will discuss the true [illegible] of the large amount of cussedness encountered in clay working.

THE conditions of admission are easy—no charges or examinations of any kind. Applicants will please register, and it is preferred that they provide themselves with car fare home.

Now, the purpose of the course in highway engineering is to aid the newly appointed county superintendents of highways in preparing for their duties and also to help any who may aspire to become the assistants of the county superintendents of highways or who seek employment under the state highway commission. It is hoped that the instruction given, the demonstrations made, and the machinery exhibited will prove of interest also to contractors, contractors' foremen, and to highway commissioners and others interested in road improvement.

GOOD roads are at the very basis of a nation's advancement. Until a man can get away from home easily he never will be contented in that home. Especially is this true of the young man. When the young man has an attractive home on the farm that he can whirl away from with no great effort he will be found whirling back far more often than he will be found taking a whirl in the city.

And good roads alone are not enough. Attractive roads are no more than the just due of the corn belt. Prof. Wilhelm Miller, who can scientifically prove that a brown [illegible] on the prairie has the carnation in the hothouse beaten at its own game, will show by means of lantern slides the road that is and the road that might be. There is no virtue in being ugly even in the corn belt, and the calling of the roadmaker has an æsthetic value quite as pronounced as that of the milliner.

DO not understand that this two weeks' short course expects to turn out experienced, efficient road engineers; but it is believed that even experienced civil engineers who have not made a specialty of road engineering may receive valuable help. It is also believed that men without experience in general engineering or in road work may receive valuable suggestions concerning road and bridge construction and may also acquire some first hand knowledge of road materials and machinery.

Now the industrial course in ceramics is under the direction of A. V. Bleininger, ceramic chemist of the bureau of standards, Pittsburgh, Pa., as well as under Prof. Ray T. Stull of the university.

The problems of the clay worker are [illegible] will check and crack; [illegible] upsets the best laid plans. [illegible] the qualities of certain clays not [illegible] understood, a fortune [illegible] for generations in a [illegible]. Now, there are not many in [illegible] who are willing to leave a [illegible].

'J.C.R.,' MAN WITHOUT MEMORY, STILL AWAITS IDENTIFICATION.

Object of Nation Wide Search Conducted by Navy and Minnesota Hospital Still Unidentified.

"J. C. R.," a man without a memory, is awaiting identification at the Oak Forest infirmary, where he was taken on Nov. 10, after being picked up by a policeman at Cottage Grove avenue and Thirty-first street.

The man was at one time the object of a nation wide search, conducted by the United States navy and the officials of the State hospital at Rochester, Minn. "J. C. R." has been unable to remember any more than that he is 45 years old and was a lieutenant in the United States navy.

In June, 1907, the man was found unconscious on the railroad tracks at Waseca, Minn., and in April of the next year was removed to the State hospital, where at one time he told a fragmentary story that he had been robbed and slugged in St. Paul while returning from San Francisco, where he had been on a government mission.

An operation was performed on the man's skull and it was found that part of his brain was gone. Hopes of recovering the man's memory were given up. On Oct. 17 last "J. C. R." stole a bag of coins from the office of the hospital in Rochester and disappeared.

Nothing has been heard of him until he was identified yesterday at the Oak Forest infirmary as the same man who escaped from Rochester.

WOULD WHITE RUN FOR GOVERNOR OF KANSAS? NOT HE!

Emporia Editor Wittily Comments on Suggestion He Be Progressive Candidate.

SAYS HE KNOWS HIMSELF

Fears It Would Mean Calamity, So His Final Verdict Is "Nix on Willyum Allen."

THREATENS TO EXPOSE "THE MAN"

Emporia, Kas., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—William Allen White's Emporia Gazette receives the suggestion of White as Progressive candidate for governor as follows:

"A number of Progressives at Lakin, more kind than considerate, yesterday resolved in favor of this man White of Emporia for governor. They wanted him to run as a Progressive candidate.

"To which the Gazette says, 'No—a thousand times, no.' For we are on to that man White, and without wishing to speak disrespectfully of a fellow townsman, who, so far as we know, may be at least outwardly decent in the simpler relations of life—perhaps he pays his debts when it is convenient, and he may be kind to his family, though that's not to his credit, for who wouldn't be?—and he may have kept out of jail, one way or another, for some time—without, as we say, desiring to speak disrespectfully of this man we know that he is not the man either to run for governor or, if such a grotesque thing could be imagined, to serve as governor.

Just Common Political Scold!

"He can't make a speech. He has a lot of radical convictions, which he sometimes comes into the Gazette office and exploits, which are dangerous. He has been jawing politicians for twenty years until he is a common scold, and he has set up his so called ideals so high that the Angel Gabriel himself couldn't give the performance that this man White would have to advertise on the bills.

"So, in the words of the poet, 'Nix on Willyum Allen.' The Gazette's nose is hard and cold on the proposition to make him governor. He is a four flusher, a ring tailed, ripsnorting hell-raiser and a grandstander. He makes a big noise. He yips and kioodles around a good deal, but he is everlastingly and preëminently N. G. as gubernatorial timber—full of knots, warts, woodpecker holes, and rotten spots.

"He would have the enmity of more men who have walked the plank politically than any other man in Kansas, and his candidacy would issue an irrevocable charter in Kansas for the Progressive party to be the official minority representative, world without end.

Poor White! All Ag'in Him.

"Men and women would be trampled to death at 7 o'clock election morning trying to get to the polls to cast the first vote against him, and at night perfectly good citizens, kind fathers and indulgent husbands, would risk a jail sentence to get in at least ten votes against him as repeaters. It may be that the Progressive party needs a goat, but the demand doesn't require a billygoat.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party.

"But this man White is a shoulder galled, sore backed, hamstrung, windbroken, stringhalted, stump sucking old stager, who in addition to being no good for draft and general purposes has the political bots, blind staggers, heaves, pinkeye, and epizoötic. Moreover, he is locoed and has other defects. People in the state may be fooled by the doped gait and fancy steps of this man White. But we know him.

Threatens to Tell Horrid Truth.

"And if he is a candidate for governor or for any other office we propose to tell the truth about him—how he robbed the county with a padded printing bill, how he offered to trade off his support to a congressman for a government job, how he has blackmailed good citizens and has run a bulldozing, disreputable newspaper in this town for twenty years, and has grafted off business men and sold fake mining stock and advocated anarchy and assassination.

"These are but a few preliminary things that occur to us as the moment passes. But if his fool friends insist on playing up this self-advertising game for him any longer we propose to abandon twenty years of guarded innuendo and prattling subterfuge and come out with the real facts. We shall speak plainly hereafter.

"A word to the wise should gather no moss."

WATCHMAN FORCES BANKER TO PROVE RIGHT TO ENTER.

President of San Francisco Institution Has to Establish His Identity While Facing Revolver—Praises Guard.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 15.—William H. Crocker, president of the First National bank, is provided today with a pass to his own bank. He wrote it last night under cover of the night watchman's revolver.

Wishing to get into his office, Mr. Crocker attempted to use his personal passkey, but the watchman halted him. Explanations were unavailing until Mr. Crocker remembered that one of his own photographs, with his autograph on it, stood on his desk.

He persuaded the watchman to compare the portrait with the original and the signature on the photograph with one he wrote on a [illegible]. The watchman began to apologize, but Mr. Crocker cut him short, saying:

ARMED MEN GUARD BANKER FROM FOE

Boleslaus Zaleski Victim of Threatening Letters Demanding Money.

TRAP FOR WRITER FAILS.

Extortionists have threatened the life of Boleslaus Zaleski, Polish banker. He is guarded day and night by city detectives and operatives of a private detective agency. Armed guards accompany the banker daily in his limousine from his residence at 4841 Champlain avenue to the Depositors' State and Savings bank at 4733-37 South Ashland avenue.

Zaleski is president of the bank, which has a capital of $300,000. He is considered one of the wealthiest Poles in Chicago. The banker has received two letters from the extortionists and his wife is prostrated as the result of receiving a telephone call from the same source.

The first letter to Zaleski demanded $4,000. In the second the figure was raised to $6,000. Death was the penalty threatened in each.

Himes and Smulski Alarmed.

Former Judge Isadore H. Himes, vice president and attorney for the bank, and former City Treasurer John F. Smulski, chairman of the board of directors, are in charge of the precautions to protect the bank president.

Mr. Zaleski received the first letter at the bank on Jan. 3. It was written in Polish and was mailed at 1:20 o'clock that morning from the central postal district. It demanded that $4,000 in currency be placed under a milk loading platform at Forty-ninth and Laflin streets by 6 o'clock the following morning or Zaleski would be shot down in the street.

Obeying the injunctions of the writer, Zaleski told no one of receiving the note. At the time appointed the banker's closed automobile drew up at the loading platform. He stepped out and placed a slip of paper under a stone on the platform. Mr. Zaleski has told the police that it was a reply which he had written to the plotters, pleading inability to procure $4,000 at once, but promising to get the required amount and produce it later as requested.

Postal Inspectors Notified.

When the banker's business associates learned of the attempted extortion, the letter was taken to the postal inspectors and investigators were placed on the case. Men from the detective bureau and the New City station were assigned to run down the gang. The bank employed agents from a private agency to guard the president.

On Jan. 8 Mrs. Zaleski learned of the threat when a man talked to her over the telephone. He said her husband would be killed unless he complied with the demands.

On Sunday Mr. Zaleski received another letter, written in Polish, and more threatening than the first. The writers demanded that he place $6,000 in currency under the milk loading platform by 5 a. m. on Tuesday. If he refused, the writer said, he would be killed before sunset of that day.

Detectives Lie in Wait.

By midnight on Tuesday twenty detectives were lying in wait in stations of vantage about the loading platform. Every effort was made to keep the ambuscade secret. The watchers waited all night. It was 5 a. m. when Zaleski's automobile drew up at the platform.

The banker placed a decoy package under the platform. He returned to the auto and was driven away. The detectives waited. Several minutes later two men approached on Laflin street. One stopped to light a match. He was almost in front of the loading platform. The other man waited. Neither one looked at the platform or made a move toward it. They walked on. GRIEF OVER DEATH OF CHILD DRIVES BOTH PARENTS INSANE.

Two Years After John Piniarski Is Killed by Auto Truck His Father and Mother Lose Their Minds.

Frank Piniarski is a day laborer. His wage, and dreams of wage, are beneath consideration for income tax purposes. His children numbered six two years ago. He managed to provide food and clothing for all of them, and his home at 8737 Commercial avenue was happy.

One day in 1912 his son John was struck by an automobile truck. John died. There remained five children to console Piniarski and Rose, his wife. But his grief was not assuaged.

Yesterday neighbors were alarmed to observe Mrs. Piniarski singing and flourishing a poker. They called the police. The officers found Mrs. Piniarski without the house and Mr. Piniarski within, both hopelessly insane. Over and over they repeated the name of the dead son. They were taken to the South Chicago station and will be conveyed to the detention hospital today.

John Polczynski, a sympathetic neighbor, told the police he would care for the "orphaned" brood left behind until some means might be discovered of giving them to an asylum. They are Victoria, who is 12; Rose, 10; Ignatius, 9; Joseph, 4; and Helen, 2 years old.

FARM EXPERT TO QUIT HIS JOB: GIVES WAY TO YOUNGER MAN.

F. D. Coburn, for Twenty Years Secretary of Kansas City Board of Agriculture, Will Resign Today.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 15.—F. D. Coburn, twenty years secretary of the Kansas board of agriculture and a national authority on agricultural topics, announced today he would resign tomorrow. Secretary Coburn said he had held the place long enough and that he believed the time had come when the duties of the office should be shifted to the shoulders of a younger man.

In 1906 Mr. Coburn declined a United States senatorship when Gov. Hoch named him to complete the unexpired term of Senator J. Ralph Burton.

Mr. Coburn was three times regent of the Kansas State Agricultural college and was chief of the department of live stock at the Louisiana Purchase exposition in St. Louis in 1904.

"I would have no one ever say of me," Mr. Coburn said, "that I continued to hold a state position after the period of my usefulness had passed."

HUMANE 'COP' STOPS FUNERAL.

Gary Officer Arrests Driver of Hearse for Cruelty to a Lame Horse.

Gary, Ind., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—The ill luck which followed Mrs. Andrew Dembosky through the last few years of her life attended her in death today when the funeral procession was halted and the driver of the hearse arrested. Humane Officer W. F. McPhearson accused R. S. Lawrence, the driver, of cruelty to animals. He was driving a lame horse. Another horse was obtained and the funeral proceeded.

Man Found Uninjured Despite Moans Says He Wants to Join Mate in Hospital.

The police ambulance answered a hurry call to 226 West Chicago avenue last night. They found Patrick Shannon moaning pitifully. He said both his legs were broken and he wanted to be taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Arrived there Dr. Albert E. Eisendrath examined him.

"You're all right," said the surgeon. "Why did you lie?"

GERMS IN PARCEL POISON DRIVER

Wells-Fargo Man Delivers Crushed Package to City Health Department.

BEEF LUNGS THE CAUSE.

Jacob Chapman is a driver for the Wells-Fargo Express company. Wednesday morning he received a package for delivery to the health department of the city of Chicago. The package was in bad order. It consisted of a cigar box, wrapped in heavy paper and tied with a string. The box had been crushed in transportation.

There was blood on the outside of the package. Some of it got on the driver's hands, which were chapped. There was no indication on the outside of the package of the nature of its contents.

Anthrax Germs Found.

On Wednesday evening the bacteriological laboratory at the health department reported on the analysis of the lungs of a beef. The report stated anthrax germs had been detected. The beef lungs were contained in the package which had been delivered to the health department by Jacob Chapman.

E. W. Sweeney is a clerk in the health department. It was he who received the package from Chapman. As soon as the discovery of anthrax germs was reported Mr. Sweeney underwent a strenuous process of disinfection. Detectives were sent out to find Chapman. They did not find him until yesterday. He was still working. Assistant Health Commissioner Koehler looked at the man and discovered the symptoms of a virulent poison. Chapman was taken immediately to the Iroquois Memorial hospital. He underwent an operation at once.

Shipped by Veterinarian.

The parcel was shipped by Dr. Finley, who is a veterinarian at Byron, Ill.

Information has been received by the health department that ten cattle have died from anthrax on the farm of Joseph Hamon, which is near Byron. Their carcasses were shipped on auto trucks to a rendering plant at Rockford, Ill.

Health Commissioner Young sent Dr. Gibbs to Byron yesterday to make an investigation. He also sent a letter to Dr. O. E. Dyson, state veterinarian, setting forth the facts.

9,434 DOGS KILLED IN YEAR, CITY POUNDMASTER REPORTS.

Stuart Says Residents Are Fast Getting Rid of Pets—Pasteur Treatment Prevents Rabies.

William F. Stuart, city poundmaster, reported yesterday to Chief Gleason that 9,434 dogs had been caught and destroyed during the last year.

"People are getting rid of their dogs," he said. "From five to [illegible] persons call up every day asking that we come for their dogs. Less than [illegible] people have called at the dog pound for dogs as pets. Of the [illegible] dogs which bit people last year, [illegible] had rabies."

Two mad cats were captured during the year. No fatalities from dog bites occurred, because Pasteur treatments were given in time, according to the report.

TESTIFIES HE SAW BALLOTS ALTERED BY POLL OFFICIALS

John A. McLain, Watcher, Accuses Rose and Gordon, Two of Four on Trial.

HOYNE AND RAPP BENEFITED

Another Witness Tells of Accusation Made During Progress of the Count.

FAKED VOTES IN EVIDENCE TODAY

First direct evidence of alleged fraud at the November, 1912, election, which led to the return of indictments by the Cooper special grand jury, was introduced yesterday at the trial of Charles Baranov, Joseph Gordon, David Rose, and Thomas Geary.

It was given by John A. McLain, 121 South Halsted street, Socialist watcher in the Eighteenth ward on election day, who was present when the ballots were being counted in the Sixteenth precinct, involved in the present case.

At the morning session Judge Burke ruled the ballots were admissible as evidence. They were in the custody of Lawrence F. King, special commissioner in charge of the ballots, but were not opened. It is expected they will be exhibited in the evidence today.

Rapp and Hoyne Beneficiaries.

McLain accused Rose of having marked a ballot for Leland S. Rapp, Republican candidate for Municipal court clerk, and he said he saw Gordon mark two ballots for State's Attorney Hoyne.

He also corroborated the testimony of James H. Root of 614 West Adams street, Republican judge of election in the precinct, given at the morning session. Root said James Harris, Republican judge, had openly accused Rose of marking ballots for Rapp. Harris is expected to be a witness today.

"The defendants, Rose, Gordon, Baranov, and Geary, were all about the pool table where the ballots were being counted by myself, Harris, Root, and some others," McLain said.

"What first attracted your attention to any of the defendants?" Special State's Attorney John E. Northup asked.

"My attention was first attracted to suspicious movements——" McLain began in reply.

Q.—Whose movements? A.—Those of Gordon and Rose.

Tells of Ballot Tampering.

Q.—Describe their movements. A.—I would see Gordon and Rose pick up a ballot and then make a quick move.

Q.—How many times did you see this? A.—Possibly eighteen, twenty, or maybe thirty times.

Q.—Did you hear anyone make a statement about this? A.—Yes, Harris accused Rose of marking ballots for Rapp and Rose denied it.

Q.—Did you see Rose mark a ballot? A.—I saw him pick up a ballot out of the bunch he had been handling and I saw a cross after the name of Rapp which was a blank space before he picked it up.

Q.—Did you see any one else marking ballots? A.—I saw Mr. Gordon mark two ballots for Mr. Hoyne.

Q.—Did you see Harris, or Root, or any of the clerks, or any one else, or did you yourself mark any ballots? A.—No.

Q.—Describe the manner in which Rose marked the ballot. A.—He raised the ballot and turned up the corner and then I could see this quick motion.

Q.—Did you see a pencil? A.—No; I could not see what he held in his hand—only the quick motion.

Q.—Did you see Gordon's movements when he marked? A.—They were practically the same as those of Rose.

McLain Not Sworn.

McLain was not sworn as a witness and did not take any oath, but gave his testimony by affirmation. This was touched upon by Attorney Crowe in the cross-examination.

"Have you any faith in the courts?" Mr. Crowe asked.

"Well, that's a pretty hard question to answer," McLain replied. "I believe in some and in others I don't."

"Do you believe in God?"

An objection by the prosecution was sustained.

Q.—Did you, as a law abiding citizen, protest to the policeman when you saw these three violations of the election law, which constitute a felony and a penitentiary offense? A.—No; I complained to the Democratic judge, Baranov.

Cross-Examined by O'Brien.

McLain was subjected to a severe cross-examination by Attorney James C. O'Brien, counsel for Gordon, as to whether he had stated in Mr. Northup's office on Sunday that he did not name Gordon when he accused him in the polling place but merely pointed at him. McLain stated on the witness stand that he called Gordon by name. Attorney Crowe was present Sunday when McLain was examined in Mr. Northup's office in the City Hall Square building.

"Have you any reason to change your testimony from what you said Sunday about naming Gordon?" Mr. O'Brien asked.

"If I said on Sunday that I did not name him, I guess that's right," McLain replied.

Repeats Accusation Made at Polls.

Mr. Root's testimony led up to the sorting of ballots. Then he was asked:

"Was your attention attracted to Rose?"

"Yes," he replied.

Q.—Why? A.—My attention was attracted to Rose because when he marked down ballots Harris nudged me. Then Harris said: "Rose, you're marking ballots for Rapp and I'll be d—— if I'll stand for it."

Q.—Did Rose say anything or do anything? A.—No, he looked up at Harris and made [illegible] a short denial, but what he said I do not know.

When asked about the movements of Baranov in the polling place Root said:

"My recollection is that Baranov went to sleep several times while we were counting the ballots and I discussed with the judges and clerks the question of making him do his share of the work."

Saw Peter Bartzen Badge.

William Ogden, 608 West Adams street, a Democratic clerk, was asked:

"Were you present when the ballots were turned out on the pool table?"

"No, sir. I was counting the returns on the machine."

Q.—Did you later go over to the pool table? A.—Yes.

Q.—Were all the defendants there? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did Mr. Gordon have any badges on? A.—Yes. I think they were Democratic badges—one was Peter Bartzen's.

Q.—About 1 o'clock Mr. Baranov fell asleep, did he not? A.—Yes.

Q.—Afterwards Harris sent you out, did he not, leaving Harris, Frederick, Angst, the Socialist watcher, and Baranov, who was asleep? A.—Yes.

Q.—You do not know what took place when you were out? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Isn't Harris, who was a watcher, a very strong partisan of Maclay Hoyne and Peter Bartzen? A.—Yes, sir.

Other Witnesses Testify.

Edward Gurty of 5514 South Elizabeth street, a Socialist watcher in the Sixteenth precinct of the Eighteenth ward, testified he had seen certain ballots held out as defective.

James Creighton, Republican watcher, testified that his attention was attracted by the number of ballots held out because of defects.

Frederick Angst, 181 South Halsted street, a clerk of election, said he saw no marking of ballots.

YOUTH HOLDS UP SEVEN MEN IN DOWNTOWN LUNCHROOM.

Takes $45 from Proprietor of Restaurant While Socialist Orator Harangues Crowd on "Getting Share."

Six men bestrode six stools at the lunch counter of James Caras at 16 East Congress street last evening. Each had a steaming portion before him. Several hundred men were listening to a Socialist speaker across the street, when the door of the lunchroom opened.

"Capitalism is the cause of your empty pockets and empty stomachs, and——," drifted in from the street.

"If anybody here hollers, I'll shoot," came from the intruder. A young man without an overcoat stood in the door. A revolver in his right hand was trained on Caras, the proprietor.

Caras and the men at the counter stretched their arms into the air. Some of the hands clutched knives and forks or spoons. The robber removed $45 from the cash register, opened the door, and walked out.

"The crimes of the rich make you poor. Why don't you get your share——" drifted in from the Socialist meeting as the door slammed.

DRAGS BURGLAR TO STATION.

Man Dressed in Night Clothes Tells Police He Captured Intruder in His Room.

Dressed in his night clothes, trousers, coat and shoes Leonard Van Steinberg, a post-office clerk, of 1004 West Jackson boulevard, appeared at the Desplaines street police station last night dragging a recalcitrant man whom he had booked as a burglar.

The prisoner gave the name of Albert W. Hansen, 507 South State street, and the police say he is a deserter from the army.

Van Steinberg says he awoke shortly after 10 o'clock and heard a man in the room. He got up and overpowered him.

JEWS FIGHT IMMIGRATION BILL.

Chicagoans Protest Passage of Burritt-Dillingham Measure—Ask Sherman's Aid.

Vigorous protest against the passage of the Burritt-Dillingham immigration bill is being made in Chicago, particularly among the Jewish residents. United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman was apprised of the activity demonstrated by various mass meetings in a letter sent to him by Jehiel D. Liebling, editor of the Chicago Jewish Times. A reply to Mr. Liebling from James M. Porter, Senator Sherman's secretary, says the subject will have the close attention of Senator Sherman.

COPLEY ASSAILS USE OF MERIT LAW

Congressman Tells House of Political Activity in Aurora District.

CITES ACTS OF HIS FOES.

Relates How Woman Democrat, P.-O. Employe, Was Suspended on Petty Charge.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Congressman Ira C. Copley of the Eleventh Illinois district today in the house of representatives assailed the tactics used by his political foes in their effort to defeat him for office.

He openly charged Republican postmasters and federal employes with unlawful use of their power to serve the old Hopkins-Snapp machine.

He gave names, dates, and places, and supported his assertions with voluminous exhibits of letters, reports, and other documents. The excoriation of his foes was accompanied by an arraignment of the maladministration of the civil service law, perhaps the most sensational in the history of that statute.

Moon Defies President Wilson.

Shortly before Mr. Copley's speech Chairman Moon of the postoffice committee had opened the debate on the postoffice appropriation bill by bidding defiance to President Wilson, who seeks to eliminate that section of the measure removing assistant postmasters from the protection of the civil service.

President Wilson, undoubtedly perceiving the necessity of calling a halt on the nullification of the merit statute by the Democratic spoilsmen, has served notice he will veto the bill unless this provision be eliminated. Postmaster General Burleson also protested against the provision in a letter to Representative Moon.

Copley Criticises Merit Law.

Mr. Copley began by stating that as a member of the postoffice committee he had voted with the Democrats to remove assistant postmasters from the operation of the civil service act.

"This vote," he said, "was entirely at variance with every act and word of my life, and was cast only after mature deliberation and cast only in the light of my own experience in the working of the present civil service law.

"The civil service law which protects certain men in the so-called classified service if they do the bidding of their masters, one which subjects them to every sort of indignity, demotion, and even dismissal if they do not, is not a good law according to my belief."

The Illinois congressman then proceeded to describe his observation of the federal merit rule in his district. He said that in the 1910 primary the seventeen newspapers in the Eleventh district controlled by federal officeholders refused to print his political advertising. He then sought to have copies of his own newspaper, the Aurora Beacon, sent for one month to several hundred persons, the subscriptions being paid for by Mr. Copley himself. The postoffice department gave a ruling approving this procedure.

Tells of Campaign Troubles.

When the papers were sent out, the congressman said, Postmaster Constantine of Aurora declared that the Beacon was violating the postal laws. The authority of the postoffice department was submitted to the postmaster.

"Within forty-eight hours," Mr. Copley said, "Mr. R. P. Goodwin, then an assistant attorney general of the United States and assigned to the postoffice department, who at that time lived in Aurora, dropped into town and immediately ruled that the paper was violating the postal rules and was liable to exclusion.

"At once the editor of the paper put up a certified check of $400 to cover any possible first class postage necessary and demanded that no action be taken on that certified check until a final ruling had been secured from the department.

"Mr. Constantine or Mr. Goodwin evidently at once took the matter up with the postoffice department, which receded from its former decision and tried to find some place in which the newspaper had violated the confidence placed in it.

Certified Check Is Returned.

"There was a sequel after my nomination and election. I called upon the postmaster general and presented the entire case to him orally. A few days after my visit the certified check was returned to the paper without any comment.

"At the same time the papers hostile to me in the district were being circulated in exactly the same manner by my opponents. None of them paid first class postage and none of them were asked to pay first class postage.

Tells of Woman's Humiliation.

The congressman then told the story of Miss Minnie Dillon, who was appointed a clerk in the Aurora postoffice in 1884, served under two Democratic and three Republican administrations, and worked up to the best woman's position in the office. Miss Dillon belonged to a Democratic family, and Postmaster Constantine, Republican, immediately after his appointment, tried to get rid of her, the congressman said.

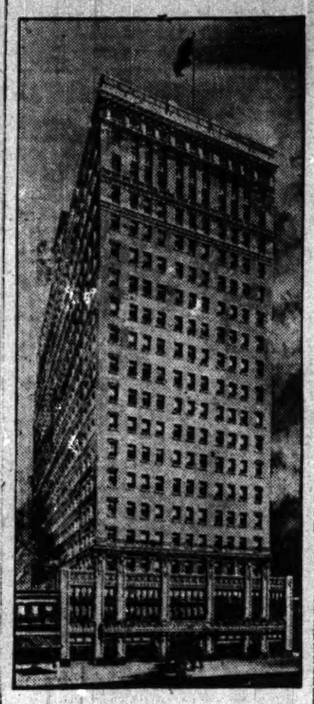
"Then began a series of petty persecutions and indignities and demotions," Mr. Copley said, "until Miss Dillon found herself occupying the most unpleasant position of any clerk in the office. Many times she was told that if her family would 'get right' there would be no trouble.

"The culmination finally came when the postmaster, after making first almost impossible hours, suddenly on the 14th of October, 1911, came to her and told her that he was going to hold out $28 from her salary, alleging she was short that amount in her accounts.

"She told the postmaster that he was entirely wrong and brought her father and brother down to the office to see the postmaster. This was an infraction of the rules and her first. She was suspended.

"The evidence developed by the subsequent trial of Miss Dillon entirely exonerated her and showed that the $28 shortage was the fault of another clerk, but she was suspended for six months for that serious infraction of the rule against bringing her father and brother to the office when her honesty was assailed."

New Men's Hotel Plan of Y. M. C. A.



GIFT FILLS FUND FOR Y.M.C.A. HOTEL

Donation of $50,000 Anonymously Made to Complete Financing of Project.

YEAR'S RECEIPTS $92,000.

Large Accretions to Association's Treasury Are Reported at Annual Meeting.

Bequests and gifts totaling $92,000 for various features of Y. M. C. A. work in Chicago were announced last evening at the annual dinner and meeting of the association in the rooms of the City club.

A conditional gift of $50,000 for the projected Y. M. C. A. hotel for men was the feature of the gathering. Officers of the association announced the giver had stipulated his name should not be made known. The donor, it was said, specified that his gift be available as the last $50,000 necessary to complete a fund of $500,000 with which to finance the hotel project.

Building Cost $1,000,000.

It is estimated the building and site will cost $1,000,000. Of this amount the board has appropriated $375,000 for the site. To the building fund $300,000 has now been subscribed, including the $50,000 gift from the anonymous donor.

The other gifts received were a bequest of $5,000 from Kenneth Barnhart; from the estate of Thomas Murdoch, $5,000; bequest of Miss Martha S. Hill, $10,000, and subscriptions received during the year to the Wabash avenue building for negroes, $22,000.

The projected hotel, which will be a popular priced one, will be in Wabash avenue, between Peck and Eldredge courts. Architect R. C. Berlin is preparing the plans. The building will have a frontage on Wabash avenue of 96 feet and a depth of 166 feet. It will be a nineteen story structure above and two stories below the street level. It will contain 1,870 rooms.

Many at Meeting.

The meeting was attended by members of the board of trustees, of the board of managers and of the committees of management of the twenty-three departments in Chicago. About 250 persons, including representatives of the negro and Japanese departments, were present. The annual election of officers resulted as follows (all reelected):

President ..... William P. Sidley
Vice presidents.. A. Stamford White, John B. Lord
Secretary ..... C. T. B. Goodspeed
Treasurer ..... James R. Chapman
General secretary ..... L. Wilbur Messer

The membership report showed a total of 18,425 members on Dec. 31, 1913. This is an increase of 1,168, or 9 per cent, for the year.

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF WOMAN

Coroner and Police Are Interested in Case of Mrs. Leona Crumes, a Hairdresser.

The coroner and police are investigating the death of Mrs. Leona Crumes, or Van Winkle, a young white woman who was employed as a hairdresser in the shop of Mrs. Jessie Beath, the wife of Taylor Beath, a negro, at 3120 Cottage Grove avenue.

A woman in the neighborhood told the police she had seen the white woman with five negroes in a room in the rear of the shop, several nights before her death was reported. Mrs. Crumes died on Monday, after persons in the house had refused to permit her removal to a hospital.

Although Dr. E. L. Denison says he believes the woman died from poison, probably swallowed intentionally, the certificate mentions "kidney trouble" as the cause of death. The funeral was stopped yesterday. Dr. Joseph Springer, coroner's physician, is making an examination of the contents of the stomach.

Investigates Death of Woman.

The coroner started an investigation today in the case of Mrs. Ellen Hogan, who was 50 years old and lived at 741 Blackhawk street. She was found dying by her husband, Martin Hogan, who called the police. Gas was escaping from an open jet.

STATE PATRONAGE UPSET.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—The Belvidere postoffice fight, put up to Gov. Dunne today, furnishes a complication in connection with the row over the Macomb postoffice which is likely to upset all calculations on the distribution of federal patronage in Illinois.

Belvidere and its postoffice troubles got on the political map through a protest filed by the Ministerial association of that city against the appointment of John Dooley, who, it is understood, is slated to succeed the present postmaster, Frank T. Moran, when the latter's term expires on Jan. 26.

Belvidere is the home town of Roger C. Sullivan. Mr. Dooley is Mr. Sullivan's friend. He is attacked by the ministers as unfit because of his identification with liquor interests.

MAYOR REVOKES LICENSES OF TWO STATE STREET THEATERS.

Closes "Royal" and "Omar," Described as "Immoral and Degrading Business Enterprises."

Two theaters described as "confidence games" and as "immoral and degrading business enterprises" were closed by Mayor Harrison yesterday.

They were the Royal theater, 408 South State street, and the Omar, 532 South State street. They were alike in type. An admission fee of 10 cents was charged. A "spieler" announced that an extra nickel would be charged for the second show in an adjoining room, and several women in abbreviated skirts were exhibited as a lure. In the inner room an announcement was made that a special charge was made for "the big show for men only." This performance consisted principally of statue poses by the women who danced in the second show.

Mayor Harrison revoked both licenses. Abe Merinbaum, his license clerk, found the permit for the Royal was in the name of Jones, Linick & Schaefer, lessees of the Colonial, McVickers', the La Salle, the Wilson avenue, and several other theaters. The license of the Omar was in the name of James Fallon.

The mayor also revoked the saloon license of Eman Lazansky, 2100 Allport avenue.

EDGAR T. DAVIES CHARGES POLITICAL CONSPIRACY.

Former State Factory Inspector Makes Plot Assertion in Fighting Suit Charging Him with Conversion.

Edgar T. Davies, former state factory inspector, asserted yesterday that the suit for $250 in the Municipal court charging him with converting to his own use that amount of property owned by the department is a political conspiracy to injure former Gov. Deneen and himself.

The hearing of the charges began before Judge Wells and a jury and was continued until today. The suit is brought by Attorney John P. Reed for the factory inspection bureau.

"On April 10, 1913, I was in the office of James B. Burdette, chairman of the state civil service commission, in the state house in Springfield," Mr. Davies said. "Burdette asked me, 'What are you going to do?' I said, 'I will continue my work of safety engineering and accident prevention.'

"Said Burdette, 'I suppose you feel rather bitter towards the administration. Let me tell you, if you criticise Gov. Dunne or me we'll ruin and crucify you.'"

Dies from Street Car Injuries.

Mrs. Lucy Wharton of 4046 Indiana avenue died yesterday from injuries received on Jan. 4 when she alighted from a street car at East Forty-first street and Indiana avenue.

The Most Beautiful Women's Store in America

Will now be here in your own city of Chicago in Michigan boulevard.

You will readily recognize that no other interior, devoted to trade, has ever been given such perfect architectural beauty and harmonious color charm.

FOR this remarkable piece of purest art, we owe full credit to the designers, Plamondon & Tetze, and we should be lacking in generosity if we did not give it freely and gratefully here.

They have taken the Louis XVI. period for their motif—that period of grace and delicacy in architectural art. They have worked in Circassian walnut and old French gold.

THEY tell us that the log, which they imported from Siberia, and from which the walnut panels were taken, is the most perfect piece of wood that ever came to America. Each panel is a study—a nature painting done in the natural grain.

About these panels of natural wood and old gold they have woven their colorings of mulberry and soft ivory shades, and they have carried this color scheme clear through, even to the silk shades of the candelabra.

INTO the walls large mirrors are set beneath the old gold floral wreath and garland so indicative of the late 18th century design. And before each of these is an oval French console and a Louis XVI. chair at which you may sit and study yourself at ease.

Opening from each wall, the architects have placed the selling rooms, done in soft enamel. So that the main store is a great Lounge and the selling rooms and stocks are entirely separate.

HERE in these rooms, you may choose your frocks, your gowns, your suits or hats privately with the full stock always readily within your reach.

And one thing more—Pure Air. A great ventilating system cleanses and purifies every foot of air in this entire building every six minutes. That system connects with every part of this floor—selling rooms, fitting rooms and stock rooms as well. So that not only will you be breathing the purest of pure air but every one of our workers will be happier for the same clean atmosphere.

This is the kind of store we have prepared for you.

It will be opened Monday. May we hope for the pleasure of your attendance on that day?

SITE PURCHASES CUT SCHOOL FUND

Sale Planned to Get Ready Money, Which Is Badly Needed.

BOARD IN SORE STRAITS.

Surplus of $2,000,000 Reduced to Shortage by Committee Buying Operations.

As a result of the land buying activities of the sites committee for 1913 it was disclosed yesterday that the board of education is in bad financial straits. Now it is proposed to sell some of the land that the board has acquired in order to get read money.

The board began the year with a surplus of $2,321,516, which was available for buildings and grounds. It now has a deficit of about a million dollars. It borrowed $980,000. The records show $6,321,000 actually has been spent.

For Sale or Lease: 250 Acres.

Whether or not this financial condition had anything to do with it, Lewis E. Larson, secretary of the board, was directed to make up a list of the vacant and unused holdings some weeks ago. His figures showed the board is in possession of 250 acres of ground, vacant and unused, within the city limits. It was then proposed to sell or lease this. A committee then was appointed at the suggestion of the finance committee to dispose of this land. Its members were:

Michael J. Collins, chairman, Chas. O. Sethness, John J. Sonsteby, Thomas Kelly, James B. Dibelka.

Sethness and Dibelka are now off the board.

It was proposed that only the land situated on business streets and boulevards or proposed boulevards be leased. The rest was to be sold. The proceeds from the sale of the school fund property may be used only for teachers' salaries, according to the school land grant. The money from other vacant property can be used for buying more land or for any other purpose.

Investigators Visit Sites.

The investigating committee of the board of education to look into the buying of school sites took a trip of inspection during the day to some of the sites which were called to the attention of the board by THE TRIBUNE. The schools committee of the city council will visit the sites on Monday morning.

The board's investigators went first to the site at Mozart and Fillmore streets, where the Henry O. Shepard building is in the process of construction. The men were shown the old buildings which had been moved from the site. Angus Roy Shannon, attorney for the board, said the board had sold back the buildings for $20,000.

Visit Douglas Boulevard Site.

The next site visited was that at Douglas boulevard and Lawndale avenue, which the board purchased from the Weisskopfs and Adolph Ball. The men were shown a school made entirely of portables on this site. There are more than twenty portables on the grounds. The board still is seeking to acquire some adjoining property.

The site of the Medill High school then was visited. A piece of property north of the school is to be purchased by the school board. It was found that shortly after it became known the school board wanted the property some of the lots were obtained by Morris Abrahams and Sam Riesman.

Four Bodies Represented.

Four different bodies were represented in the party which visited the sites, although it was under the auspices of the school board committee. These members of the committee were present: Ralph C. Otis, chairman; John W. Eckhart and Joseph A. Holpuch of the board of education; C. S. Ennis, president of the Chicago real estate board; Richard W. Wolfe, president of the Cook county real estate board, and Charles W. Gindele, president of the Building Construction Employers' association.

Ald. Bradshaw and Ald. Vavricek and Assistant Corporation Counsel Todd Lunsford represented the council schools committee. Maj. James Miles represented the efficiency division of the civil service commission and C. C. Steinbeck the bureau of public efficiency.

Peter Reinberg, president of the board of education, Secretary Larson, and Attorney Shannon also represented the board.

Shannon Favors Direct Purchases.

A number of the members of the committee were surprised when Mr. Shannon told them land procured by condemnation reverted to the owner if the board of education ever attempted to use it for other than school purposes. Mr. Shannon was speaking in favor of acquiring land by direct purchase.

"It is for that reason," said Mr. Shannon, "that we made so many settlements by agreed verdict. Where we make an agreement without waiting for the jury to decide the issue we get title to the property and can dispose of it in any way we see fit. Where the courts decide the contest, we get only the use of the land for school purposes. If we attempt to use it for any other purpose or sell or lease it it reverts to the owner at the time of the condemnation proceedings."

The board committee will meet again tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in the rooms of the board.

Council Inquiry Independent.

The city council investigation of the methods used in purchasing school sites in the last two years will be conducted independently of all others. This was tacitly agreed upon for the time being at yesterday's meeting of the committee on schools, fire, police, and civil service.

The committee will make its own inspection of the school sites at Lawndale avenue and Douglas boulevard and Mozart and Fillmore streets on Monday morning. Meanwhile, Maj. James Miles of the efficiency division of the civil service commission, Joseph Peacock, city realty agent, and Todd Lunsford, assistant corporation counsel, will make an examination as to valuation of the property and may be able to report before the trip is taken.

Experts Await Formal Invitation.

Secretary George C. Sikes of the bureau of public efficiency was an interested listener. At the conclusion of the meeting he stated the bureau had taken no action looking toward an investigation.

"We are awaiting an invitation to participate," he said. "What action will be taken by the trustees if such an invitation is extended, I cannot say. We thought we were invited to investigate the city hall at one time, but when we accepted it the mayor told us we had not been invited. Consequently we are cautious."

Hoyne Signs Ouster Suit.

State's Attorney Hoyne during the day signed the quo warranto petition in behalf of the ousted members of the board of education, Henry W. Huttman, John C. Hartman, James B. Dibelka, and Charles O. Sethness. The bill will be filed today, according to Colin C. H. Fyffe, attorney for the three. The defendants are John W. Eckhart, Louis A. Metz, Joseph A. Holpuch, and Axel A. Strom, the new appointees.

January Baseball in Grant Park.

The visitor to Chicago who has been in the city during the winter months in other years would have received a shock yesterday had he wandered into Grant park. Scores of coatless boys, some of them wearing straw hats, were playing baseball on the diamonds. The scene has not been unusual this winter. Almost every warm day has seen the same youngsters making the most of the weather. The persons who spend the whole summer in the water off the yacht clubs' floats did not, however, put in their appearance.

LABOR AGENT HITS INSPECTOR

Omar C. Harris Jabs Cannon and Chokes Knight.

FIGHT OVER FIRM'S BOOKS.

Employment Man Says Bribe Was Offered to His Stenographer.

Jabs to the neck, uppercuts, and strangle holds took the place of parliamentary law at a hearing before the state labor board yesterday.

The hearing was one in connection with alleged irregularities said to exist in the business of the Harris employment agency, at 27 West Washington street. Twenty men testified they had paid from $3 to $5 apiece to the agency, but had not received positions.

The books of the agency were introduced as corroborative evidence. Following the hearing the board members refused to return them. Attorney George E. Brannan, counsel for the agency, attempted to jerk the books for James Patterson, a board member. He resisted and other members of the board went to his rescue.

"Give me back those books!" shouted Omar C. Harris, head of the agency.

Things Begin to Happen.

Then he leaped over a four foot railing. Inspectors Charles Miller and Martin Cannon attempted to stop him. He "swung" on Cannon, who fell against a partition. He then grasped Chief Inspector Richard J. Knight about the throat, and, Knight says, attempted to choke him. It required the united efforts of the board members and inspectors to control Brannan and Harris and restore order.

At night Harris made a statement explaining his feelings.

"This business is a frameup on me, and it is backed up by the American Employment association, which has offices at 68 West Washington street," he said. "That company wants to get me out of business. I used to be employed there and I'm giving them too much competition—that's all.

Tells of Alleged Bribe Attempt.

"But before I'm through, I'm going to show this up as a frameup, with Knight behind it all. Why, he tried only a week ago to bribe my bookkeeper, Miss Vinton Cutter, to leave me and turn against me, offering her from $12 to $14 a week as a switchboard operator.

"As for any charges that girls coming to my agency to find employment were taken into the vault next door, that a bed was kept in the vault, or that intoxicants were used there—those charges are a pack of lies."

Chief Inspector Knight denied the frameup charges. He said he had had no dealings whatever with the American Employment association beyond sending inspectors there to make official inspections. The association, he said, "needed to be watched as much as the rest of them."

Vault Stories Denied.

Attorney Jacob LeBoskey questioned both Miss Cutter, Harris, and F. J. Boedeker regarding the "vaults next door," in the office of the New Idea Light company, and the intoxicants alleged to have been used at the agency. The charges regarding the vault were denied. Miss Cutter said that intoxicants had been used in the agency on one occasion, but that this was a birthday party.

AIMS TO BAR FRAUD "ADS"

Steenerson Would Exclude Publications from Mails.

HONEST PEOPLE FLEECED.

Advocates Punishment for the Authors of False Statements.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Federal legislation aimed at the suppression of fraudulent newspaper and magazine advertisements and the punishment of their authors was advocated by Representative Steenerson of Minnesota today in the course of his speech in the house on the postoffice appropriation bill.

"Hundreds of millions of dollars are transferred annually from the pockets of the honest people of the United States to the pockets of swindlers, rascals, and thieves by means of fraudulent, dishonest, and false advertising," he said. "We have excluded from the mails absolutely all matter that might be construed to be immoral, but there is still a great field for fraud upon the people.

Would Bar All Fraud "Ads."

"I have introduced several bills on this subject. My proposition was to exclude from the mail, or at least from the second class privilege, publications carrying pictorial advertising in regard to liquor and tobacco.

"If any one of you has taken the trouble to read one of those advertisements, for instance, say of some rotten brand of whisky sold up here somewhere in the state of New York, you have noticed they print pictures of venerable gentlemen and ladies, and that then they tell the most outrageous lies about what this whisky has done for them, and, of course, they must necessarily succeed in deluding some people."

"Does the gentleman refer to such concoctions as Peruna?" Representative Stafford of Wisconsin inquired.

"I had reference to these liquor advertisements," Steenerson replied. "But closely connected with them are these advertisements of quack remedies. The gentleman is absolutely right. That is perhaps a more successful swindle than any other, and the government aids in carrying on that business at a loss.

Punishment for Advertiser.

"I introduced another bill which goes further, and I think perhaps it would be sufficient. That bill provides a punishment for the man who inserts a false advertisement in a paper, intending it to be circulated through the mails. That is simply supplementing the legislation of the states against false advertising.

"There has been quite an awakening of late about this question of dishonest and false advertising. Even the better class of newspapers and advertising agencies have held meetings and discussed it, and they favor laws regulating advertising.

"The state of Pennsylvania lately passed a stringent law regulating advertising, and I believe Massachusetts and New York have laws of that kind. I say my proposition is to supplement the state laws so as to make them more effective."

QUACKS DELAY THEIR TRIAL

Dr. Flint and Dr. Ross Granted Stay While Witnesses Wait.

ANOTHER WARRANT SERVED

Prosecution to Allow Broader Testimony; Charges Confidence Game.

Dr. Edward N. Flint and Dr. Bernard M. Ross, two of the "men's specialist" quacks exposed by THE TRIBUNE, yesterday announced the policy they propose to pursue in fighting the criminal prosecutions instituted against them by Chief of Police Gleason.

Briefly, the policy is—delay.

The fact that this is their purpose was made evident yesterday in Judge Ryan's court, where, in the face of a protest on the part of Assistant State's Attorney Murphy, they were able to secure a postponement of their trials until Jan. 27.

The state was ready to go to trial. Its witnesses, nearly a dozen, were on hand to testify. J. J. Brady, attorney for the quacks, however, asked for more time. The court had little option in the matter and put the case over until 2 p. m. on Jan. 27, when it will be called on the third floor of the Criminal Court building.

The postponement was asked for because an additional warrant had been served on Defendant Ross in the morning. The first warrant charged the quack with obtaining money by false pretenses. The new warrant charged attempt to practice a confidence game.

Many of the witnesses were compelled to leave their work in order to be in court.

Both Flint and Ross looked pale and worried when they stood at the bar among the miscellaneous "drunk and disorderlies" that are the morning grist through Judge Ryan's mill.

HOOT! NOT EVEN 'WEE DRAPPY.'

"Unusual" Sergeant Who Refuses Drink Gives Shock to Peripatetic Scotchman.

An unidentified Scotchman last night met Sergt. Michael Kilcran near the Chicago avenue station and offered to buy him a drink.

"I never drink," said the sergeant, proudly.

"I have traveled through Ireland and Scotland and never found a man who refused a free drink," said the stranger, admiringly. "You are an unusual man."

SHOTS SLAY TWO U. S. NAVAL BOYS

Earl Bostwick and Ned Buchanan Found Dead in Room in Loop Hotel.

FROM GREAT LAKES POST.

Three Theories, Including Suicide Agreement, Advanced by Police.

Earl Bostwick and Ned Buchanan, apprentice seamen and messmates at the Great Lakes Training station of the United States navy, were found dead last night in a room they had rented Wednesday night at the Grant Park hotel, 700 South Michigan avenue. Each had a bullet hole through the right temple. Bostwick was 22 years old and Buchanan 18.

Physicians said Bostwick had been dead seven hours and Buchanan's body was still warm when they arrived soon after a hotel clerk had broken down the door of the room when he received no response to knocks.

Both bodies were on the bed and in uniform. A revolver with two empty chambers was between them. On a chair beside the bed were three empty whisky bottles, a glass, and a package of cigarets.

In Buchanan's blouse was a letter from his aunt, asking him to return a ring to "Dorothy." Mrs. A. R. Buchanan, the youth's mother, lives at 636 East Thirty-eighth street.

Letetr from Girl Found.

In Bostwick's blouse was found a letter from a girl at Fort Dodge, Ia., from which place he entered the service last September. The writer, who signed herself "Cora," wrote endearments and pictured happiness when they could be married.

There are three theories concerning the tragedy. The police believe the men agreed to die together, and that Bostwick shot himself first and Buchanan followed suit several hours later. Murder and suicide is the belief of those who point to the fact that Bostwick, who died first, had on his finger a ring with a red stone in it, believed to be the one Buchanan was asked by his aunt to return. Accidental killing and suicide is the theory advanced by Capt. Richard Clark, commandant of the training station.

Capt. Clark expressed an opinion that one of the messmates accidentally killed the other while they were both drunk and then shot himself because of remorse.

Both "Absent Without Leave."

Bostwick entered the service on Sept. 23. Buchanan, whose home was in Chicago, entered on Sept. 6. They were both in the same boat company and classes at the school. They were at mess at 6 o'clock on Tuesday night, but were missing without leave at the 8 o'clock muster.

M'WEENY'S ORDER ALLOWING DICE GAME OF '26' PRODUCED

Former Chief's Instructions to His Subordinates Read Into Records of Trial of Kavanaugh.

Copies of two confidential orders for the regulation of "26" dice games in saloons and cigar stores were read into the record in Judge Fake's court yesterday, where Harry J. Kavanaugh, proprietor of the Woodlawn café, 6300 Cottage Grove avenue, is on trial. The letters were written in 1911 by John McWeeny, then chief of police. The defense argued from them that Kavanaugh permitted the dice games in his saloon with the consent of the police.

The first order, written on Sept. 23, commanded the inspectors of the districts to clean out all gambling devices of every kind.

The second order, issued three days later, suggested to the police that they limit their crusade to games in which the amount played for was not over 25 cents and in which the equivalent of the money was not returned in merchandise.

Kavanaugh admitted on the stand that he operated the game known as "26" in his café.

Assistant State's Attorney John Murphy delivered the opening address to the jury. He declared that even with police sanction the game, as Kavanaugh admitted operating it, was gambling.

Fines Forty-three as Gamblers.

John Manos of 12 Loomis street, arrested as the keeper of a gambling house at 1348 West Madison street, was fined $25 and costs yesterday by Municipal Judge Dolan. Forty-two others, taken as inmates, were sached fined $1 each.

MARRIAGE QUACK FACES TRIAL

Subpœna Issued for Justice of the Peace Polk.

CHANGES IN LAW URGED.

Two Weeks' Notice Before Securing License Sought.

An amendment to the present marriage law, to provide for the public announcement of contemplated marriages two weeks before a license is issued, was proposed by educators, reformers, and jurists yesterday, following the exposure of the "J. P." marriage quacks in the Reaper block.

Municipal Judge Uhlir also issued a subpœna for Justice of the Peace Edward R. Polk, in whose office in the Reaper block James Drew was "married" to 16 year old Julia Gillison, who is now living with her parents at 7248 South Union avenue. Drew is charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency, and the police say that Polk may be arrested on the same charge. The case is to be heard next Wednesday.

County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer, who drove the marriage quacks away from his office last year, following Judge Adolf J. Petit's decision that the "J. P.'s" had not the authority to perform marriages, began an investigation to ascertain whether clerks in his office were sending the receivers of marriage licenses to the "marriage mill."

Will Watch Window.

A representative from the office of the superintendent of compulsory education will be present when the county clerk's office opens this morning. He will watch for "child marriage" cases. Any case that looks suspicious he will challenge, and County Clerk Sweitzer has authorized his clerks to postpone the issuance of licenses to persons who are thus challenged.

W. L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, pointed out that the marriage law does not state the license must be issued immediately upon request. In cases in which it appears there is a possibility of a "child marriage" the license will be withheld until Mr. Bodine can look up in the school and church records the age of the persons.

"The detail will be permanent," said Mr. Bodine, after Mr. Sweitzer had promised to cooperate. "We shall break up this marriage mill as we broke up the Stacey mill. I have been assured the cooperation not only of the county clerk, but of the police, the Municipal court, the Juvenile Protective league, and Mrs. Ella Flagg Young."

Co-operation Urged.

At a meeting of the Juvenile Protective association it was agreed that cooperative action by the several reform departments, civil and municipal, was needed to eliminate the activities of the marriage quacks, pending an effort to secure legislation calculated to remove the possibilities of evil.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Municipal Judge Uhlir, Superintendent W. L. Bodine of the compulsory education department, County Clerk Sweitzer, Capt. Crippen of Major Funkhouser's department, Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, and representatives of the Juvenile court. Mrs. Britton was delegated to consult judges of the Circuit court on the subject of an amendment to the present marriage law.

Polk's office is at 328 Reaper block. Albert F. Tompkins, another justice of the peace, has an office in the same suite. He denied that he had any interest in Polk's "marriage mill" business and said that Polk only visited the office in the morning to get his mail.

OLD 'PENNY MATCH' SWINDLE WORKED ON ANOTHER VISITOR

Canadian Loses $500 After a Chance Meeting with Stranger and a Trip "to See Some Mules."

Alex MacConachie of London, Ont., yesterday was standing in State street gazing at the tall buildings. A stranger came along and engaged him in conversation. He was on route to the north side to see some mules. MacConachie said he would like to go along.

In front of Holy Name cathedral, at State and Superior streets they met a third man, who exhibited a thick roll of yellow bills.

"Let's get that easy money," whispered MacConachie's new friend.

The three began to match pennies. When it was all over MacConachie was shy $68 and checks and money orders to the value of $480.

Detective Sergeants Cahill and Parker obtained descriptions of the swindlers and arrested Michael Jordan. He was identified as one of the matchers.

WILSON COOLS ON PREFERENCE VOTE

President Will Not Insist on Primary Legislation by Present Congress.

WANTS SUBJECT STUDIED.

Plans to Have Next Session Frame Measure; Southern Democrats Pleased.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—President Wilson has decided not to insist upon presidential preference primary legislation during the present session of congress.

To some of his callers today the president made it clear he regards the question as one of such tremendous proportions as to necessitate the most careful study on the part of the appropriate committees of congress. He will be content, therefore, with a consideration of the matter by the committees and the development of a bill by them for consideration during the next regular session a year hence.

The failure of the president actively to push this proposal means, in all probability, there will be no presidential preference primaries authorized by a federal law for the campaign of 1916. The congress which will be elected next November will feel more disposed than the one now in session to combat presidential recommendations.

Wilson Forces Party Obedience.

Mr. Wilson has been able to secure the passage of his tariff and currency bills and will be able to force through his anti-trust program for a variety of reasons.

In the first place, the Democrats realise, even the conservatives among them, that if their party is to have a lease of power it must display harmony and join with the chief executive in enacting legislation proposed in the Baltimore platform. Again, the president has been chary in distributing federal offices, and still has a large number up his sleeve.

Finally, the constitutional provision for the direct election of senators is a powerful weapon in the hands of the chief executive, and members of the upper house are not disposed to have it directed against their candidacies for reelection.

The Democratic platform does not call for a national law on the subject of presidential preference primaries, and Democratic senators, and to a less extent representatives, do not feel it is necessary to follow the president in this matter. They have said as much to him.

Southern Men Strongest Opponents.

This stand particularly is true of men representing the south, a section which since the civil war has been jealous of its control over elections.

In presidential conventions southern states have played an almost dominant part in the selection of the candidates of the two old parties. If the federal law should require the nominations of the candidates receiving the highest number of votes, the south by reason of its smaller voting population would cut an inconsiderable figure in the result. If delegates should be elected in primaries held under state laws the south would be more disposed to acquiesce in the reform. In this event nominations still would be made by party conventions.

But the president has suggested that the conventions should consist not of delegates chosen for the purpose of registering the verdict of primaries and formulating the platforms but of the nominees for congress, the nominees for vacant seats in the senate of the United States, the senators whose terms have not yet closed, the national committees, and the candidates for the presidency themselves.

Delay in Legislation Regretted.

The president's action in putting the soft pedal on the presidential preference primary legislation is keenly regretted by those public men who are anxious the people themselves should have an opportunity to select their own presidential candidates in 1916.

If there should be no national law on this subject, the country will see the same spectacle two years hence that it saw in 1912.

The first session of the next congress will not begin until December, 1915. Several months at least will be devoted to the consideration of the measure. The primaries must take place in the spring of 1916. The impossibility of national presidential preference primaries for the next presidential campaign thus becomes apparent.

COPPER STRIP 'MEXICAN SPOT'

Ferris So Labeled It, but Resents MacDonald Description.

NEAR STORM IN THE SENATE.

Calumet Man Says Congressional Inquiry Will Bring Truth.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—"As regards the situation in the copper country I wish you would tell me in plain English just what any legislature could do to remove the 'Mexican spot' off the map of Michigan."

This is a quotation from a letter which Gov. Ferris of Michigan recently wrote to a member of the Michigan legislature. The letter was shown THE TRIBUNE correspondent tonight by Representative MacDonald of Michigan as a reply to Gov. Ferris' denunciation of the congressman for saying that "constitutional government no longer exists" in the copper country.

Representative MacDonald left the inference that he would like to know what Gov. Ferris considers a "Mexican spot," if it is not a spot where "constitutional government no longer exists, where the rights of our citizens under our constitution and laws are overthrown, and the laws and constitution defied."

Mr. MacDonald was quoted by Senator Ashurst in the senate on Tuesday as characterizing thus the situation in the region of the copper mine war.

Ferris Calls Statement False.

President Wilson received today a telegram from Gov. Ferris, which quoted this language and added:

"If the congressman from the Twelfth district said this he said that which is false in every particular; that which is a traitorous insult to his own district and the whole state of Michigan. Attorney General Fellows and I spent three days last week in the copper country. Both of us have been in daily communication with the strike situation. I know what I am talking about. Michigan asks that the truth be told. Michigan has protected the life and property of all her citizens and will continue to do so. Michigan needs no outside help."

Inquiry Will Develop Truth.

Commenting upon the governor's telegram, Mr. MacDonald said:

"The truth or falsity of what I say can best be determined by the free, fair, and impartial congressional investigation which I have been seeking to obtain for the last two months.

"No matter what the position of others may be, I, and I alone, represent the people of the Twelfth district in congress, and it is no interference on my part to bring the attention of congress to the conditions existing there, especially when it is done with a view of obtaining a free, fair, and sweeping inquiry into what has become a national scandal."

CHICAGOANS AT WASHINGTON URGE NEW BILL OF LADING.

Shippers Ask Commerce Commission to Gain Longer Time for Filing of Damage Claims Against Roads.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Arguments by the Chicago board of trade, the Illinois Manufacturers' association, and large shippers favoring a change in the provisions of the bill of lading now in use were heard today by the interstate commerce commission.

The shippers complain that the railroads recently have begun enforcing the four months' time limit on the filing of claims for damages. They asked the commission to set a date in the near future up to which time claims will be honored without reference to the time limit and that a longer period, possibly six months, be allowed in the new bill of lading which it is proposed to adopt.

Traffic Manager Hopkins of the board of trade argued against allowances for shrinkage of grain in transit. Representatives of the railroads contended that they cannot be held responsible for the weights of shipments, as the scales at the starting point and destination are controlled by the elevators, instead of the railroads.

Gasoline Burns Prove Fatal.

Michael Kochan of 2320 Hamilton avenue died at St. Elisabeth's hospital yesterday of burns incurred on Jan. 5, when he mistook gasoline for kerosene and attempted to start a fire in a stove at his house.

MOYER INDICTED; 38 AIDS ALSO HIT

Western Federation Officials Charged with Conspiracy in Copper War.

ACCUSED EXPECTED NEWS

Most of Witnesses Were Mine Managers; Citizens' Alliance Absolved.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Thirty-nine members, including several officials of the Western Federation of Labor, were indicted today by the Houghton county grand jury. The action was expected.

More than a dozen of those persons indicted were arrested tonight and were released on $1,000 bail each.

Seven members of the grand jury are employés of mining companies or institutions dependent on the companies. The charge against the men is conspiracy to prevent non-union men working in the mines.

No report was made on the deportation of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who was dragged, kicked, and shot by citizens on the night of Dec. 26. However, Moyer was among the thirty-nine indicted persons.

List of Indicted Persons.

Among the other indicted persons who have been active in the strike here and prominent in the operations of the Western Federation work elsewhere are:

Guy Miller, member executive board of the Western Federation.

Yanco Terzich, also an organizer.

C. E. Mahoney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners and the active leader in the upper peninsula copper mine strike for several months.

J. C. Lowney, member executive board of the miners' union.

Dan Sullivan, president of the Hancock local of the Western Federation and a miner in the district for twenty years.

Charles Heitala, secretary of the Hancock local.

William Rickard, president of the Calumet local of the Western Federation.

John E. Astilla, secretary of the Calumet local of the Western Federation.

W. P. Davidson, a member of the executive committee of the Western Federation.

The other indictments are against members of the local unions here who, according to the indictment, interfered with the non-union miners who tried to go to work in the mines after the strike had started.

Hold Six True Bills Secret.

Six other true bills were returned by the grand jury charging the indicted persons with felonies, but the special prosecutor refused to reveal the identity of the men.

It is not believed the secret indictments have anything to do with the Moyer deportation. It was rumored the investigation of alleged attempts to dynamite a train and a smoke stack of the Mohawk Mining company caused the indictments for felony.

There are three counts against Moyer and the other Western Federation members and officials. The first count charges "the unlawful congregation to interfere with and prevent nonunion miners from going to work"; the second makes the indictment broader and applies the same charges to imported workmen, and the third charges the strikers with interfering with the personal and property rights of the nonunion and imported workmen in the mines.

Of the officials named Moyer, Tersich, Miller, Mahoney, Lowney, and several of the local men are out of the state. Warrants immediately were issued for their arrest.

The grand jury ignored charges against members of the Citizens' alliance.

The inquisitorial body was not discharged, but at once convened in another session to hear evidence on an alleged shooting affray at Dodgeville early in December.

Mine Managers Chief Witnesses.

Among the witnesses whose names appeared on the indictments as giving information against the officials of the Western Federation of Miners were James MacNaughton, general manager of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company; F. W. Denton, general manager of the Copper Range Consolidated Mining company; Charles L. Lawton, manager of the Quincy Mining company; Theodore Dengler, general manager of the Mohawk and Wolverine Mining company; R. R. Seeber, manager of the Winona Mining company; Enoch Henderson, superintendent of the Franklin mine, and August Beck, head of the Calumet and Hecla police force.

The union officials were not surprised by the indictments. All of them expected to be indicted and would not have been surprised if even more serious charges had been preferred against them. Some of the leaders charge that the grand jury represents the mine managers and Citizens' alliance, and they pointed to the fact that Edgar Rye, James MacNaughton's chauffeur, is a member.

A court fight which will at least go to the Supreme tribunal of Michigan will be made against the indictments, according to a statement of O. N. Hilton, attorney for the Western Federation.

MOYER HOLDS PLANS SECRET.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 15.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, when informed that he had been indicted at Calumet, said he would not decide upon a course of action until after he had been formally notified of the indictment and consulted attorneys.

Indictments as a Club?

Butte, Mont., Jan 15.—John C. Lowney, member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, declared his belief that the Calumet indictments would be held as a club to prevent tht strike leaders returning to the copper country.

"IN BAD" WITH AUTHORITIES.

E. J. MacDowell of Grand Rapids, Mich. employed for the last three months as special investigator under Attorney George E. Nichols, appointed by Gov. Ferris of Michigan to prosecute the lawless element during the strike of the copper miners, arrived in Chicago yesterday on his way home from Calumet.

"I investigated the Moyer incident thoroughly," Mr. MacDowell, discussing the strike conditions, said, "and to my mind the treatment accorded him is almost beyond belief. He was kicked and mauled and dragged a mile through the dirt, and I found one man who pointed out more than twenty-five people who admitted they had witnessed the attack on Moyer, but when they were brought before the grand jury they were as mum as oysters."

U. S. OWNERSHIP OF COAL MINES?

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—Government ownership of the great coal mines of the country as a remedy for strike disturbances was recommended today by Senator Martine of New Jersey in a report submitted to Chairman Swanson of the senate committee which investigated the West Virginia coal strike troubles.

Senator Martine, charged particularly with the inquiry regarding interference with the mails and the employment of contract labor, reported the evidence failed to establish either of these conditions.

The report attributed much of the violence and bloodshed in West Virginia to the presence of armed guards hired by the mine operators, and recommended the passage of a bill which Senator Martine introduced in the senate last session, prohibiting the employment of armed police by private organizations.

Boy Battles to Protect Mother.

Sixteen year old Joseph Caufield of 837 West Monroe street, says he went to the aid of his mother when she was attacked by his father, Edward Caufield, yesterday and knocked the latter down with a piano stool. Then he caused the arrest of the man on a charge o fdisorderly conduct. Joseph also was taken into custody to await action of the Juvenile court.

DR. P. T. DIAMOND RESIGNS FROM STATE DENTAL BOARD.

Governor Appoints Dr. Gideon M. Dempsey in Place of Examiner Mentioned by Seller of Bogus Papers.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Gov. Dunne today accepted the resignation of Dr. P. T. Diamond of Chicago as a member of the board of dental examiners and appointed Dr. Gideon M. Dempsey of Grafton as his successor.

Dr. Diamond is the appointee whose name was connected with that of a young man who sold bogus dental examinations questions to prospective candidates for certificates.

Although it was not shown that Dr. Diamond was connected with the swindle other members of the state board insisted his usefulness had been so curtailed by the scandal that it was inadvisable for him to remain in the service.

"Now that I have been entirely cleared on every ground of suspicion regarding the charges emanating from political enemies of the administration against my character," Diamond wrote the governor, "and as I do not wish to be the cause of the slightest embarrassment to the administration, I hereby tender my resignation to take effect at your pleasure."

The governor declined to comment on the case.

DENIES HE HAS RESIGNED.

Dr. Diamond denied last night that he had resigned.

"When the charges were first mentioned I agreed to resign if it was for the best interests of my party, and tonight at a conference with William O'Connell in Chicago I repeated this," said Dr. Diamond.

Dr. Diamond says he will make startling exposures if he is off the board.

Greeks Raided as Gamblers.

Detectives raided a building at 724 Blue Island avenue early yesterday and arrested twenty-eight Greeks alleged to have been gambling. John Enopolus was booked as the keeper and $10 was confiscated. The game is said to have been in celebration of the Greek New Year's.

FORCED LOANS PLAN OF HUERTA

Dictator Will Issue Official Decree Today; Sends Envoys to John Lind.

POWERS USING PRESSURE

Want United States to Protect Interests, but a Deaf Ear Is Turned to Their Pleas.

Mexico City, Jan. 15.—Forced loans are to be authorized by decree, according to reports from the national palace tonight. It is said that President Huerta will issue the decree tomorrow.

Two emissaries from Huerta to John Lind will go to Vera Cruz to discuss the situation, with a view to paving a way for reopening negotiations between the United States and the Huerta government. The emissaries are Dr. Aureliano Urrutia and Jesus Flores Magon. They will endeavor to impress Mr. Lind with the desirability of the United States not according belligerent rights to the northern rebels.

Huerta's Financier Quits.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Adolfo de la Lama, Mexican minister of finance, who recently arrived in Paris on a mission in connection with the finances of his country, today cabled his resignation to Gen. Huerta as a protest against the action of the provisional president in repudiating the interest payments on the internal and foreign debts of Mexico. The finance minister said he was not informed of the Mexican government's decision to default on the payments.

GILLETT ASSAILS POLICY.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—Intervention in Mexico as the only result of the present policy of the United States was predicted in the house today by Representative Gillett, Republican, of Massachusetts, during the course of a war speech in which he assailed Secretary Bryan.

Recognition of Huerta early in the Mexican trouble, Mr. Gillett said, would have offered the best chance of quieting the disturbance.

"When the war comes," he said, "it will be no excuse that the secretary of state has delivered brilliant speeches in favor of peace. An orational glorification of peace is not sufficient atonement for a policy the legitimate and logical result of which is war.

Flails Bryan and His Work.

"I think when our secretary of state accepted that distinguished position we had a right to expect from him painstaking and assiduous devotion. His anteroom ought to have been thronged with those ready to throw light on his new problems rather than with officeseekers and politicians.

"The country needed more that he should read international law lectures than deliver Chautauqua lectures.

"He apparently has deemed the state department rather a sinecure and a reservoir of patronage than a field of duty which required earnest and intense and persistent application."

Mr. Gillett denounced the change of American policy in China and the early recognition of the Chinese republic.

Turns Deaf Ear to Powers' Plea.

The United States government has again been invited by the powers of Europe to do something positive with regard to the Mexican situation and the invitation has been declined. This was authoritatively made known here today.

The announcement by President Huerta that his government would pass the semi-annual interest payment due on the foreign debt of Mexico has been the occasion for the latest representations to the United States by Great Britain, France, and Germany.

The representations made by the governments of these countries took the form of calling the attention of Secretary of State Bryan to the official announcement of the default by the Huerta government, and an inquiry as to whether the United States was going to do anything about it. Mr. Bryan replied in answer to these inquiries that the president had nothing to communicate to other governments on the subject of Mexico.

PLANS ATTACK ON TORREON.

Chihuahua, Mex., Jan. 15.—After his decisive victory at Ojinaga, from which place he drove Gen. Salvador Mercado's federal army into the United States, Gen. Francisco Villa, the rebel military chief, returned here today with his army.

He gave directions for the early departure of his troops for an attack on the federals about Torreon. If successful at that point the campaign will be carried into the southern cities.

Refuge for Federal Troops.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 15.—A tented city was erected at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, today for the reception of the 4,500 Mexican soldiers and refugees from Ojinaga, Mexico.

HOME RULE FOES STILL APART.

Andrew Bonar Law, Opposition Leader, Says He Fears There Will Be No Agreement

BRISTOL, Jan. 15.—Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, announced definitely during the course of a speech tonight that conferences between the party leaders over home rule so far had been without result. Nothing, he said, was to be gained by cherishing illusions, and he grieved to say that so far as he was able to judge there could be no result.

Chicago's Youngest Election Judges.

MRS. GUSTAV SCHULZ.

MISS GLADYS B. RANDALL.

Miss Gladys Randall and Mrs. Gustav Schulz, the youngest judges of election to serve at the polls in Chicago, are called the "team" of the Woman's party of the county. Miss Randall serves for the Democratic party in the Twenty-fifth ward and Mrs. Schulz serves for the same party in the Twenty-third ward. Both young women admit they are at least old enough to vote.

"One cannot be too young to start in learning something of politics," Miss Randall says.

"They train the girls in infancy nowadays. Learning to be a judge of elections is one of the simplest things for a woman to learn. If we want to become familiar with political machinery we should be willing to start with the simple things and work to the more difficult and complex problems."

WOMAN'S LOBBY AT CAPITAL

Illinois Suffragists to Start Work for National Franchise.

MRS. BOOTH WILL GO EAST.

Committee Is Same That Secured Vote from Legislature Here.

Mrs. Sherman M. Booth, a member of the congressional committee of the National American Woman's Suffrage association, will leave Chicago for Washington on Sunday to take complete charge of the committee's lobby at the national capital. Mrs. Medill McCormick, the chairman of the national congressional committee, probably will go with Mrs. Booth. A complete canvass of the senators and representatives will be made by the women.

"We will immediately set to work to determine the exact position of the federal amendment in congress," Mrs. McCormick said.

She will call a meeting in Washington of the members of the congressional committee—Mrs. Antoinette Funk, Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, and Mrs. Booth—on Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Mrs. Breckinridge, president of the Kentucky Equal Suffrage association, is on her way to Washington and will be placed in charge of the congressional organization work of the southern states by Mrs. McCormick.

Will Feed Election Judges.

Mrs. George A. Soden, vice president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, and Mrs. John H. Coulter will play the part of "sandwich women" on registration day, Feb. 3. They will carry baskets filled with lettuce sandwiches and thermos bottles containing hot tea in their automobiles to the women judges and clerks of the Sixth ward.

The downstate members of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association committee which is raising a $25,000 fund to be used in defense of the suffrage law before the Supreme court is sending out thousands of letters asking aid from club women, church organizations, fraternal societies, and individuals.

Sixth Ward Progressives Organize.

A permanent organization of the Progressive women of the Sixth ward was effected yesterday at a meeting held at the headquarters of the Chicago Progressive club. Mrs. Aria Black, 5508 East End avenue, is chairman of the organization.

A meeting of the Twenty-third ward organization of the Chicago Political Equality league will be held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Emil Gentzel, 2740 Lincoln avenue, at 2 o'clock for the purpose of organizing the thirty-one precincts of the ward. Dr. Effa V. Davis will speak.

Denial by Mrs. Rhodus.

Mrs. Charlotte Rhodus, president of the Woman's Party of Cook County, gave out the following statement yesterday:

"The position of the Woman's Party of Cook County in regard to indorsing candidates has not been discussed either by the board of directors or by the members, and until that is discussed I am not at liberty to say what the organization will do. The board will take the matter up soon, for we know we are going to be asked to indorse candidates."

CLEARS SMITH OF KILLING.

UNITE TO TEACH FOREIGN VOTERS

Settlement Heads and Sociology Experts Organize to Aid Naturalization.

NEED MORE TEACHERS.

Prof. Graham Taylor Will Name Committee to Meet Envoys of All Races in City.

A movement to centralize the work of naturalizing and making voters of Chicago's foreign population was formally launched last night at the City club by settlement heads and others interested in sociological matters, such as Prof. Graham Taylor of Chicago commons, Miss Jane Addams of Hull house, Miss Harriet Vittum, president of the Woman's City club; Miss Agnes Nestor, president of the Women's Trades Union league; Dr. J. G. Prentis, chief of the new Chicago federal immigration bureau; and Abraham Bowers, immigration secretary, Y. M. C. A.

An organization committee will be appointed by Prof. Taylor and a meeting will be arranged with representatives of all the foreign races resident in Chicago.

Vast Alien Population.

Prof. Taylor pointed out that more than 124,000 Chicago men of voting age are not naturalized, and that 150,000 eligible voters are not registered, while the suffrage law has added a half million untrained women voters with an additional group of unnaturalized women. He suggested an organization to arrange for instructorrs, standardize study, arrange for the right kind of advertising, and for suitable textbooks.

"Women will probably never again be so eager for political instruction as at the present time," said Miss Addams, as she told of demands for forty-two teachers made upon the Woman's City club, which had but twelve available.

Training Vigorously Carried On.

Mrs. Raymond Robins thought that "never before in history had there been so general an effort to train a body of people for citizenship as was seen today among the women of the United States."

"I have no concern about the way the foreign element will vote, knowing as I do the literature they demand at the twenty-six branch libraries," said Henry E. Legler, head of the public library.

Miss Vittum and Victor Borosini spoke of the need of opening the public school buildings at night for citizenship study.

Dr. Prentis announced the government immigration bureau would open soon at 845 South Wabash avenue, occupying four floors and a basement. He said the present immigrant aid societies would be needed as much as ever.

SLASHED TO DEATH ON STREET

Sicilian Stabbed During Quarrel Over Supposed Love Affair in the Old Country.

Vincenzo Pirretti was slashed to death last night. The police set it down as a Sicilian feud, the result of a love affair in the old country. Pirretti had been playing cards at 717 West Taylor street. He and three men went for a walk and met two others. The stabbing took place on the street. Witnesses told the police that Andrew Sentreno of 1214 South Fifty-first avenue did the stabbing. Sentreno was arrested but denies knowing anything about the crime.

WOMAN FOR MACHINE POLITICS

New Colorado Democratic Committee Head Tells Plans.

FIRM AGAINST CORRUPTION.

Declares She Will Bring Majority of Women Into Her Party.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Gertrude A. Lee, who became chairman of the Democratic state committee of Colorado today because of the resignation of the elected chairman, George T. Bradley, is a machine politician, according to her declaration tonight.

According to her views, a machine—impregnable and unassailable—is the only factor which can assure party success. Therefore, she is planning to build in Colorado one of the greatest political machines of the country.

Against Corrupt Organization.

"By a machine," she declared, "I do not mean a corrupt body, but an organization pure in principle and certain in purpose. I am opposed to steam roller methods."

Asked what her first steps would be, Mrs. Lee said:

"I will be chairman of the state committee until after the elections next fall. We have a United States senator to elect besides a full state ticket and four United States representatives. My aim is to organize our party so that Democrats will be returned to all these offices. Senator Thomas' term expires. We cannot afford to let a Republican succeed him.

Plans Trip Through State.

"If possible I shall visit every county in the state and learn the true conditions. I shall try to organize the local committee so as to assure success.

"I am a Democrat for principle's sake—not from political reasons. Of course, the Progressives claim they are the true representatives of woman's rights in Colorado. They are not. I hope to make the Democratic party the leading exponent of the rights of women. I hope, within the next few months, to bring the majority of the women of this state into the fold of our party.

AID TO KAGOSHIMA.

In commenting upon the terrible tragedy at Kagoshima a contemporary recalls the effect upon British public opinion of the relief sent to the starving cotton spinners of Manchester, whom the civil war blockade of the cotton ports had thrown out of work. This magnanimous action by Americans of the north in the midst of their own loss and suffering did much to check anti-northern sentiment in England and the Inter Ocean makes the point that the Kagoshima casualty offers an excellent opportunity for showing the Japanese people the sympathy and good feeling animating the American people as a whole toward the Japanese people themselves.

The suggestion is a good one. There are serious if not irremovable elements of suspicion and hostility in Japanese-American relations, and we ought to do all that is consistent with self-respect to diminish or weaken them. In addition to the normal impulses of generous good feeling which open the private purse of America whenever there is great need in any part of the world, it is fair to consider that in view of the frequent friction between Japan and the United States and the willingness of jingoes and politicians to exploit it, we may well consider the propriety of emphasizing with especial promptness and liberality the sincere human sorrow and sympathy and the sincere wish to help substantially felt by the people of this country toward the stricken people of Kagoshima.

WILSON'S TRADE SUGGESTIONS.

President Wilson's proposals for a trade commission to regulate combinations in industry, as outlined by members of congress with whom he has discussed the subject, bear less resemblance to the Roosevelt plan than the Progressives think.

The president and Col. Roosevelt began with two different theories of trust regulation. Mr. Wilson declared that his efforts would be directed to restore competition where monopoly had destroyed it. Col. Roosevelt would have recognized the working out of an economic truth in industrial combination, would have recognized combinations as proper instruments for the carrying on of the business of the country, and would have regulated them by a government agency similar in construction to that proposed by the president.

Both the president and Col. Roosevelt would set up the same machinery. That is true. But the president would direct it to one end and Col. Roosevelt to another. Mr. Wilson said he would trust no body of men appointed by a government to determine whether a combination was not only good but inevitable. He denied that so much wisdom could be found in any commission.

He now proposes to establish a commission, but not with powers of discretion to license or forbid the operations of a combination in industry, but merely with inquisitorial powers to determine if the certain, fixed law of the land regarding such combinations is being obeyed.

The distinction is apparent. Mr. Wilson and Col. Roosevelt are no closer in their economic ideas than they were when they were attacking each other's theories in the campaign.

THE BANKS AND THE BOARD.

All the national banks of Chicago voted at their meetings Tuesday to go into the federal reserve association. This is welcome action, if not unexpected, since the new law is mandatory and the alternative of charter surrender painful. The alleged defects of the law, even in the opinion of so drastic a critic as Mr. James B. Forgan, do not justify refusal to enter the system at such a sacrifice.

The failure of any Chicago bank under state charter to vote for entering the association is, on the other hand, a real disappointment. It was hoped that in this field of banking, where no compulsion exists, a few at least of the greater institutions in Chicago would take the lead. Perhaps to hold back was selfishly wise. It was certainly not courageous leadership.

The main reason, apart from the ingrained caution of bankers, for this delay may be guessed. The president has not yet announced his appointments to the central governing body of the association, the federal reserve board. His one appointment, that of Mr. John Skelton Williams, as controller of the currency, who, like Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, enters the board as ex-officio member, is not altogether popular among bankers, while there is as yet no hint of other selections. Perhaps if the board had been filled with high class material before Tuesday there would have been a general movement of state banks into the system.

But it very well may be considered that the president's delay indicates his determination to make his choice with great care, and since the work of organization is proceeding no real delay is involved. It is not easy to get the right sort of man to serve on such a board, while there is incessant pressure by and on behalf of the wrong sort. The president is too wise not to realize the importance of this central body at least during the formative stage of the new system, when both at home and abroad it is on critical trial and needs all the prestige it can borrow from the personal reputations of the men in charge of its application and development. As time goes by the central body, except in moments of great emergency, will be of less importance than the directorates of the regional banks. But in the beginning the central board is the strategic point upon which, more than upon any other factor, the early success of this long awaited and sorely needed reform will turn.

CLAIMS AGAINST MEXICO.

The claims filed with the state department by Americans who have suffered loss in the Mexican uprising have reached a total of $300,000,000. This may be enlarged by later claims, but it is likely to be reduced greatly when subjected to the examination of a tribunal. Even with this discount duly made it will be a heavy bill for Mexico to pay, and it is only one of many. The British bill also will be a heavy one, and the German, though much less, by no means light, while other governments will present claims.

While our policy toward Mexico has been placed by the president chiefly upon altruistic grounds, these claims must be considered seriously as a factor in that policy or any settlement we may propose or attempt. Not only have we a duty toward our own countrymen but undoubtedly England, Germany, and other nations look to us for aid on the theory that they might have protected the property of their own nationals more effectually if they had not held back in deference to us. Even if we feel that their deference was tardy and their assistance less earnest and thorough than it might have been, we shall have to respect such a claim upon us as in large degree valid.

Whatever government is set up in Mexico after the debacle will have to deal with these claims, probably by way of arbitration, at The Hague or under some special convention. If our aid is necessary to establish such a government, we may impose such terms of settlement as will obviate the legal difficulties involved. But if Huerta, or Carranza, or Zapata, or another partisan should sweep the field and establish his own government, it is probable that an arbitral court would declare that damage done by his opponents could not be assessed against his government. Huerta, for example, would repudiate the acts of Carranza and Villa, and vice versa, and international lawyers believe that he would be sustained. Nations as entities are not held responsible for the results of internal disturbances either to aliens or their own nationals.

If all sides entered into compromise and set up a coalition government, the latter might be held to have assumed all the legal liabilities incurred by all the contending parties.

Our handling of this question of claims will have an important bearing upon the European attitude toward the Monroe doctrine. However altruistic and vicariously self-denying our government may be disposed to be, we shall not be allowed to shirk the responsibility admitted even by our own statesmen to be involved in the Monroe doctrine. Thus we are likely to find ourselves forced to act for other nationals while refusing to consider our own.

It is to be hoped the government will not permit its admirable idealism to obscure these considerations.

SIMPLE HORRORS.

The letters which Greek officers are supposed to have written and Bulgarians to have intercepted, and which have been offered as proof of the Bulgarian charges against the Greek army, are simple epistles, all in a form about as follows:

"We killed all the Bulgarians in Bansta. We tortured most of them first. I killed ten old women and a child. I burned a church. I burned an orphan asylum and all the orphans. I hope the pig is well. Put the cat out at night. Your loving brother."

The letters may not be faked, but they will require a lot of proving up. They fall to naturally into the "aint he cute, he's only 6," class.

NOTES FROM OVER SEAS.

George S. Street is the new English playcensor, succeeding Charles Brookfield. The Westminster Gazette says the appointment seems to be well calculated to anticipate some of the criticism of those to whom all censorship is anathema. Mr. Street has edited plays and has written one play produced by the Stage society. He is one of the strict literary sect, and if there is to be a censor at all there could scarcely be one against whom the dramatists could find fewer causes of complaint.

That all the forces of sentimental pacificism are to be mobilized for a direct attack on the navy estimates is now one of the certainties of the immediate future. It is not less certain that Mr. Lloyd George will head the campaign. A concerted movement is on foot, ably led and powerfully supported in the house of commons, to reduce British sea power below the margin of national and imperial safety.—London Mail.

An important stimulus to the sale of American typewriters in India is anticipated as a result of a recent invention whereby an American typewriter already in extensive use in India can have adapted to it an arrangement for printing the 300 characters and signs of the Bengali alphabet.

It is estimated that 24,000 executions took place in the province of Szechuan (China) in 1913, mostly of robbers. The largeness of the number is attributed to the national transition, to the expensiveness of opium, and to overpopulation.

Frank H. Mason, United States consul general at Paris, reports that the value of the declared exports from the consular district of Paris to the United States during 1913 was the largest on record, amounting to $80,351,976, an increase of $925,143 over 1912.

The Duchess of Bedford, whose husband recently sold his Covent Garden property in the heart of London to Mr. Mallaby-Deeley, M. P., for untold millions, is called "the best gunwoman" in England. She is a daughter of Archdeacon Tribe. She kills her birds without, as she says, "hurting them," and holds that the natural end of wild animals is probably more terrible than that prepared by man.

CANCER OF THE MOUTH.

CANCER in this location is rare in women of any age and men younger than 45. But a man past 45, especially if he is a smoker who lets an ulcerated tongue drift on, ought to have a guardian. The "Index of Differential Diagnosis" says: "Any ulcer of the tongue occurring in a middle aged man, and lasting for more than two or three weeks, should awaken suspicion."

Cancer of the tongue rapidly develops into the ulcerated form. Therefore, when cancer is in mind, the feature to look for is an ulcer. But inflammations of any sort, when located in the tongue, are apt to become infected and cause ulcer.

In the list of ulcers are the aphthous stomatitis (bad mouth cankers) and dyspeptic. Ulcers of these types should not last two weeks. If they show any disposition to hold on, a free purgative, followed by two weeks of milk, cheese, bread, and fruit diet will cause them to disappear.

The above types of ulcer are too acute and too painful for cancer. The dental ulcer is generally an acute ulcer. However, that is not a good sign to go by.

The ulcer is the result of injury from a sharp tooth or a decayed one. The way to tell about these ulcers is to have the dentist pull the tooth, fill it, or polish it, as the need may be. The dental ulcers disappear when the offending tooth is made unoffending.

The hardest of all the tasks is to distinguish the syphilitic ulcer. Time was when mistakes on this point cost many lives and there was no remedy. Now a microscopic examination of the secretion of a venereal ulcer will show the germ. A Wassermean reaction will be positive, and an injection of salvarsan will cure the ulcer in a week.

The ulcers of cancer are liable to be on any part of the tongue, though they are more frequent along the side. In addition to hurting and bleeding the cancer ulcer causes a hardness in the tissues around the ulcer.

There are several conditions that cause hard, boardlike areas to appear on the tongue. The name by which the doctors know these conditions is leukoplakia. Leukoplakia is not cancer. It is not an acute condition. The patches stay unchanged for years.

In time, however, cancer develops on leukoplakia patches. An ulcer develops in the midst of the boardlike tissue. If then a man has had one of these patches for some time and an ulcerated area develops on it, he should seek counsel at once.

It does not pay to temporize with cancer of the tongue. The growth promptly spreads to the glands of the neck. A "manana" policy means inoperable cancer.

TUBERCULOSIS PATIENT BETTER.

N. L. M. writes: [1] About three months ago my physician informed me that I had incipient tuberculosis of the left lung. Since then I have steadily gained in weight and now am heavier than ever before. Pulse and temperature have also been about normal for more than a month. (Previously they were high.) Do these symptoms indicate recovery from the disease? [2] In what other way can I determine my condition? [3] What is the danger of a relapse, and how best may it be prevented? [4] How may one's family be guarded from infection? [5] Where can I obtain literature treating of these matters?

REPLY.

1. That you are improving is certain. You do not give certain information necessary for an answer.

2. Do you cough? Do you expectorate? Are there bacilli in your sputum? What does examination of your chest show?

3. Live in the open air. Do not overwork. Avoid crowds. Secure healthful work. Do not neglect colds.

4. If you are not coughing, there is no danger. If you are coughing, destroy all sputum. Keep your mouth clean. Guard against infection through the mouth.

5. Knopf's popular books or Bridges' or Ross'. Send to your state tuberculosis society and your state board of health for their pamphlets.

DIABETES SOMETIMES CURABLE.

J. H. writes: "Is diabetes a curable disease? Give a list of things a diabetic may eat. How many years may a person 52 years old expect to live? Is medicine any good as a curative for diabetes? The patient lost twenty pounds before the disease was suspected."

REPLY.

1. Some cases are curable, some are fatal, and some run on indefinitely.

2. A diabetic can eat anything. He should eat sparingly of foods that contain much sugar and starch. For instance, bread, pastries, desserts, and potatoes. However, your question cannot be answered in this space. Get a cook book for diabetics or Von Noorden's small book on diabetes.

3. Ordinarily a diabetic 52 years old can count on many years of life. Rapid loss of flesh is a bad sign.

4. As a cure, little; to relieve symptoms, medicine is of service.

PROBABLY NOT KIDNEY TROUBLE.

V. H. writes: "My boy, 2 years 6 months old, who has from infancy been well trained, has for the last three or four months been unable to control his bladder. He urinates frequently, in small quantities, and his urine is highly colored. He also has puffs under his eyes. Do you think his kidneys are out of order? Would you advise putting him under the care of a physician?"

REPLY.

Nothing in your letter indicates trouble with his kidneys. Have him drink three times as much water as he now drinks. If this does not cure him see your physician.

GEN. VON MACKENSEN, commanding the Seventeenth corps of the German army, and whose strained relations with the German crown prince are said to have contributed to the latter's transfer from the command of the Death's Head hussars of the queen at Dantzig to the general staff at Berlin, is the foremost of the kaiser's cavalry leaders and a former comrade of his sovereign in the same regiment, which Emperor William commanded up to the time of his accession to the throne.

The horsemanship of the general would excite admiration even among the western cowboys in this country, and one occasion when called upon as head of a cavalry brigade at Dantzig to deliver a brief address to the kaiser he gave an exhibition of equestrianism which is still remembered.

His horse was a magnificent animal, but exceedingly skittish and troublesome, and as the general, having taken up his position at the head of his officers, commenced his speech his charger began to prance in the most alarming manner.

The general, holding his saber at the salute in the right hand and grasping his reins in the left, did not allow the horse to disturb his utterances in the slightest degree, not even when it gave two typically broncho jumps, part of a sentence being delivered when the general and his steed were up in the air and its conclusion as the horse struck the ground with all four feet at once.

By the time that he had concluded his address without turning a hair the horse, completely mastered but covered with foam, stood stock still like a statue.

The general, who had served in the Death's Head hussars as a private during the war of 1870 and who had become intimate with his future sovereign when they were serving together as fellow officers, was after becoming major general appointed to the personal staff of the emperor, but did not find court life congenial. He secured from the kaiser the command of an army corps without forfeiting any of his good will.

When the emperor assigned his eldest son to the command of the Death's Head hussars at Dantzig he instructed Gen. von Mackensen to exercise a certain amount of restraint upon the crown prince and to act not only as his military chief but also as his mentor in matters other than his mere military duties.

Gen. von Mackensen seems to have expressed his distaste for this rôle of mentor to a royal personage even before the crown prince took up his residence at Dantzig and officious and indiscreet friends communicated the general's utterances to the crown prince.

This naturally had the effect of somewhat prejudicing him against the general and of restricting their intercourse to cold formality.

The general is of Scotch origin and of bourgeois parentage, owing his elevation to the nobility to Emperor William. His brother at one time made his home in Chicago.

At no time have so many of the great houses of the old French aristocracy been in mourning as at the present moment. The death of the Dowager Duchesse de Noailles, which has just taken place, will put an end to the participation of the Duc and Duchesse de Luynes of the members of the ducal house of Gramont, of the Duc and Duchesse de Brissac, and of the Duc and Duchesse de la Trémoille in any of the gayeties of the Parisian season.

Her husband, the late duke, who was a member of the academy, devoted much attention to America and was the author of a monumental work entitled "A Hundred Years of Democracy in the United States."

Her son, the present duke, may be said to have inherited his father's American leanings, and for several years was president of the association formed by Baron Pierre de Coubertin "for the purpose of promoting French influences in the universities and educational centers of the United States." The society has an annual dinner in Paris on Washington's birthday.

The late duchesse's brother-in-law, as Marquis de Noailles, represented France for many years at Washington as minister plenipotentiary, winding up his diplomatic career as ambassador, first at Rome and then at Berlin.

Two of the De Noailles, Comte Louis of that ilk and the Duc d'Ayen, it may be remembered accompanied the Marquis de Lafayette to America and fought for the independence of the United States.

The De Noailles trace their ancestry back by means of official records in an unbroken line to Pierre de Noailles, the crusader, who flourished at the beginning of the thirteenth century. His son, Hugues de Noailles, on sailing for the Holy Land in the crusade of St. Louis in 1248, signed a deed bearing that date and still in existence, according to which his lands and name were always to descend exclusively in the male line.

The dukedom of Noailles was created in 1663, and a year later the title of Duc d'Ayen was likewise bestowed upon the head of the family and is now always borne by the eldest son and heir of the chief.

Among the other honors of the house are those of Duc de Mouchy and of Duc and Prince de Poix, now borne by the Duc de Noailles' cousin, who, about 24 years of age, has a strain of American blood in his veins. His grandmother, the Dowager Duchesse de Mouchy, was born as a Princess Anna Murat at Bordentown, N. J., of an American mother, who before her marriage was Miss Caroline Fraser of Philadelphia.

The principal country seat of the De Noailles is the château of Maintenon in the department of the Eure-et-Loir. It was a present from Louis XIV. to Mme. de Maintenon, who in turn gave it to her niece, wife of a member of the De Noailles family.

The castle was built during the reign of Louis XII., and the towers and chapel of that epoch are standing to this day. Mme. de Maintenon built the right and left wings of the château.

The picture gallery of the left wing is adorned with portraits of the De Noailles from the crusades down to the present time, among them being pictures of six ambassadors, some forty generals, a couple of cardinals, a grand admiral of France, and six field marshals, including the Maréchal de Mouchy, who, having taken a brilliant part in the battle of Fontenoy, lost his head at the age of 80 on the guillotine with his duchesse during the reign of terror in 1794.

The late duchesse was one of the most respected leaders of the old noblesse of France, and her salons in Paris were accounted extremely exclusive, being remorselessly closed to the newly rich.

She for a long time refused to receive the Dowager Duchesse de Mouchy, not because of her American parentage, as I have seen alleged, but because of her descent on the father's side from Joachim Murat, the village inn hostler, who became king of Naples.

The marriage of her younger son, Helie, Marquis de Noailles, to the daughter of the Duc de Gramont, likewise was a source of much distress to her by reason of the fact that the late Duchesse de Gramont was a Rothschild.

Her prejudice against the Rothschilds was pronounced, and led to a somewhat memorable reproof, which she administered to the late Duc d'Aumale when he at a grand déjeuner given by him at Chantilly placed her his right to Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild on his left at table and accorded the seat on her left to Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild, whose husband he was anxious to propitiate.

The old duchesse in taking her seat remarked to him in a tone of voice loud enough to be heard by all present:

"I thank your royal highness for treating me as a near relative instead of as an invited guest."

The late duchesse leaves five children, the youngest of whom, Comte Mathieu de Noailles, is married to Princesse Anna de Brancovan, a lady who has achieved considerable note as a poet and as an author, one of her books, entitled "Le Cœur Innombrable," having been crowned by the Académie Fran-

Invenial, quod quisque velit; non omnibus unum est, Quod placet; hic spinas colligit, ille rosas.—Petronius.

WE are strangely interested in the "man of mystery" confined in the Oak Park infirmary. Two years ago he was found wandering near Denver, and three months ago he escaped from the hospital for the insane at Rochester, Minn. He makes but one reply to every question—"I am 'J. C. R.'"—the quotes being implied.

IT is singular that none of the alienists who have worked on the case has guessed the obvious. Is it not apparent that "J. C. R." was at some time a contributor to this column? After many efforts, perhaps, he put something over, and his success went to his head. Thereafter he could only think, and say, and repeat, "I am J. C. R."

IT is easy to write a detective story [we know, for we wrote the w. g. d. s.], because one works backward to the mystery. But there is very little talent that can begin with a real mystery and find the usually simple explanation. For example, when the "Mona Lisa" was stolen it was noticed that the canvas had been removed from the frame with extreme skill and care; yet as M. Lefranc was telling us the other day, it never occurred to the authorities that the man who stole the canvas might be the man who framed it.

THIS EXPLAINS IT.

[From the South Bend News-Times.]

Paris, Jan. 16.—Sarah Bernhardt will be elected Wednesday to wear the cross of the Legion of Honor. Many previous efforts to elect her have met with refusal on the ground that she was a directress of a theatre at the Epworth hospital with a fractured skull. Cor. Swants pronounced death due to accidental injury. It was found that One fell in a fit while in a saloon on W. Washington av. and struck his head on the corner of a heavy table, fracturing his skull.

any doubt tells there is plenty of money hereabout.

good reason you see; everybody is learned and up-really can't see how they all make it pay, but they do, and good best of it all the good-natured store man is glad when you call. Doctors? sure, up-to-the-minute you know; but sickness is scarce, germs here have no snow, it's so healthy and quiet and the air is so pure to all sensibly inclined it ought to allure. Ho, Ho, and oh my, what a lingo I've spun, but well, I meant it, it's not at all in fun; so I'll finish with three cheers, if you wish, health and prosperity for dear old Paw Paw, Mich.

SHAW'S remarks about the attitude of his countrymen towards comedy apply as well to Americans:

Reductions to absurdity, however logical; banterings, however kindly; irony, however delicate; merriment, however silvery, are out of the question in matters of morality; except among men with a natural appetite for comedy which must be satisfied at all costs and hazards; that is to say, not among the English playgoing public, which positively dislikes comedy.

IGNORANCE OR—WHAT?

Chicago, Jan. 13.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I am a trained nurse employed by the city to do nursing and instructing in the city schools and their districts. This morning I was sent in a new district near Fifty-fifth street and Western avenue. I went west on the Sixty-third street line to Robey, where the conductor told us to get off the car, the car went no further. I said, "Are there no cars that run through to Western avenue?" He said, "No; you'll have to walk." I said, "Are there no cross car lines running through?" He said, "Forty-seventh, Thirty-fifth, and Twenty-second cars run through." There were two other women who were going the same route for the first time. It was about 8:30 a. m. and 6 degrees above zero. The wind was coming from the west. I told the other women to wait (though they were strangers to me): I knew something was wrong. I went over to a switchman, and after explaining the situation to him he said, "The next car will take you through, madam." So we didn't have to walk after all.

PRIVILEGES OF TRANSFER.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—[To the Friend of the People.]—From downtown I took a Milwaukee avenue street car and transferred on a Division street car. On transferring at Robey street the conductor told me the transfer was no good. Is this true? The conductor says I cannot go south and back again on transfers. So I paid another nickel. This is the first time in a long while that I was forced to pay an extra nickel.

RURAL CARRIERS AND PRIVATE BUSINESS.

Bradford, Ill., Jan. 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The question is frequently debated if a postmaster in a salaried office or a rural route carrier has a right to engage in other business. Can you tell me? INQUIRER.

While there is no prohibition in the postal regulations with reference to postmasters in this regard, yet section 764, postal laws and regulations, 1913, provides as follows regarding so-called outside employment by rural carriers, viz.:

"1. Rural carriers shall not solicit business or receive orders of any kind for any person, firm, or corporation, and shall not during their hours of employment carry any merchandise for hire: Provided, that said carriers may carry merchandise for hire and upon the request of patrons residing upon their respective routes whenever it shall not interfere with the proper discharge of their official duties and under such regulations as the postmaster general may prescribe.

"2. Rural carriers shall not engage in any business while on or off duty which offers temptation to solicit patronage on their routes or in which their official position would give them special advantage over competitors." D. A. CAMPBELL, Postmaster.

SEWER IN CARPENTER STREET.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I am the owner of a building lot on Carpenter street between Ninetieth and Ninety-first streets. I would like to inquire when the sewer department intends putting in a sewer on the street, as I have signed several petitions and the block is well up in homes.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.

We expect to hold public hearing some time this winter on the proposed system of sewers, which includes South Carpenter street, between Eighty-ninth and Ninety-first streets. The former proceedings were ordered abandoned because of an adverse decision on the main Ninety-first street sewer, and it was necessary for the engineer to make new plans for the work. We will keep the new proceedings along. The property owners will receive notice when the matter is ready for public hearing. EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

A DAIRYMAN ON OLEO.

Hinsdale, Ill., Jan. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Butter made from cream taken from the milk of dairy animals has been used for thousands of years, is palatable, very nutritious, and considered a necessity of civilized life. The natural color of butter when pastures are fresh and green is yellow, but as they dry up it bleaches out, but is restored by the use of a harmless coloring made from the blossoms of the dandelion. It takes the cream from twelve quarts of milk to make a pound of butter.

Within a few years a compound composed of one-sixth cream and five-sixths tallow and cotton seed oil has been made and colored to resemble butter and sold as butter, intending to deceive the consumers. The Wisconsin Soldiers' home, advertising for bids for oleomargarine, received them as low as 7 cents per pound. Where the shoe pinches the counterfeiter is that he is not allowed to color his cheap collection and receive the price of cream for a product that rightly belongs to the soap boiler.

I am a dairyman. There are millions of us who can see no moral difference between counterfeiting golden butter and golden coin. In both cases it is substituting a cheap low grade article for a high grade expensive one for the enormous profit in the transaction.

PAY OF HEALTH INSPECTORS.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—There is often some mention in the papers of the handicap of the health department on account of a lack of health inspectors for school and field work in Chicago on account of the small appropriation. This force can be increased 25 per cent at not a penny more expense if some of the older physicians in the work would rely more on their practices, which they should have by now, after being school inspectors from five to ten years.

Why not put a limit on this service from three to five years and not make the salary quite so attractive as now? Make it $50 to $60 and thereby allow one-quarter more men to occupy the same expenditure.

They can be had easily. Then no one would hold the places longer than they had to eke an existence from practice and thereby a greater number of physicians would pass through the health department work and therefore more friends and co-workers with that department. E. B. W.

WANTS REFERENDUM ON CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES.

New Albany, Ind., Jan. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The Progressive party leaders in Illinois insist on having candidates for congress in every district in that state. The Republicans will also have candidates. This being the case, does it not insure pretty nearly an entire Democratic delegation? Why not apply the referendum in this contest?

I would suggest that the Republicans and Progressives arrange to bring out their candidates in each district on their respective platforms and again to unite on the candidate that receives the majority of the votes in his district; the majority of the aggregate vote of the state for candidates for United States senators to decide which shall be the candidate for that office and also decide which party shall be recognised as the opposition party as far as the Democratic party is concerned in the state of Illinois.

This arrangement is applicable in every state, and will decide as to which party is numerically the stronger. As to the fundamental principles of the two parties there is very little difference. The referendum is one of the cardinal principles of the Progressive party and this will be tried out very effectively in a contest of this kind.

SOLDIER'S VIEW OF ZABERN INCIDENT.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Ex-Attaché, on the Zabern incident, undoubtedly voices the belief of many people, and it is probably a good thing for the German army and consequently for the German people that an ancient misunderstanding is brought to light. For Ex-Attaché is far, far away from the soldier's viewpoint.

When the soldier's ideals are hooted at and his uniform is sneered at his most honorable and sacred instincts are outraged, just as a good citizen's most honorable and sacred instincts are outraged when some hoodlum insults his wife. To claim that pride in the uniform and what it represents is confined to commissioned officers is ridiculous, and to try to trace this natural feeling back to mediæval anarchy shows a failure to appreciate the soldier's ideals. Every self-respecting noncommissioned officer and private has exactly the same feeling of pride in his uniform and what it represents.

In our service both officers and enlisted men never wear the uniform when they can avoid doing so. This is in the interest of peace and harmony and saves many a scrap on the soldier's temper. The fact that Zabern incidents are of such exceeding rare occurrence speaks well for the discipline of modern armies.

RAILROADS AND REGULATION.

Delta, Colo., Jan. 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have read with a great deal of interest articles in your paper in regard to the regulation of railroad security issues. Attempts at federal rate regulations were at first vigorously fought by the railroads, but gradually the rate regulations came and the railroads today recognize the fairness and wisdom of such regulation. On the other hand there has been more or less state railroad legislation which has proved unfair, unwise, and unworkable, and so recognised by the public as well as the railroads.

Considering conditions existing only a few years ago, it is remarkable to see the railroads not only acquiesce, but in many cases solicit federal supervision of their bond and stock issues.

As the Lorimer deal was the most potent factor in quickly securing the direct election of United States senators, so, I believe, will the publicity of the financing methods of a certain large railroad system now in receivers' hands, bring the desired federal regulation of railroad securities. While some men advocate an entirely separate commission for this supervision, claiming the interstate commerce commission has more than it can do at present, yet I believe the commission is the proper body to undertake the work, and that that commission should be enlarged if necessary and so revised to meet this new condition which will soon be upon the federal government.

Advance in freight rates is an entirely different matter and should be considered solely upon its merits. It will probably be found certain rates in certain territories should be advanced, while others should be lowered. A horizontal increase of freight rates throughout the United States would be manifestly unfair and [illegible]

POTOMAC FLOODED; TOWNS IN DANGER

Dwellers in Valley Flee to the Hills While Wall of Water Sweeps Down.

GREAT DAM COLLAPSES.

Bridges and Ice Pack Dynamited to Clear Path for Rushing Flood.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 15.—Huddled in cold shacks and about blazing camp fires, hundreds of flood refugees tonight watched and waited in the West Virginia hills while the northern branch of the Potomac river, swollen to an icy flood, swept through their homes in the towns in the valley.

A wall of water, starting from the broken dam of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company on Stony creek, moved down to the Potomac, inundated the town of Schell, W. Va., where the two streams meet, and started a final wave laden with wreckage and ice down the Potomac valley. Warnings of the approaching flood sent the residents of small towns along the river scurrying to safety in the hills.

The flood wave apparently expended its energy in a mad twenty mile dash down the valley of the Stony Creek from the point of the burst dame to Schell. This valley, however, is practically uninhabited.

Big Power Dam Collapses.

The big dam, which was sixty-five feet high and impounded a lake five miles long, had been weakening for several days. Last night it began to crumble and a farmer from the mountain village of Mount Storm rode down the valley warning the few inhabitants of the impending break. Early this morning a part of the big structure gave way and at noon the sweeping waters carried away the greater part.

Below Schell the flood joined the Potomac river and for seventy miles the gradually diminishing wall of water rolled on, increasing the height of the river by from three to eight feet in its seventy mile course between Schell and Cumberland. The Potomac was filled with ice, and this, with wreckage, added force to the flood. Fearful lest the mass of wreckage pile up and pen the waters, the authorities and railroad officials tonight dynamited several small bridges in the valley.

Use Dynamite to Prevent Jams.

All along the valley officials took precautions to prevent the rising water with its burden of ice and wreckage from being jammed. Some fear was felt because of a wooden dam at Beryl, W. Va., where the Savage river flows into the Potomac. The West Virginia Paper and Pulp company, which has a plant covering forty acres at this point, put a thousand men at work to strengthen the dam.

The ice in the Potomac river at Cumberland was dynamited tonight in order to give the flood a free channel.

Officials here tonight estimated that property along the path of the flood had been damaged to the extent of about $200,000. To this was added thousands of dollars' worth of logs carried away by the water.

He was born in 1821 at Middlesex, N. Y. He came to Chicago as a young man and entered the real estate office of his brother-in-law, H. O. Stone. Later he opened an office with his brother, J. Irving Pearce, for many years owner of the old Sherman house. After the Chicago fire his memory enabled him to locate property of many persons whose abstracts had been burned.

He had been for many years a trustee of the Chicago Orphan asylum. He was a trustee and a charter member of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. Two daughters, Mrs. Mortimer Allen and Harriett Pearce, and one son, Myron A. Pearce of San Antonio, Tex., survive him.

'DISTRICT' WILL HIRE EXPERT TO FIX COST OF ELECTRICITY.

Attempt of Trustees Paullin and Clark to Have Prof. Bemis Appointed Is Voted Down.

The majority trustees of the sanitary district refused yesterday to grant the city 1,000 more street lights at one-half cent per kilowatt hour, the price now paid for energy to supply 23,000 lamps. Instead they desire to make a contract to furnish current for the 1,000 additional lights at the present rate provided the city will agree to pay the actual cost of current when it is determined.

Trustees Breit, Dailey, and Hasard are to select the expert to determine the cost. This cost may be higher or lower than the present rate paid by the city.

Trustees Clark and Paullin, minority members, opposed the policy adopted. They desired that Prof. E. W. Bemis be employed. They were voted down.

FIRE PREVENTION CHIEF GIVES "MOVIES" ATTENTION.

Warns Police and Fire Heads to Enforce Ordinances Against Overcrowding Lobbies and Blocking Exits.

Overcrowding of moving picture theater lobbies and obstructing of exit doors with advertising matter in violation of the ordinances was called to the attention of the twenty-two fire battalion chiefs and Chief of Police Gleason in a letter sent yesterday by J. C. McDonnell, chief of the bureau of fire prevention and public safety.

In regards to the overcrowding of lobbies, Mr. McDonnell conceded that as patrons are always entering and leaving the theater, in order to relieve those seeking admission of the hardship of waiting outside, one-half of the lobby can be set aside for those seeking to enter.

Strict enforcement of the ordinances is asked.

Have You Considered Carefully the Reasons Why You Should Buy an Autocar?

Our Entire Engineering, Factory and Sales Ingenuity is concentrated on the perfection of one type of commercial car. We started manufacturing this product, designing each part from the ground up, to stand the severest tests in a wide field of commercial use. That our principle is correct is verified by more than 1300 prominent concerns of the country, representing every line of business and using from 1 to 188 Autocars each.

We Have All Our Eggs in One Basket—one type of car—and it stands to reason it's up to us to make it a good "basket." We build every mechanical part of this car in our own factory, and these parts are assembled by employes who have been with us, many of them, for nearly seventeen years—each one an expert in his own line.

Five Times Around the Globe Every Day More than 1300 Autocar owners are covering with their Autocars over 125,000 miles every day, or an aggregate mileage of five times around the earth. They are picking up new business, giving customers up-to-minute service and reducing delivery cost.

Our Unit Sytem of Construction permits a reconstruction from time to time, which always keeps the car young. It enables an owner easily to prevent his car from becoming obsolete. "Autocars Never Grow Old." Rebuilt Autocars four years old bring 60% of the price of new chassis.

The Autocar's Exceptional Price was determined upon after a careful analysis of factory costs and the desire to place the Autocar within easy reach of all concerns who are in search of a car built for rugged daily service, and which would withstand all kinds of hard usage in all seasons.

COLLEGE INVITES FARMER AND WIFE

Brief Courses in Road Making, Crop Raising, and Housekeeping Are Offered.

Plan Is to Make Agricultural Pursuits More Enjoyable and Also Profitable.

it takes up not only matters pertaining to the house and the hen, alfalfa and Al's underwear, bacteria and back to the farm, but questions that might seem a bit distant from the soil and the home.

There is a daily program of forge work and carpentry given at the wood and forge shops, where the care and use of carpenter's tools are explained. Metals, their composition, and methods of working are considered, also the making and use of metal working tools. Welding and welding methods, the repair of farm buildings and equipment, repairing farm machinery, and construction of building joints are other matters taught and demonstrated. Persons who elect the courses in forge work and carpentry are expected to attend all the classes instead of visiting with the neighbors in the corridors, as may be conveniently done in some of the other courses.

NOW, in the courses having to do with what the corn belt will raise there is information that will raise any one's hopes. Time was, and not so long ago, when folks used to say Illinois soils would not grow alfalfa—come and hear what some of the alfalfa growers have to say. Also come and hear how sweet clover is no longer a weed but a useful crop.

Time also was—and a very short while ago—when Illinois was a dumping ground for the tuberculous cattle of men with more regard for their pocketbooks than their neighbors. Gov. Dunne by recent proclamation has stopped that. Come and find out why.

What a good sire means to a herd of cattle, a drove of hogs, or a flock of sheep is put forth explicitly—you discover even that there is more to the rooster than his crow. The hen has done all the cackling over the egg so far, but that does not mean she should be allowed to hog all the glory.

SPEAKING of hens, every one intends to raise poultry just as every one intends to write a play. The back-yarder with an ambition is just as much interested in the respective merits of the Rhode Island Red, Light Brahma, or Leghorn as the man with spreading sections. The lady whose fancy turns to ducks, but who can have only a dozen, experiences as acute pain in deciding between Indian Runners and Pekins as the one who will keep 500.

Both have a single want—the best. It is good to get together and find what the experience of others has shown to be the best under a given set of circumstances. One difficulty is, so many forget to give regard to the given set of circumstances, and therein lies the kernel of much duck and hen tragedy.

VEGETABLE raising, fruit growing, and flower planting are given attention, as well as the more ordinary products of the fields. The limit of attention is the limit of endeavor within the state. There is even a fine cotton bale to show what southern Illinois can do in that line.

The school for housewives is one of the most consistently attended of all the short courses. Fifteen year old girls open their notebooks beside grandmothers experienced in the way of the cook stove, and both find there is still much to learn. Lectures bearing upon home decoration and beauty in surroundings are attended with almost pathetic eagerness, showing how deep seated is the craving for beauty and how earnestly the real spirit of harmony is sought that it may be captured and made to inform the life of every day.

The lamp of knowledge has in every age and community had its wick trimmed to suit a peculiar fashion. The fashion of the corn belt is to so trim it that it shall shed the most possible light on all of the people all of the time.

Mme. Alda Heard as Guest with the Chicago Opera.

BY GLENN DILLARD GUNN.

To arrange an appearance for Mme. Frances Alda with the Chicago opera, the management last night offered a repetition of Puccini's "La Bohême." It is to be regretted that the public did not join with greater cordiality in the courtesy thus extended to the wife of the director of the Metropolitan opera. Mme. Alda is well known to the music lovers of the city. She has made frequent appearances in concert and often was heard in opera in those seasons when the New York company made its annual visit to Chicago.

Yet for some reason the audience which greeted her last night was small, nor was it disposed to regard her as the star of the cast. Mr. Bassi, the interpreter of the rôle of Rodolfo, was chosen by popular acclaim as the central figure of the performance. His delivery of the narrative moved the listeners to prolonged and earnest demands for a repetition of the grateful number. Out of consideration for Mme. Alda the request was not granted, though the audience applauded for several minutes. This enthusiasm was abundantly justified. Mr. Bassi endowed the aria with a wealth of vocal beauty and with many graces of spirit and sentiment as well.

For him it was a happy moment. But for the guest of the evening this outburst of applause was less fortunate. Such a response rarely is evoked a second time during a performance. Her portion of the narrative, though attractively sung, was accorded only perfunctory recognition, nor did her brilliant participation in the ensuing duet meet with more cordial reception. Yet one felt that she found the rôle of Mimi congenial. Its demands are not great, but the melodies that find their way into the part are among the most beautiful that Puccini has written and are worth singing for their own sake, even if they only serve to set off the tenor's share of the score to better advantage.

Mme. Alda sang the music with a sympathy that was in no wise disturbed by a consideration of the circumstances which relegated her to a secondary position. She was in excellent voice and happy mood, and, in every phase one felt the authority of the resourceful and experienced artist. Perhaps the part has happy associations for Mme. Alda, who must have sung it often in her youth. In any event, her song seemed to echo the gracious, buoyant spirit of youth, a spirit which lent her characterization of the pathetic little heroine the necessary touch of wistfulness.

The performance, as a whole, was admirable. Mr. Polese, Mr. Federici, and Mr. Huberdeau completed the quartet of bohemians, singing and acting with their wonted distinction and authority. Miss Riegelman repeated her successful interpretation of the part of Musette, Mr. Daddi and Mr. Trevisan contributed amusing bits of comedy, and Mr. Sturani conducted with faultless taste and sympathy.

Tonight Miss Garden, Mr. Muratore, and Mr. Dufranne will be the principals in a revival of Massenet's "Manon," which will be presented for the first time by the forces of the Chicago opera on this occasion.

Saturday afternoon Massenet's "Don Quichotte" will be given for the last time this season with Vanni Marcoux in the title rôle, and Miss Garden and Mr. Dufranne as the most important members of the supporting cast. In the evening "Mme. Butterfly" will be given in English at popular prices, with Miss Teyte in the title rôle, and with Mr. Hamlin and Mr. Whitehill in the parts of Pinkerton and Sharpless.

Mme Frances Alda.

Godowsky with the Orchestra.

Leopold Godowsky, the distinguished Russian pianist and former Chicagoan, will be the soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra this afternoon and tomorrow evening. He will play the Beethoven G major concerto.

Will Aid Committee of Fifteen.

The work of organizing a second council to coöperate with the committee of fifteen to drive out commercialized vice was begun last night by Samuel P. Thrasher in the Young Men's club of the Fourth Presbyterian church. The plan of organizing councils throughout the city calls for 100 councils, with an average of 100 members in each council, making a total of 10,000 men and women who are pledged to fight vice.

People's Republican Club.

Mrs. Kathryn Rutherford yesterday announced the organization of the People's Republican club to unite those citizens who believe in the restoration and maintenance of the republican form of government. Mrs. Rutherford is business manager. Elmer E. Houze will be attorney for the organization, and Mrs. Grace Suddard, secretary. The club will meet on Monday on the sixth floor of the Iroquois building, 21 North La Salle street.

Wood Wind Choir Draws Big Attendance.

The annual concert of the Chicago Wood Wind choir, under auspices of the Chicago Chamber Music society, took place in the foyer of Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon, the rarity of the concerts bringing out the largest attendance thus far in the society's season.

The choir is made up of principals from the Chicago Symphony orchestra—Mr. Quensel, flute; Mr. Barthel, oboe; Mr. Schreurs, clarinet; Mr. Kruse, bassoon, and Mr. de Maré, horn. On this occasion the choir was assisted by Mr. Meyer, clarinet; Mr. Weiss, bassoon, and Mr. Pottage, horn, the program including two numbers scored for their eight instruments.

With these artists, making up the greater part of the most admirable wood wind choir any symphony orchestra can boast, the répertoire is in the best hands available. Whether even perfectly presented music of such a character would be enjoyable in a lengthy program is doubtful, and this was not put to a test yesterday, for the entire performance lasted less than an hour. In that time there was not a moment of tedium.

It may be surmised that the field of composition from which a program exclusively for wood wind can be chosen is limited. In it the choir found a most pleasing "Sinfonietta" by C. Novacek and an equally graceful symphony by C. Reinecke, each of these for the eight instruments. The other number was a Beethoven sextet in two movements, which suggested one of the less familiar string quartets. Arranged for clarinets, bassoons, and horns, in the adagio it was hardly as grateful as the other compositions, presumably needing the color of the flute or oboe, or both. The rondo was much more successful and made possible an inference that in the tempo and form of composition lies something of an index to the pleasing character of music of this little known field.

There remain four concerts in the Chicago Chamber Music society's season, the next given two weeks hence by the Kneisel quartet.

German-Americans Dine.

Four hundred representative German-American men and women attended the banquet of the German club at the Hotel La Salle last night and listened to stirring addresses on the accomplishments of their forefathers. William George Bruce of Milwaukee, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of that city, delivered the address of the evening, and Henry J. Allen of Wichita, Kas., spoke on "Germany's Contribution to American Civilization." The Rev. R. A. John delivered the invocation, and Oscar A. Kropf, president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

Organists' Guild at Service.

The Illinois chapter of the American Guild of Organists will participate in the service of the First Presbyterian church, Evanston, on Sunday evening. The A Cappella choir, under the direction of Dean Peter O. Lutkin of the Northwestern university school of music, will sing. Miss Mary Kauffman, one of the soloists of last year's North Shore Music festival, will also sing. Some of the organists who will take part in the services are Palmer C. Christian, Mrs. William Middelschulte, John Doane Jr., and Elias Bredin.

Young Chicago Pianist Makes Success in East.

Miss Edna Gunnar Peterson

Miss Edna Gunnar Peterson, the young Chicago pianist, recently met with success in Boston when she had the unusual privilege of appearing as assisting artist on the program with Mme. Tetrazzini. Miss Peterson also is to receive more honors on Monday, Jan. 26, when she will be the assisting artist on the program which Mary Garden is to give at the closing of the Tiffin morning musical series to be given in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. Miss Peterson, who was sent abroad by the Amateur Musical society, has been a protégée of Mrs. Frank O. Lowden and other members of the Pullman family.

Mrs. Young 69 Years Old.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, quietly celebrated her sixty-ninth birthday yesterday. She visited schools in the morning. In the afternoon she attended the meeting of the school management committee of the board. Following a motion of Trustee Charles S. Peterson, the congratulations and good wishes of the committee were extended to her by a rising vote.

Says Bulgaria Was Robbed.

Mme. Sourgeniess of Sofia, Bulgaria, who lectured at the University of Chicago last night, said Bulgaria had been robbed of its rightful portion of Macedonia by Greece, Servia, and Montenegro. She said the atrocities attributed by the newspapers to her country had been committed by Montenegrans and Servians.

Jewelers' Banquet in Gold Miners' Camp.

A gold miners' camp was reproduced last night in the gold room of the Congress hotel. The mountains were there. An eagle flew over them. Four burros with pack saddles and picks passed from an almost real mining tunnel through a camp of 550 miners in full regalia, from bandana handkerchiefs to caps with lights attached, and walked up the mountain pass.

It was the thirty-seventh annual banquet of the Chicago Jewelers' association, and even the ices were served as gold nuggets.

J. Adam Bede was the principal speaker. He responded to a toast on "Our Pearls," which subject he used as a means of denouncing the feminist movement and especially woman suffrage. He said the feminist movement tends to degrade women and make them common, and predicted that if the feminist movement grew to greater proportions the foundations of society would be undermined by men's loss of respect of women.

Dr. Nathaniel Butler of the University of Chicago responded to the toast "Nuggets," and said the "nuggets" of Chicago are the university, the Art institute, Hull house, the United Charities, the parks and playgrounds, the Field museum, and the civic bodies working to make "Chicago the greatest art, music, and literary center of the country and even the world, and the most desirable place on earth in which to live."

Others who responded to toasts were: Christian C. Kohlsaat, James Gleason, George A. Carpenter, Daniel A. Campbell, M. N. Burchard, Jesse A. Baldwin, Judge Theodore Brentano, Judge Adelor J. Petit, Charles A. McDonald, James H. Wilkinson, the Rev. Abram Hirschberg, T. L. Combs, Horace J. Bridges, Leroy T. Steward, Dean Walter T. Sumner, Albert W. Sproehnle, William P. Williams, and the Rev. M. J. Doney.

The officers of the association are: Albert W. Sproehnle, president; Joseph Milhening, vice president; Cornelius P. Dungan, secretary and treasurer, and Franklin N. Wood, assistant secretary. The banquet committee was composed of William F. Juergens, chairman; James R. Perry, John H. Hardin, Sol H. Hess, and Claude Seymour.

Ask Help of Housewives.

Housewives were asked last night to advance their spring housecleaning and relieve the condition of the unemployed by hiring men and women to do this work now. The suggestion was embodied in a resolution passed at a meeting at the University settlement, Forty-sixth street and Gross avenue. Reports from the stockyards branch of the United Charities were read, showing that 750 heads of families, representing 3,500 persons, applied for aid in that locality during December.

In response to the call of the Chicago Federation of Labor for aid for the unemployed in Chicago and the state circulars were today sent out from Springfield to state locals and central bodies suggesting the assessment of all employed members.

Find Ancient Poland Crown.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Jan. 16, 3 a. m.—A Vienna dispatch to the Daily Mail says a wind storm at Cracow uprooted an ancient elm and revealed the hiding place of the crown which had been worn by the kings of Poland from the fourteenth century, and which has been missing since the middle of the eighteenth century. All the gems with which the crown was studded were found, although some had fallen out of their places.

How to Earn Money at Home.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

I wish all of the home workers could have a nice long talk with each other and share all of their successes with each other; and I wish, too, they could share their failures. So often failures could be turned into successes if they could only be talked over, couldn't they?

There is always some good reason for a failure. There is some reason why you didn't succeed when you tried to make money. There is no such thing as a failure without a cause. That sounds like poor comfort for the few of you who haven't been able to make a success of your work—and we all have a little thankful prayer in our hearts there are so few—but I mean it as the greatest encouragement. If you could only talk things over with some one who knew, I am sure you would find out the reason why you haven't made the success you hoped to make.

That is what this little department is for. By printing the letters of those of you who have succeeded I have hoped to be able to help you to succeed, too. But of course following some one else's example will not bring you success unless you put yourself into your work and profit by your own little failures.

There is one subject which has much to do with your success, but which I hesitate to speak about because so many of you are being so sensible about it. The greatest mistake that some of the women who are just starting to be home workers make is putting the prices on their goods too high. It is "hand work" and for that reason they think it ought to command higher prices than the same work would command if it were made in a factory. There are a few things you can apply that principle to, but there are very few. Human nature looks for the most reasonable article that combines beauty and usefulness. And no matter how lovely your work may be nor how much hand work you may have put on it, you cannot expect to get an unreasonable price for it.

Most of the successful home workers have found that out, and they are doing their work at decidedly reasonable prices. One little worker, who has been successful "beyond her dreams," she says, has been able to sell lingerie at a profit at prices which are low. And there was another worker who made practically the same things, who charged a little higher prices than the same goods would bring elsewhere, and while she had some trade, her orders were not nearly so plentiful as the reasonable little worker's.

So remember that the first thing to take into consideration about your work is the price. It isn't the first thing while you are planning your work. Of that I shall speak another time. But if you have already decided upon the sort of work you want to do and have made up some samples, set the price as low as you can to make a reasonable profit. And don't try to sell handsome embroidery in a neighborhood where all of the women have plenty of time to do their own embroidery. Take it into an entirely different neighborhood. Business women are notably fond of dainty embroidery. They not only appreciate the work but they are willing to pay for it. On the other hand, don't try to market office aprons in a small town where there are few workers in offices.

Be sure to put your work up attractively. Many sales have been missed because the wrapping on a display package was careless or unattractive. Haven't you seen things that looked so pretty in their outside wrappers you longed to own them, even though you had little idea what was within the package? The home workers may as well take advantage of that, may they not? Won't you start your work right away? You won't want to miss a minute of the success that is rightly yours.

NATHAN STRAUS OF NEW YORK URGES PURE MILK CAMPAIGN.

Philanthropist Explains New Method of Pasteurization in the Home—Speaks in New Haven, Conn.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Initiating a movement to introduce a home process of pasteurization of milk in American cities outside of New York, Nathan Straus, head of the movement in New York City, this afternoon appeared before the New Haven chamber of commerce to plead on behalf of mothers and babies of the city for the installation of pasteurization plants here.

Mr. Straus was accompanied by his son, Nathan Straus Jr., and Miss Anna Nason, who has been in charge of a model laboratory in New York City, whence milk has been distributed after treatment.

Mr. Straus asserted pasteurized milk and fresh air will keep any baby healthy and he referred to the home pasteurizer as a valuable aid in the preparation of milk.

Miss Nason described in detail the methods in vogue in the New York laboratory, showing a good sized model pasteurizing machine in operation. She recommended taking the home pasteurizer into every tenement and even every fashionable home. She asserted babies often spent the summer in the country and grew sick on raw milk, only to return to the city and thrive on pasteurized milk.

Representatives of the Civic federation, Mothers' club, Baby Welfare club, and several other city organizations indorsed the plan and expressed themselves eager to secure a model laboratory for this city.

Jane Addams Advocates Care of Defective Young.

MISS JANE ADDAMS addressed the Chicago Engineers' club at luncheon yesterday, and incidentally settled a question of etiquette for the club members. When the luncheon was over several men took out cigarets or cigars, but, remembering women were present, put them back again.

"I hope you men who wish to will smoke," Miss Addams said. "I am so used to bad tobacco I am sure I will enjoy the smell of good cigars. I don't wish to deprive any one of his accustomed post-prandial smoke."

Miss Addams advocated an institution in Cook county for feeble minded children. She said the bulk of the criminal population of Chicago is made up of boys under 25 years of age.

"We go merrily along," she said, "allowing mentally deficient children to grow up without institutional care, and then they get into difficulties and we lock them up. Society must protect itself, and the jail or penitentiary is a necessity if there is nothing better in which to put the defectives. But it is expensive, foolish, and a menace to the community when boys really not mentally responsible are put in jails.

"The wayward boys and girls need recreation, education, and medical care. We have tried to discover how far young criminals are mentally deficient. In the Rockefeller institute 35 per cent of the boys and 50 per cent of the girls of 18 years of age answered questions of the test of children of 12."

Miss Addams said women do not expect to reform the city with their newly acquired ballot, and she doubted if they would use their ballots altogether wisely. She said she was certain they would use their votes to secure certain civic reforms which have been preached in the clubs for a long time. She said foreign women are organizing civic classes. The Italian women are working for the establishment of public washing houses, the Russian and Polish women for covered markets, and others for special civic improvements.

News of Society and Clubs

Suffragists and Antis Alike Called to Jury.

"I HOPE they will not call me to serve as a juror in insane cases," remarked a woman believer in the franchise, with some fear, not long ago.

"I hope," responded an anti-suffragist, "they—well, I hope they call every woman who has worked for suffrage."

But apparently, from the viewpoint of the second woman, the just are to be made to suffer with the unjust. Every week for the last several weeks a jury of prominent women has been summoned to sit upon cases which go through this distressing court as their initiation into the ways of political life. At the sitting yesterday three inactive suffragists, a fourth wholly uninterested in the subject, and a fifth decidedly opposed to it were in the jury box.

The three inactive members of the jury, who are quite sure the women deserve the ballot and can find no reason for argument otherwise, but who never have been moved to give their time for "the cause," were Mrs. James H. Channon of 672 Rush street, Mrs. Charles Canfield of 199 Lake Shore drive, and Mrs. George Swigart of 199 East Chestnut street. The uninterested member was Mrs. Charles H. Conover of 1520 North State street, a woman of wealth famous in local circles for her devotion as a mother; and the "anti" member was Mrs. Albert H. Dainty of 1449 North Dearborn street. Dr. Clara Seippel was the foreman of the jury.

Mrs. Channon had been kept indoors for some days with a cold and temperature. This was the result of going through a season with a debutante daughter, but neither colds nor debutante parties kept her from answering the summons.

"I thought I might just as well go first as last," she explained, "and then I am very much interested in these subjects. I believe it would be better for all women if they could know something of this side of life.

"I've never worked for suffrage, but I believe in it, of course. One case appealed to me strongly. It was that of a 20 year old girl—why, she isn't much older than our debutantes—who was brought forward. She had been drunk and disorderly, she had taken opiates now and then, she had been married twice, and she was thought to be insane. I really think she is demented only temporarily, due to her drinking and no doubt her past life. She was paroled to the people with whom she had been living, but somehow I did want to see that girl sent to some good institution where she could be brought back into the right way of living.

"We ought to be able to get them before they are lost entirely, you know. I protested when I learned she had been detained with a tubercular patient. You see, always I have been interested in pathology and psychology. I've read medicine for years with some of our best physicians for guides. I love it and would have made it my profession had I chosen a profession, but after I married I studied it because I wanted to care for my children intelligently.

"Yesterday when I saw that young bit of a girl with possibly a life of usefulness still before her I just thought that, suffrage or not, every mother should take the opportunity to work for the relief of such cases by going on these juries."

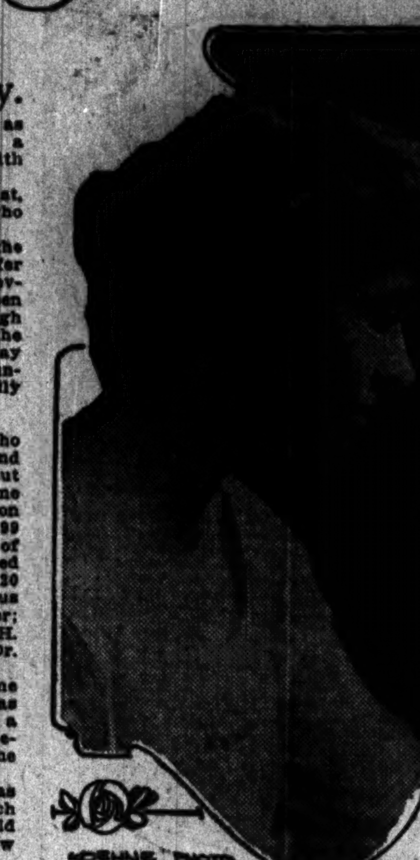
Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Haines, who were to give a dinner before the Bachelors and Benedicts' ball, have recalled the invitations on account of the illness of Mrs. Haines' sister, Mrs. William P. Martin. Mrs. Martin, who has been very ill, was reported improved last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Leicht, who but three months ago returned to the city after having spent eighteen months abroad, expect to leave again on Jan. 29 and to sail on Jan. 31 for Algiers, where they will spend three months and then go on to Naples, Paris, and other continental cities for a leisurely visit. Mr. Leicht will return in June when Mrs. Leicht is joined by their son, Albert Edward Leicht, after the close of the school year at Cornell, where he is a student. Mrs. Leicht probably will not return until next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius P. Ordway, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilman Ordway, Miss Katherine Ordway, and Carl Schuneman of St. Paul, Mrs. Melville Wooster of Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Allan Ramsey of Minneapolis are here to attend the wedding of Miss Mildred Wurtele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wurtele, and Samuel Gilman Ordway, which is to take place at noon tomorrow at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The bridal dinner will be given at the Blackstone hotel this evening by Mrs. Ramsey, who is an aunt of the bride.

Kindergartners and high school pupils, leading professional musicians and choir boys, youngsters and parents, will take part in "The Lost Princess Bo-Peep," Jessie L. Gaynor's operetta, which is to be given for the benefit of Christ church, Woodlawn, in Orchestra hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 29. The cast calls for 250 members, and all the neighborhood is helping to make the play a success. There's to be old King Cole, who is keeping his name secret, as the Queen of Hearts and Mother Goose likewise are doing. The costuming and staging will be on an elaborate scale. Miss Hortense Reynolds is directing the entertainment, with Mrs. Simon La Gron, Mrs. Robert Reimert, and Mrs. Harry Prince Bayley on the executive committee.

The engagement of Miss Mary Appleton Kingsley, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Homer H. Kingsley of Evanston, to Prof. O. F. Long of the department of Latin in Northwestern university, was announced yesterday. The wedding is to take place on Feb. 3 at the First Congregational church, Evanston, Dr. William E. McElveen officiating.



MISS MARGARET MEEKER.

Charity Ball for Infant Welfare Society.

The Kenwood Social Service club will give an Infant Welfare society charity ball in the Hyde Park hotel on Wednesday next. The young women members of the club distinguished themselves last summer in the crusade for "saving baby" by purchasing enough mosquito netting to outfit the windows of many of the tenement homes and so protect the little ones from flies. More than this, the young women sallied forth with hammers and tacks and put the netting on the windows themselves.

The Park Ridge Country club is slipping away from custom and giving a midwinter afternoon event. It has scheduled an informal tango tea for tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. George T. Houston of 4931 Lake Park avenue will be hostess at the third of the salon lectures being given under the auspices of the Chicago Theater society night. O. L. Hall will talk on "The Technique of Modern Drama."

The marriage of Miss Rose Loewenstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Loewenstein of 4822 Michigan avenue, to Henry L. Rissman took place at the Congress hotel last night.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. McCarthy of 4806 Washington boulevard announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, May, to Richard F. King, to take place on Jan. 28.

Mrs. Edward Everett Silk (formerly Genevieve Hewlings) of 5215 Cornell avenue will give a tea on Tuesday, Jan. 20, from 3 to 6 o'clock. Mrs. Silk will be assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Andrew Jackson Hewlings; Mrs. Edward R. Litzinger, Mrs. Arthur E. Kessler, Mrs. I. Webster Baker, Mrs. Josiah S. Bridges, Mrs. Adele Martin, and Miss Eva Kaufman. Mrs. Fay Chester Hamilton, who was Lillian Otis, a December bride, will preside in the dining room, assisted by Miss Beatrice Carpenter, Miss Helen Hibbard, Miss Marguerite Ortseifen, and Miss Marjorie Lane. Following the tea there will be a dinner and bridge for the receiving party and their husbands.

The marriage of Dr. A. B. Oyen of 2816 Logan boulevard and Miss May Johnson of 1642 North Nebraska avenue took place last evening at the residence of the Rev. William J. Ohan at 1135 North Sacramento avenue. Only the immediate families were present. The ceremony was followed by a wedding dinner at the Hotel La Salle.

MISS FLORENCE MERCEDES JETTNER

THE engagement of Miss Florence Mercedes Jettner to Frederick H. Walton has been announced. Miss Jettner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jettner of 6341 Ingleside avenue. Mr. Walton, who is from Buenos Aires, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. T. Walton of San Salvador, Paraguay.

The Phi Phi dance at the Hotel La Salle on Friday evening, Jan. 30, is in charge of a committee comprising Miss Alice Kenny, Miss Catherine Egan, Miss Helen Sullivan, Miss Frances Davis, Miss Florence Condon, and Miss Rose McKee. The patrons and patronesses include: Gov. Edward F. Dunne, John J. Rooney, John Courtney, John J. Sullivan, Thomas F. Scully, John E. Holmes, John E. Traeger, Michael J. Flynn, Francis W. Corby, John J. Flynn, John J. Ryan, and J. J. Sullivan, with Mrs. John E. Traeger, Mrs. Michael J. Flynn, Mrs. J. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Thomas F. Scully, and Mrs. John J. Flynn.

Children's Aid Society Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society will be held on Jan. 27 in the Auditorium hotel. The speakers will be Jacob Riis, Miss Jane Addams, Judge Julian W. Mack, and Prof. Charles R. Henderson. The year has been one of increased activity for the society, 203 children having been assigned to the custody of the organization. The society has placed in carefully selected and supervised family homes 185 children. Under the supervision of the society, there are 1,174 children under 18 in family homes. The department for assisting parents with children has dealt with 603 cases of abandoned or unmarried mothers, involving 770 children. Of these mothers, 163 were placed in positions, and 318 children found care in families where the mothers could keep in touch with them and contribute to their support, the society supplementing their deficiency.

Cardinal Pompili, Acting for Pope, Forbids Tango.

ROME, Jan. 15.—Cardinal Basilio Pompili, vicar general of Rome, representing the pontiff, has issued a pastoral letter denouncing the tango and also certain newspapers, theatrical performances, and fashions which he declares are perverting souls. The cardinal says:

"The tango, which has already been condemned by illustrious bishops and is prohibited even in Protestant countries, must be absolutely prohibited in the seat of the Roman pontiff, the center of the Roman Catholic religion."

He urges the clergy courageously to raise their voice "in defending the sanctity of Christian usages against the dangers threatening and the overwhelming immorality of the new paganism."

He warns parents that if they do not protect their children from corruption they will be guilty before God of failure in their most sacred duties.

Junior League Has Pink Tea.

Women well known in society circles yesterday were waitresses at a pink tea in the rooms of the Junior league at 35 South Dearborn street, and instead of serving, the working girls there were served by the society women. Mrs. A. D. W. Erskine had charge, and was assisted by Mrs. E. S. Wilson. More than 100 working girls go to the Junior league rooms every month to rest, use the telephone, or read. There are three sewing machines for their use. The girls listen to talks by society women about hats, clothes, and other subjects of interest to them. Couches are provided for those girls who wish to sleep for an hour or so. Miss Amy Walker is president of the league, Miss Lucy Blair vice president, Miss Mildred McCormick treasurer, and Miss Margaret Bentley secretary.

One Church Not for Feb. 1 Campaign.

One church has been discovered in Chicago that will not join with the thousand others in the city in the promotion of "Go to Church Sunday," Feb. 1. The reason is that the church is now so nearly full that a larger congregation would be a violation of the ordinance limiting the size of audiences in public auditoriums. The church is the Park Manor Congregational church, East Seventieth street and South Park avenue. The pastor is the Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins. The main auditorium seats less than 150, and the church has 160 members on the roll. Dr. Hopkins, however, expressed the hope that every other church would be filled to capacity.

White Cake Recipe.

"A SUBSCRIBER would like a good white cake recipe.

"NEW CORNERITE."

One cup of butter and two of sugar, rubbed to a light cream; one cup of sweet milk, the whites of four eggs, beaten to a standing froth, one heaping teaspoon of baking powder sifted three times with four even cups of flour, or enough to make a good batter, the juice of a lemon and a teaspoon of the grated peel. Bake in a loaf or as layers, with whipped cream between the layers. Cover while baking until it has risen high and a crust begins to form. Then brown slightly.

Lost Her Recipe.

"Will you please ask for a graham pudding recipe that was published about two months ago? I tried it and it was fine, but unfortunately I lost the recipe, and am anxious to get it again. MRS. M. T."

Will some thrifty, canny housewife who never loses her recipes kindly copy that wanted by this unfortunate sister and let us have it?

Made of Chili Peppers.

"Here is the idea for chili sauce made of chili peppers. I have done the trick, but had no recipe, merely using heresay evidence. All peppers will boil soft enough to go through a purée sieve, leaving only a thin skin. Do not have any more water in the pulp than can be helped. I was told to add salt. The makers of tabasco sauce only commercialise this idea, for it is as old as Creole inhabitants in Louisiana. As to its keeping qualities, that is an old joke of keeping until it is used up, and would apply, for we never asked it to keep across heat, which would leave it, say, six months at most. I once tried weak vinegar and water on Belle peppers to stuff, but they took up too much room and mildewed.

"C. N. B."

A jolly letter that gives us appetites for more from the same source. Our Creole cookery has greatly enlivened and varied the native cuisine. I wish our member would tell us if alligator pears, so delicious in salads, are ever sealed or canned. I am told that they are kept over seasons in some way. We are hoping to hear from her again.

Useful Household Helps.

"I shall give you a few household hints, and think they will prove useful to a great many housewives. To take rust stains from cloth, wet the spot with cold water and put the article in the sunshine. Then mix equal parts of cream of tartar and a tablespoon of salt and sprinkle upon the wet stain thickly enough to cover the spot. If the spot remains, cover it again with the mixture, and keep it in the sunshine until the stain has disappeared. Two applications will remove it. To remove mildew, soap the linen, which has been moistened, then apply salt and lemon to each side, or use powdered pipe clay or fuller's earth or powdered chalk will do. Expose it for several hours to the air and the stain will disappear. Here is a nice bride cake: One pound of powdered sugar, one pound of flour, twelve eggs, one pound of currants, well washed, dredged with flour; one pound of seeded raisins, chopped, half a pound of citron cut into slips, one tablespoon of cinnamon, two teaspoons of nutmeg, one teaspoon of cloves, one wine glass of brandy. Cream the butter and sugar, add the beaten yolks of the eggs, and stir well together before putting in half of the flour. The spices should come next, then the beaten whites of eggs stirred alternately with the rest of the flour. Lastly, the brandy. The above quantity is for two or three tiers, which makes two or three different sizes, one above the other. Bake at least two hours in deep tins, lined with buttered paper. The icing should be laid on thick. When baked, keep in a cool, dry place. It will not spoil within two months. Test the cakes well, and be sure they are quite done before taking them from the oven. This cake has been made on several occasions, and if the directions are followed will prove good. I have several pudding and cake recipes and shall be delighted to send them. M. P."

A feast of fat things of divers kinds. It is too late for Christmas puddings, but we shall be grateful for any recipes from your store. The bride cake, if what you say be true, and of course it is, will outlast the honeymoon.

Cheese in Buckwheat Cakes.

"Could you send me a recipe for Chinese egg fooyong for two persons? Has any one ever grated American cheese between layers of buckwheat cakes, then sirup over all? A school teacher friend of mine scoffed at the idea until she tried them, then ate fifteen cakes. I am not afraid of eating cheese, and for those who aren't the dish is delicious.

"MRS. R. R. C."

Referred! The dish is novel to me. Another correspondent mentions it, and I should be ashamed to confess my ignorance, perhaps. It will be corrected in good time by wiser housewives. I can imagine that the cheese cakes are palatable on a stormy winter day, and that they may be digested without trouble by sleighing parties and outdoor workmen. I know they taste good.

Pepper Relish.

"I am submitting the following pepper relish, and hope it will meet with some one's request: Wipe and remove seeds from six red and six green peppers. Add six onions, peeled and sliced, and put through a meat chopper. Put into a pan, cover with boiling water, letting stand for five minutes. Drain and add to the peppers one cup of sugar, two tablespoons of salt, and one and one-half cups of vinegar. Put on the stove and boil twenty minutes. I hope this recipe will be of some service.

"M. E. W."

A request for the foregoing recipe was printed some weeks ago. The Corner thanks you for letting us have it.

Wants a Danish Butter Recipe.

"Since the Corner seems to be able to furnish almost everything asked for, I want to ask some reader to furnish me with a recipe for Danish butter. I used to get this at the home of a Danish playmate years ago, and often long for some now that I have grown. I have an idea that it is made of leaf lard and flavored with bay leaf. If some one can help me I shall be grateful. MARGARET G."

Referred! We have a goodly corps of Danes in our constituency, and so far as I have been able to judge they are to a woman able cooks. So we are tolerably sure of securing the recipe for Danish butter. Be on the watch for it.

Fashions Direct from Paris

By Paquet

Blouse Fullness Shows No Signs of Lessening.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—It is a little difficult to state anything definitely these days when fashions for the future are in a more or less doubtful state. What will or will not be the fashion cannot be predicted with any degree of certainty. One thing, however, is noticeable. There is no reason to believe fashions are to grow any more eccentric. In fact, it is more than likely there will be a lessening of the tendency toward extremes which has been indulged in the last sartorial year.

The all important question of the silhouette seems about decided on. It promises to conform more nearly to the natural figure than has been the style in the past. Whatever fullness there is, and drapery will continue modish, will incline lower down on the figure, to take its rise from the lower part of the hips and be continued down to the knees and even lower if desired.

With no sign of decrease on the part of the skirt fullness the same holds equally true of blouse fullness. They are baggy in the extreme. The baggier they are the more stylish they are. Some of the newest ones are shirred full to a shoulder piece, which comes down over the tops of the arms and to which the sleeves are also shirred. Dainty white chemisettes are worn underneath. Some of these chemisettes are made elaborately and trimmed with fancy buttons that match or contrast with the suit and blouse in question.

Scotch plaids are to be popular. As aprons, sashes, girdles, all kinds of cuffs and collars, besides whole skirts of them with waists and coats of plain material, the plaid blouses are being made into the prettiest bodices imaginable. Taffetas are particularly attractive, especially the softer and finer qualities, and, trimmed with plaitings of the same shade but plain material, they are being shown in the smart shops as advance spring models.

The kimono sleeve in these bodices which is still in vogue has undergone some decided modifications. The seam is seen—the seam, which describes a right angle, a horizontal, and a perpendicular, meeting at the armpit.

Bolero effects in blouses continue in varied forms. One pretty variation of the bolero effect was caught at the waist line by a wide plaid satin scarf, crossed at the back with heavily fringed ends brought forward and knotted low down below the tunic. The bolero had a high collar and high, close fitting cuffs, all given the plaid facings and an added touch of brightness given to the whole by a tiny vest in the same plaid silk. It was laced by fine gold cord over a dainty chemisette of embroidered chiffon.

One pretty collar, which is really more attractive than the Medici and yet which so far has been given no definite name, is one that is shaped more or less like a sailor and yet, instead of lying flat, stands up, its two corners flaring out behind each ear.

Most of the evening bodices contine to be extremely transparent. Wide fichus draped becomingly about the shoulders and upper arm are attractive over the much in vogue chemisette.

Afternoon frock of black velvet and tulle. Flounces ermine edged. Black velvet hat with paradise feather.

Doris Blake's Advice

By Doris Blake

The number of letters received daily from correspondents who wish to be answered through the columns of "The Tribune" is so large in comparison with the space allotted to those answers that there is necessarily some delay in replying to many of the questions asked of Miss Blake.

If you wish a prompt reply inclose in your letter a stamped, addressed envelope.

"I Don't Marry the Family."

LOVERS never do take advice; but if you are about to marry some one whose people you despise put on your thinking cap.

It is natural to deem your dear one the flower of the flock, the shining exception in an uncongenial family. Is he? Has he none of the traits you dislike in the rest of the family, or is he putting his best foot foremost?

No one wants to be snobbish. It is a mistake to feel that the family uncongenial always means marrying beneath one. A man and a woman may be neighbors and friends from childhood, yet their training and point of view may be so different that they will never hit it off.

You may bolster your courage by saying, "I'm not marrying the family." You think you can counteract the family influence; but can you?

No matter how superior one may be to his family, training and inherited traits are bound to crop out sooner or later. When the husband develops ways you detest, or the wife shows herself "a chip off the old block," it is too late for anything but vain regrets. The time for forethought is before the wedding bells ring.

I know a man who was trained by his mother to consider society girls utterly frivolous. She thinks because a girl enjoys social life she must be idle, vain, extravagant, and will make a bad wife and worse mother.

That man is about to marry a girl who has been trained from infancy to shine socially. They are desperately in love—now. What of their chances of keeping so?

Whenever the bills are too big or the domestic machinery creaks that man probably will blame the girl's early training. Was she not a society butterfly, therefore a bad manager? And the wife cannot fail to be irritated at her husband's unwillingness to bow to customs that are second nature to her. And both families will fan the flame with "I told you so!"

Don't count on weaning the loved one away from the family—it is despicable. Distance is equally fallacious—there are letters, visits, also inheritance. Rather refuse to court unhappiness by attempting to unite incongruous elements.

Parents Won't Listen to It.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 17, and go with a girl one year my senior. We love each other very much, and would like to marry, but our parents will not listen to such a thing. I am making $16.80 a week. I think that is enough to live on. What do you think? A. C."

What silly children you are! Of course you are too young to marry. You aren't making enough money to support yourself, much less a wife.

She Wants Advice.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am in trouble and feel as though you can help me. When a young man asks a lady if he can see her home what should the lady answer? When they get to her home should the young man go with her up on the porch, or should they part on the sidewalk in front of the house? Should the lady thank him? What should she say? Should they shake hands when they say good night? Please help me. INEXPERIENCED."

When a young man asks a young lady if he may escort her home all she need say is, "Yes, thank you." The young man should see that she is safely within her door before he leaves her. No, the young lady does not thank him. He will probably thank her for the pleasure that she has given him in allowing him to accompany her home; then she could say, "It has been a pleasure to me, too." Shaking hands is optional. I should suggest, however, that you do not unless you are very well acquainted with the young man.

All Four Are in Love With Him.

"Dear Miss Blake: We are four girls of 18. In the office where we are employed there is a young man about 25 with whom we all are desperately in love. Now the question is, whom do you think he loves? He seems to prefer me, but is backward about asking for my company, as he knows that we are the best of pals and is probably afraid of causing ill feeling between us. How can I win his love? Would it be proper under the circumstances to ask him to call on me? DAINTREE."

The proper thing under these circumstances is for all four of you silly girls to realise that the young man is not at all interested in any of you. If you are, as you say, desperately in love with him, I am afraid that you will just have to recover from your attack.

Could Old Sweethearts Make Up?

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think that a couple who were sweethearts about the time that the boy was 21 and the girl just about two years his junior, which has been several years ago, could make up and love each other as dearly as they ever did before they split up? It has been a long time since we split up. Several years have elapsed and it was all my fault, but it was nothing that would throw any discredit upon the girl which caused us to break up. We have not seen each other in a long time and have not written to each other for a long time. She has never married yet, for what reason I know not, and I have never married because she was the only girl I ever loved and did not want to try to force my love on some other girl that I could never love. I love this little girl still. Do you think there is a possible chance that she has forgiven me for having made her mad and that she might care for me again as she did of old? Would like to have your candid opinion on this. I have the very highest regard for her. Tell me now if you think she might have a slight degree of latent love in her heart for me? ANXIOUS."

Perhaps she did not marry because she loved you. I see no reason why you shouldn't be as good friends as you ever were, and lovers, too, after you have known each other again for a while.

Insanity—Mental and Moral.

[Copyright: 1914: By Lillian Russell.]

THE modern study of eugenics has developed the fact that a normal person cannot be driven insane by any of the conditions of present day life. The strenuous life merely brings out the insanity that is latent in some persons as a result of heredity. That people should be discouraged from marrying into families that have any taint of insanity or serious diseases is the conclusion drawn from the facts. Physical defects are not so important, is the declaration of Dr. Woods Hutchinson, an authority on heredity, but mental and moral peculiarities should be watched for as the things most likely to be transmitted.

Men, unless their minds are of a scientific bent, are much given to pooh-poohing the subject of proper mating. Women, I believe, think and look deeper into the theme, for upon the wives and mothers falls the chief burden of any evil that results. It has been proven heredity accounts for about 50 per cent of the cases of insanity, and if all the facts could be traced there is no doubt the percentage would be higher.

Among the ancestors of insane people can be found traces of feeble mindedness, idiocy, imbecility, and religious mania. Extreme piety is one of the chief causes of insanity and alcohol comes next. So it seems one can be intemperate in religion as well as in the use of strong drink.

Ninety-eight per cent of the people are born under such favorable conditions that no shock or worry can upset their mental balance. Many people born with a tendency to insanity go through life without exhibiting any trace of mental weakness because they are never subjected to any shock or nervous disturbance to bring it out. There is moral as well as mental insanity. Some poor unfortunates whom we punish as criminals are really irresponsible because of their diseased sense of morality.

The great problem today is to protect future generations, and, so far as it prohibits the mating of those with a tendency to insanity, the science of eugenics should have hearty approval. This phase of the question is worth the careful study of every young woman who expects to become a wife and a mother.

Remember, when the parents eat sour grapes the children's teeth are set on edge.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

If you prefer to have your question answered by individual letter please send stamped envelope.

INDA: I cannot send you my treatment for blackheads, for you did not send me your name and address. I shall do so, however, if you will send me the required stamped, addressed envelope.

MISS S. M.: There is nothing that will make the muscles of the face sag, ruin the complexion, and make wrinkles more quickly than poor health. I am sure you can build up the tissues in your face and eradicate the wrinkles by using a good skin food and facial massage. At night before retiring is the best time to do this. I shall send you formula with instructions for massage upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

MRS. T. G.: I am sorry but I cannot give you a formula for green soap. It is really soft, a unripe soap and is yellow in color. It is a common article and may be purchased at any drug store. I can, however, send you instructions for using green soap for removing blackheads, if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

MRS. B.: There is no possible way of restoring gray hair to its natural color with the exception of dying it. I do not advise any one to dye their hair and never give formulas for dyes or bleaches for the hair to my readers. A dye or bleach will ruin the hair and is injurious to the scalp. Unless you want to ruin your hair don't dye it.

Yellow Split Peas.

NOT only dried green split peas but dried yellow split peas as well may be made into delicious purée in two hours from the time they leave the bag, with no soaking, by the gentlest simmering in a covered utensil, first having been brought slowly to a boil and skimmed.

Few people like the flavor of the cooked dried yellow pea as well as they like the dried green, since out of the latter, perfectly cooked, can be made the higher grade of dishes. For one thing, with the green purée can be made a cream soup finer than the average cream soup made with fresh asparagus. With the addition of a few fresh green peas such a soup could easily pass for a St. Germain, that aristocratic "potage" whose foundation is supposed to be of the freshest of green peas with a dainty green pea garnish.

A cup of yellow split pea purée, which is about a third of the quantity made by cooking one cup of dried peas in four cups of water, flavored with salt, a medium sized onion and a carrot or a little turnip, cooked with it, is truly appetizing with no additions. But it may be used with a stock or with milk for a soup, or used in various combinations with bacon, ham, etc.

A distinctly English way of serving this would be to thin the purée with stock, and then to add powdered dry mint leaves in the plate, but the mint flavor can be cooked into the soup.

PEA PURÉE WITH BACON.—A quick way of mixing pea purée and bacon is to cut up in little dice three thin slices of bacon to a cup of purée; fry the bacon until it is well cooked, but not burned; add the puree and stir them briskly together over a hot fire for about five minutes. This adds the fat which is wanting in any quantity to make the pea one of the most complete of foods.

The pea purée is almost as portable as the pea itself, and is most excellent for those who have much outdoors work or exercise. Cooked as above, it need not be so unnecessarily rich and heavy as some of the leguminous vegetable foundations for soups are. The purée, or what is really the "peas porridge," made so renowned by the nursery rhyme and its accompanying exercise, may be used as bean porridge was formerly by the woodcutters of New England.

For this purpose beans used to be cooked to a thick mush and frozen in bowls, in each of which was placed a string, which served to lift out the mass. The woodcutter took this with him when he went out for his day's work in the woods, and, with the help of the camp fire, he melted his beans into a porridge again. Such a porridge undoubtedly contained more nourishment than the best made from a concentrated pea meal and a good deal of water.

The dried pea is the favorite legume of the people of the middle and north of Europe, whereas in many districts of the world, including our own, the bean has this place. If we cooked the pea better it might become more popular.

It is popular with those who from economic necessity or from choice eat little meat, and it is just as good a body builder as meat, if all the nutriment can be got out of it in the preparing and digesting processes.

The earliest of our government bulletins, and perhaps the latest, are not up to date on this matter. They stand with the old time cooks for the long soaking.

A little reasoning will convince the skeptical that this soaking is unnecessary if the peas are to be cooked beautifully, and the questions about the digestion of legumes, however cooked, are far from settled, anyway. But one person who has found dried split peas quite troublesome finds that, cooked as above, they give no trouble.

The little reasoning is this: There are large quantities of starch in the legume, and this is insoluble in cold water. Heating the water does to the starch just what hot water does to starch used for clothes—it becomes soft and gummy. But hard and long boiling would ruin it. There are other undesirable effects which are not produced by this method of cooking. It spoils tea to boil it, gives it a bad flavor, and something worse. So does it peas.

LANDIS ORDERS DESTRUCTION OF 3 CARS OF CANNED GOODS.

Also Instructs Government Agent to Get Rid of 16,000 Bad Eggs, All in Violation of Food Laws.

Three cars of canned vegetables and 16,000 eggs were ordered destroyed yesterday by Federal Judge Landis. The goods had been seized by the government under libels charging that the contents of the cars were in violation of the pure food laws.

According to Assistant District Attorney Frederick Dickinson, who had charge of the prosecution of the cases, the canned goods were part of the large quantities of foods which had been in the Ohio floods and had been submerged in dirty water. The shipments had been made to Chicago buyers by E. H. Fretchling, Hamilton, O. Forty-six cases of eggs each were ordered destroyed on the ground that they were decayed.

There was also destroyed a car load of 36 cases of "tomato conserve," a powder used in preparing spaghetti for table use. Judge Landis at the outset of this year ordered destroyed more foodstuffs than were covered by all such orders entered here during 1913.

MAN RUSHES TO ST. LUKE'S WITH VIAL LABELED 'RADIUM.'

Charles Christofson Finds Bottle Under "L" Structure, but Learns It Is Only a Species of Salts.

Charles Christofson of 3650 Hirsch street picked up a brown bottle under the South Side elevated structure near Twelfth street. Inside were several layers of cotton and in the center of the cotton was a vial labeled radium.

He rushed to St. Luke's hospital. The vial was examined and found not to be their property, so Christofson made the rounds of several other hospitals and doctors and finally submitted the vial to a chemist. The chemist pronounced the small crystal like specks to be a species of radium salts that many unscrupulous physicians use for alleged radium treatment.

It consists of a salt crystal which has been exposed to radium rays and is supposed to have absorbed enough radium to effect cures.

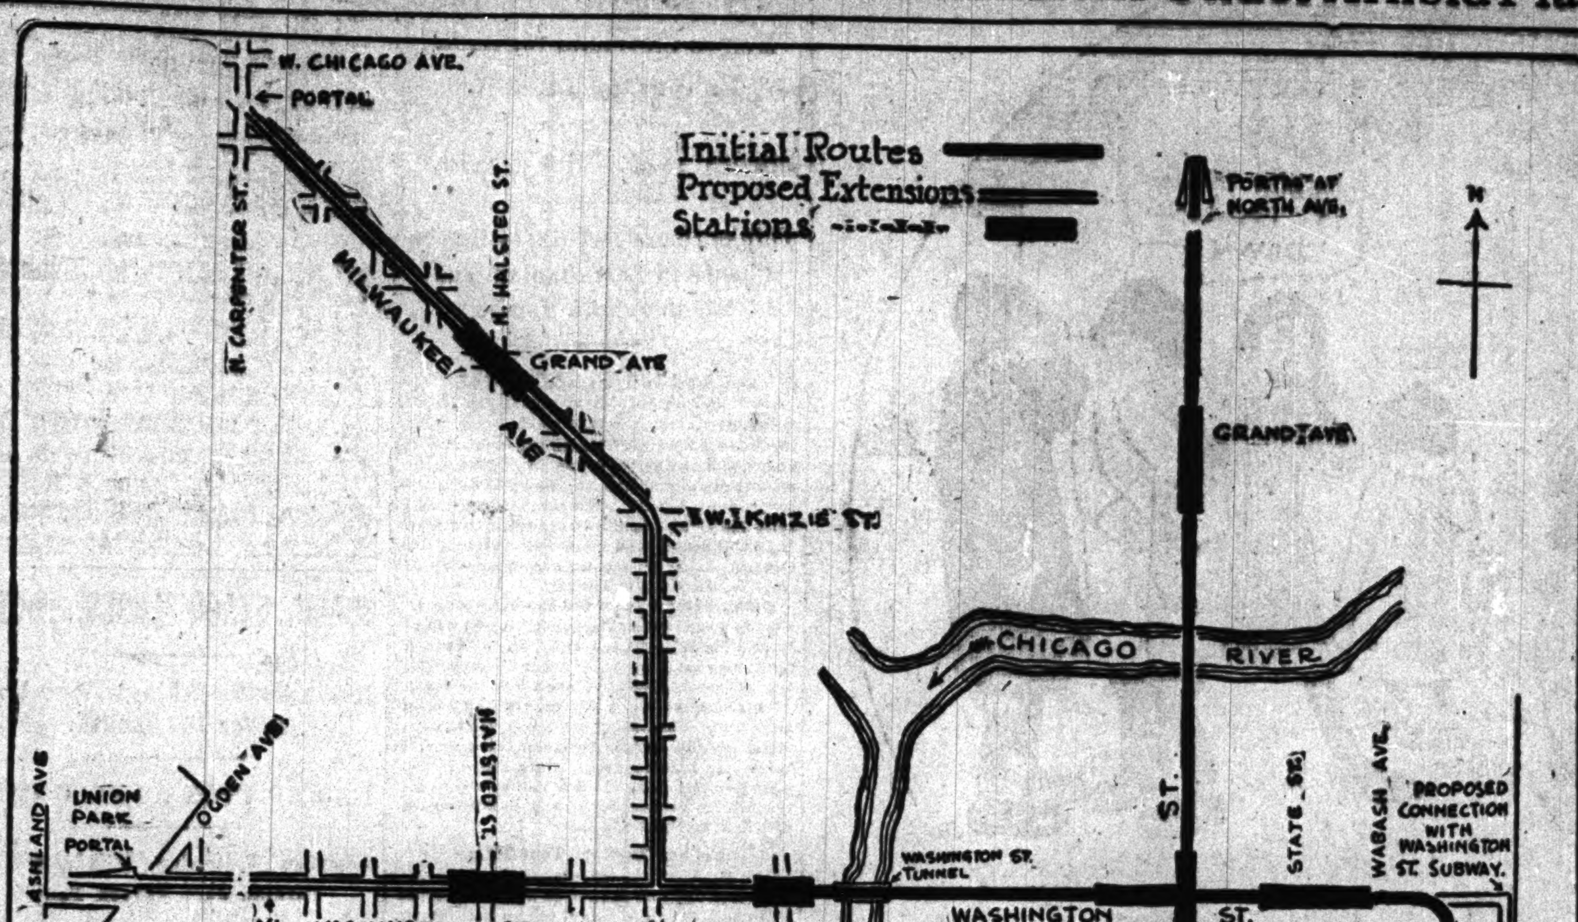
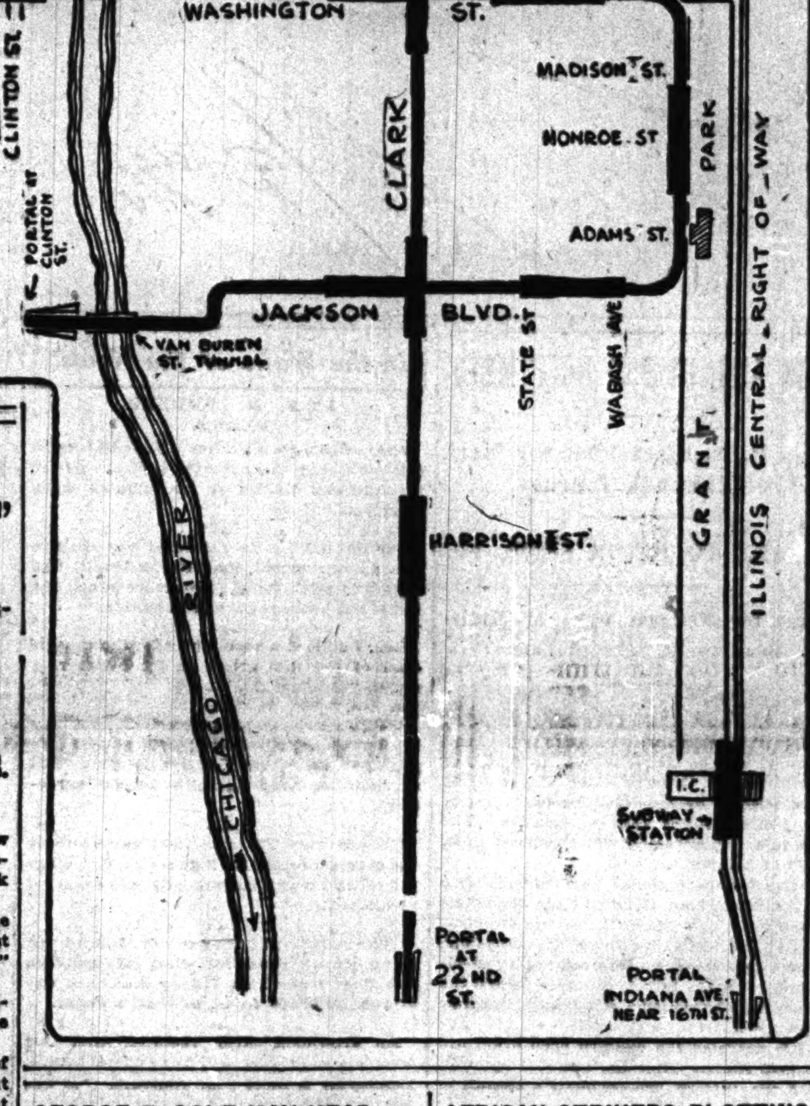
Initial Subway Routes and Possible Extensions Under Arnold Plan





...J. ARNOLD SHOWS ...OW CITY SUBWAY ...MAY BE EXTENDED

...pert Demonstrates Possible ...dditions to Be Made as Money Comes In.

...E TELLS THE ALDERMEN

...igures Place Cost of Branches as Outlined at $8,868,000; Total $35,317,000.

...S TO ANSWER ON MONDAY

...n J. Arnold demonstrated yesterday ..., as rapidly as the money becomes avail..., extensions may be added to the routes ...e has proposed for Chicago's initial sub...

...e expert presented to a subcommittee ...f the council committee on local transpor... a report supplementing the recom...dations he made last October. He ...owed how the bores could be extended into ...ctions aldermen said were "ignored" in ...e first report.

In addition to the Clark street subway un...r the central section and the west side ...e route using the existing tunnels under ...river, he charted extensions for the bene...of the west, the northwest, and the south... sections of the city.

...e cost of the two initial routes Mr. Ar... had placed at $17,909,000. The exten...s would cost $8,868,000 more. The open...of five stretches of "closed" street on ...west side, already approved by the alder..., would cost $7,540,000, he figured. Fur..., he proposed the creation of under...nd car storage facilities that would cost ...00.

Total of $35,317,000.

...ese figures gave the expert a total of ...,000 for the subway structure, and he ...ated the equipment, including tracks, ...ion furnishings, lighting, ventilating, and ...ing, would amount to $1,606,000. Under ...plan of leasing the subways to the sur... traction companies until the expiration ...their franchises in 1927 they would bear ...cost of this equipment.

...Arnold and George Weston, associated ...him as city representative on the board ...supervising engineers, estimated the en... system outlined could be built in three ...s. They and the aldermen agreed that ...the end of that period the traction fund—...city's share of the traction companies' ...its—would be between $21,000,000 and ...,000.

...This left, they computed $10,000,000 to be ...ributed by the companies if the "part...ship" idea is carried that far.

Question of the Rental.

...ecific compilations were not available, ...the question was not discussed whether the ...tal to be paid by the companies because ...the increase of their profits through sub...operation would cover that indebtedness ...ing the ten years between 1917 and 1927. ...re was, however, unanimous agreement ...nerally expressed that additions to the ...ation fund during that period, increased ...proportion to the companies' profits, would ...set any deficit and leave a substantial bal...e for further extensions.

While the discussion in the meeting was ...n Ald. Henry D. Capitain said after ad...rnment the city was guaranteed absolute ...ership in 1927 of the subways already out...d and probably of substantial additions to ...system. At the expiration of the surface ...panies' lease, he said, they could be ...ted if the city desired and the tunnels then ...existence could be made the central work ...a "comprehensive" system, to be operat...by the city as an independent system or ...ed to an existing or a new corporation ...operation independently of the surface ...s.

Routes and Estimates.

...The routes and estimates of cost furnished ...by Mr. Arnold in his report were:

	Subway structure.	Equipment.
...street, 19th street to ...avenue	$11,093,000	$407,000
...ington street, Michigan avenue, Jackson boulevard and Franklin street, ...east ends of tunnels	6,816,000	184,000
...storage facilities under ...avenue and ...park, Washington street to Jackson boulevard	1,000,000	276,000
...Robey street, Fullerton avenue to George street	926,000	64,000
...Robey street, Blue Island avenue to 22d street	2,214,000	76,000
...Ashland avenue, Clybourn place to Fullerton avenue	968,000	62,000
...Robey street, 39th street to 48th street	2,332,000	86,000
...California avenue, ...avenue to Fulton street	1,100,000	55,000
...Washington boulevard ...end of the tunnel to Union park	2,979,000	125,000
...street or Desplaines street to Milwaukee avenue, ...avenue to Chicago avenue	2,831,000	111,000
...avenue, 16th street, under Grant park to Washington street	3,058,000	158,000
Total of extensions	$8,868,000	$394,000
Grand totals	$35,317,000	$1,606,000

Include Construction Costs.

All the foregoing estimates include all ...struction costs with the care and protection of abutting buildings and the care of public utility equipment during construction.

"The ultimate future comprehensive subway scheme—of which the initial subways ...recommended are parts—" the report ...says, "contemplates the construction of a ...tunnel under the river to accommodate ...cars from Milwaukee avenue and the ...west territory entering the downtown ...and eventually to utilize the full ...capacity of the Washington street tunnel for ...north-and-west subway cars."

...Mr. Arnold also said there were some feat...ures of the report not approved by the traction companies and Leonard A. Busby, prospective executive officer of the Chicago Surface Lines, said he would be ready to discuss those points next Monday. He will meet with the subcommittee tomorrow to discuss the terms of the pending ordinance.

Many Petition Blanks Out.

Under the supervision of the committee hundreds of blank forms of the petition to have the referendum proposition for this plan of subway building placed on the ballot were distributed among the large organizations of the city. The Cook county real estate board representatives took 1,000 sheets, the United Societies 500, the Chicago real estate board 300, and the Bricklayers' union accepted thirty as a beginning.

Under the direction of Mayor Harrison the committee employés also took blanks for the "comprehensive independent subway" proposition, although the subcommittee, because of the form in which the question had been put by the newspapers fathering this petition, had refused to approve it and it had not been approved or even submitted to the council.

The mayor said he was considering having city employés, including policemen and firemen, circulate all four petitions now before the public.

Reports that uniformed policemen are circulating some of them continued to reach THE TRIBUNE.

THROUGH ROUTES FOR FEB. 1.

The directors of the Chicago Railways company met yesterday and declared a dividend totaling $371,800. They also elected four members of the board of operation of the Chicago surface lines and one member of the executive committee assured complete unification of all surface lines by February with resultant through routes to all parts of the city.

Present at the meeting were Henry A. Blair, chairman of the board of directors; Charles C. Adsit, R. G. Chandler, R. W. Hosmer, Abbott Jones, John A. Chapman, and Seymour Morris.

They elected the following members of the board of operation of the Chicago Surface lines, which is the formal name of the unified companies: Henry A. Blair, John M. Roach, Wallace Heckman, and Charles C. Adsit.

Mr. Blair was chosen the member of the executive committee of the board of control from the Chicago Railways company.

The Chicago City railway company will shortly elect three members of the board of operation and one member of the executive committee, and the chief executive officer of the whole unified company will be the third member of this committee.

RAIL HEAD ASPHYXIATED; WAS TO WED ON SATURDAY.

Death of Richard D. Lankford, Southern Official, at New York Was Suicide, Police Say.

New York, Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Richard Dixie Lankford, vice president and secretary of the Southern railway and director of many allied corporations, was killed by gas this morning in the bathroom of his apartment in Brooklyn.

He was to have been married on Saturday to Miss Nellie Patterson, who recently resigned as confidential secretary in the office of Huyler's.

The police blotter of the Grand avenue station says "apparent suicide," but Dr. Lester D. Volk, the coroner's physician, believes that death was accidental.

NINE MORE CITY BONDS SOLD.

Those Taken "Over the Counter" During Day Bring Total Receipts to $877,000.

City Controller Traeger's assistants sold nine $1,000 municipal bonds "over the counter" yesterday. The record on the issue now stands:

Sales yesterday	$ 9,000
Total to date	877,000

Deputy Controller Gosselin expressed a belief that the high mark set by the sale of $1,000,000 worth of Cook county bonds for $985,110 would aid the "direct to the consumer" sale of municipal securities. He expects the county bonds will be offered to the public at par.

BARS NEW DANCES FOR 'CLASS NIGHT'

Board Committee Refuses Request of Hyde Park High School Pupils.

DEAN SUMNER OPPOSES.

The "new" dances received another blow yesterday. As a consequence it was prophesied that "class night" at the Hyde Park High school on Jan. 27 will be a failure.

The school management committee of the board of education voted to deny the request of the class night committee for the "new" dances.

The senior class of the school was represented by Sherman Cooper, who made the appeal to the committee.

"I understand," he said, "that the rules of the board forbid the new dances. Without them our affair will be a failure. We want permission to dance the new dances under proper chaperonage of teachers."

"What are the new dances?" asked Jacob M. Loeb.

"The one-step and the hesitation waltz."

Dean Sumner Interested.

"Do you omit the kitchen sink and the tango?" asked Dean Sumner.

"Yes," replied Cooper.

"O, you wouldn't dance the tango, would you?" remarked Trustee Loeb.

"No, it's a back number," replied Cooper.

"Is that because it is prohibited by the police?" asked Dean Sumner. "I move the request be not granted."

"I have seen them dance out there," observed Mr. Loeb. "I have seen them change the hesitation into what is known as the bear and the tango. I second the motion."

"The students of the high schools are supposed to be one of the most respectable and intelligent groups in the community," said the dean. "If this group cannot see the necessity of placing such dances under reasonable control in the effort to keep out viciousness and immorality, what can you expect from residents of the poorer districts who have not equal opportunities?"

Cooper Promises No Violence.

"I suppose if you are not granted this request," said Dr. Peter Clemensen, "you will go back and tear up the furniture, as you usually do on class night?"

"No, sir," replied Cooper.

"Well," said Dr. Clemensen, "I am in favor of granting this young man's request. He appears to be a nice young man."

No other member of the committee voted with Dr. Clemensen, however.

The next person before the committee came with a request to give lectures in the schools against the smoking of cigarets. The request was denied.

Sex Hygienists Win Twice.

The leaders in the fight on sex hygiene lost two battles in the committee. Both were led by Mrs. Florence Vosbrink. The first was an effort to prevent the Socialist party from renting the Belden school for a meeting at which Dr. Caroline Hedger was to give a talk to parents on sex hygiene.

The other issue was on allowing Mrs. Kate Flannagan, dean of women at the Schurz High school, to speak on sex hygiene before the home department of the Chicago Woman's club. Mrs. Vosbrink and Ralph C. Otis were opposed, but the request was granted by a vote of 7 to 2.

The trial committee was appointed by Mrs. MacMahon, new chairman of the school management committee. It consists of Julius F. Smietanka, Jacob M. Loeb, and Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton.

The case of Harriet Schneider, which has come before the board several times in the last ten years, was resurrected when Miss Schneider asked for another hearing. She was dismissed from the school service and has instituted lawsuits against Mrs. MacMahon and some of the former members of the board, charging slander.

It was voted that a committee of five be appointed by President Reinberg to take up the matter.

GEORGE E. COLE MAY HEAD CONSTITUTIONAL LEAGUE.

Workers Meet Today to Plan Campaign for Convention—Will Struggle for Special Session.

George E. Cole probably will be elected president of the new Constitutional Convention League of Illinois at the meeting of the board of directors called for 12:30 o'clock today at the City club. Mr. Cole, as the sponsor for the parallel movement for a constitutional convention and a new charter for Chicago, was considered yesterday by many for the presidency.

A statement by Medill McCormick, one of the leaders in the movement, defines the scope of the league and outlines tentative plans, indicating that Mr. Cole's election to the presidency depends upon Mr. Cole's personal attitude. In part, Mr. McCormick says:

"Mr. Cole was reluctant to consider the suggestion and has not given his consent to accept if he should be elected, but several of the league's directors believe he is the logical leader and will urge him to take the place, pointing out that in view of the probable success of the movement after many years of agitation his incumbency would come as the crowning honor of a life devoted, without public office or emolument, to constructive work in welfare organizations.

"Besides electing officers, including an executive committee, the directors will lay out the league's entire program of activities directed toward submission by the general assembly to the vote of the people of a constitutional convention resolution. So strongly now runs the tide of public sentiment toward a convention that it is believed the present legislature in each branch would give the necessary two-thirds vote. If, however, Gov. Dunne convenes no special session of the legislature the league will concentrate upon the next regular session of the general assembly, a year ahead.

"The names of United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman and twenty-one other prominent Illinoisans who have accepted places on the league's advisory council were announced yesterday, raising to a total of eighty-six the representative men of all parties, except the Socialist, now on the list."

"I am strongly in favor of a constitutional convention," Senator Sherman said, "and will serve the league in any position that may aid this great movement."

GAINS MORE TIME FOR SPENCER

Attorney Delays Filing Writ So Supreme Court Cannot Review Case at Next Term.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—By waiting until today to file the writ of supersedeas issued in Chicago by Justice Orrin N. Carter, Attorney Anton Zeman of Chicago obtained a longer lease on life for his client, Henry Spencer, condemned slayer of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat. Yesterday was the last day for filing appeals to the next term of the Supreme court, so the court cannot review the Spencer case at the next term.

AFRICAN STRIKERS PLOTTING TO FOUND LABOR REPUBLIC?

Dispatch to London Says Plan for Revolution in April Has Been Unearthed—Federationists Surrender.

LONDON, January 16, 3 a. m.—A Johannesburg dispatch to the Daily Express says the government has discovered documentary evidence of a plot for a revolutionary movement in April to set up a South African labor republic.

Barricaded Band Surrenders.

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 15.—Secretary Bain of the South African Federation of Trades and his band of 300 comrades, who had barricaded themselves in the Trades hall here since Tuesday, surrendered unconditionally to the police today. Mr. Bain and ten other leaders were lodged in jail.

A seven pounder field gun, trained on the Trades hall, proved an irresistible argument to Mr. Bain and his companions.

Martial Law Discourages Strikers.

CAPETOWN, Jan. 15.—The strike appears to be crumbling before the energetic application of martial law. The labor party here was dumfounded at the news of the arrest of the Johannesburg leaders, and it is reported there has been a rush of men to resume work.

The Trades federation held a meeting at a late hour tonight, and although no decision was announced it is understood the idea of calling a general strike in Cape Colony has been abandoned. At present the general strike order has reference only to the Orange Free State and the Transvaal. A prominent labor member of parliament tonight admitted labor had received a crushing blow.

ANXIETY FELT FOR STEAMER CARRYING 300 PASSENGERS.

Hamburg-American Liner Dania, Bound from Northern Spanish Ports, Is Four Days Overdue at Havana.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—The Hamburg-American line steamship Dania, with a general cargo and 300 passengers for Havana from ports of northern Spain, is overdue here four days.

There has been no report from the vessel since it finished coaling at the Azores on Jan. 2. The French liner California from the same ports as the Dania and which left after the German boat, arrived today, but had no recent news of the Dania.

It had received no wireless communication from that steamship. For two days the wireless station at Morro castle has been calling vainly for the Dania.

The consignees of the Dania are assuring anxious friends of the passengers that the Dania is a ten knot boat and that it has been delayed by head winds and seas. In addition to the passengers for Havana the Dania has a number bound for Mexico.

SAKURA MISSING NOW TOTAL 7,000

Five Thousand Inhabitants of Island Known to Have Survived Wrath of Volcano.

JAP BATTLESHIPS HELP.

Distribute Food to Refugees Who Return to Kagoshima; Wilson Asks Americans to Render Aid.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

NAGASAKI, Japan, Jan. 15.—Five thousand of the 12,000 inhabitants of the island of Sakura, where the Sakura Jima volcano is located, have been accounted for. The fate of the other 7,000 is unknown.

One hundred thousand people who live on the mainland are homeless and the railroad for 230 miles distant is blocked with stones and lava.

It is reported that some of the stones are as big as houses.

Lava Covers Sakura Houses.

KAGOSHIMA, Japan, Jan. 15.—The houses that still stand on the island of Sakura are enveloped in lava and resemble gigantic wasps. The fugitives who have returned are still in a terrified condition and refuse to enter their homes, except to make a hurried search for valuables. Fears are entertained of the disintegration of Sakura Jima.

A relief party reports that in four villages of Sakura 1,000 households were destroyed and buried in lava immediately after the first eruption. The burning lava set fire to many other houses, and villages on the coast are still burning. The shores are heaped with the bodies of animals.

Thousand Homes Destroyed.

Last night additional explosive eruptions occurred constantly. The villages of Arimura and Yokohama, lying between the peaks, were exterminated by the explosions on Tuesday.

The victims of Sakura Jima lost everything they possessed. They are ragged and suffering from hunger and exposure.

The western part of the island is thickly coated with melted sulphur. The southern part is covered with a great deposit of ashes. The condition of the central part is obscured by the heavy smoke.

Throughout the eruptions the staff of the Kagoshima observatory remained at their posts, facing extermination and calmly recording each phase. They were almost suffocated by poisonous gases.

Jap Warships Aid Victims.

The officers of the cruiser squadron sent by the government have taken charge of the situation and are rapidly restoring a semblance of order along the water front here.

Many of the people of this city have returned. Their houses are in ruins and they are compelled to camp in the open spaces. The warships brought food and supplies, which are being freely dispensed.

The property loss in this city is heavy. The clearing away of ashes and débris has not gone far enough to allow even an approximate estimate of the loss of human life.

Thirty-three persons were rescued from a great waste of steaming lava at the foot of the volcano of Sakura Jima today. Their escape was little short of miraculous. The rescue was effected by a boat's crew from the Japanese flagship. The refugees were taken on board a warship and provided with food and drink.

The Ryukyumaru, a passenger steamer, rescued 158 of the inhabitants of the village of Yumara, on the Island of Sakura. All the residents of another village were found to have been rescued with the exception of one, who was taken aboard.

The general volcanic activity in the district north of this city is abating and the work of restoring railroad and telegraphic communication is going forward rapidly.

More Quakes at Miyazaki.

MIYAZAKI, Japan, Jan. 15.—The situation here has improved, but there are still frequent earthquakes and terrific thunder storms throughout Kiushiu. The rain, however, has purified the atmosphere. The rivers have turned yellow and their surface is covered with dead fish.

WILSON APPEALS FOR AID.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—President Wilson late today issued an appeal to the American people, as president of the American Red Cross, for funds to assist the people of Japan, who are suffering not only from the earthquake but from the failure of crops.

The president's appeal is as follows:

"Our sister nation of Japan is suffering from two very serious disasters. The failure of crops in the northeastern part of that country has brought hundreds of thousands of persons face to face with the terrible misery of slow starvation, and in the southwestern islands of Kyushu a sudden great volcanic eruption has carried death and desolation to large numbers in a thickly populated district.

"I appeal to the humanity of our American people that they may give expression to their sympathy for the suffering and distress of so many of their fellow men by generous contributions for their aid. Such contributions can be made to the local Red Cross treasurer or sent directly to the American Red Cross, Washington, D. C."

Navy League Gives $1,250.

Col. Robert M. Thomson, chairman of the executive committee of the Navy league of the United States, started a subscription list with $1,250, which was added to by other members of the league and officers of the navy.

A cablegram was sent to Viscount Kaneko of the American Friends society of Tokio:

"Instruct Red Cross to draw on 'The Navy,' Southern building, Washington, D. C., for 2,500 yen. This is sent to sufferers of volcanic eruption by officers and friends of our navy in recognition of the kindness shown our fleet when visiting Japan."

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

JOHN CLAFLIN, head of the New York dry goods firm of H. B. Claflin & Co. and president of the Gotham chamber of commerce, has decided to withdraw as a director from every financial institution on whose board he is a member.

MME. LILLIAN NORDICA, stricken with pneumonia after escaping shipwreck near Thursday island, off the coast of Australia, is recovering from her illness.

DANIEL F. MOONEY of Ohio has been nominated United States minister to Paraguay.

REPRESENTATIVE MAURICE CONNOLLY of Iowa has been elected a member of the executive committee of the board of trustees of the Smithsonian institution. This is an unusual honor for a member serving his first term.

PUSH ORDINANCE REQUIRING ROADS TO ABATE SMOKE

BEARING ON TERMINALS

Seen as Essential in Putting Through Plan of Pennsylvania Group.

ELECTRIFICATION BIG FACTOR

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

A program has been mapped by aldermen to dispose of the Long ordinance requiring the railroads to abate smoke in their Chicago terminals. The measure will be recommended for passage by the committee on terminals within thirty days, unless the plans are changed. The idea is to carry it through regardless of what the labor unions and the Association of Commerce may recommend.

The decision to rush the Long ordinance, which has been pending since June 2, is because of the electrification feature which may be injected into the proposed ordinance for the west side terminal of the Pennsylvania group of railroads.

It is the opinion of well informed aldermen that the terminal ordinances cannot get the required vote in the council without an agreement of the roads to electrify within eight years. That recommendation has been made by John F. Wallace, the city's terminal expert; Bion J. Arnold, expert of the citizens' terminal committee; the Chicago Plan commission, and others who have studied the question.

Founded on City's Police Power.

The only way found to get around a clause for electrification in the Pennsylvania ordinance is to pass the Long ordinance which makes electrification mandatory. It is founded upon the city's police power. It does not specifically provide the roads shall use electricity as motive power. It is the opinion of lawyers that the city does not have that power. The Long measure only provides the roads shall use "other power than that of steam" or operate their trains "in a manner which will not produce smoke or noxious gases that injuriously affect the public health, comfort, and convenience."

The first step in carrying out the program was taken yesterday afternoon. A special meeting of the committee on terminals was called by five aldermen, Chairman Geiger being ill. Several of the railway employés were present and presented a printed booklet against the electrification of terminals. Their chief contention is that it materially increases the hazard to them.

More Information Promised.

The railroad men will be present at the next meeting a week hence to elaborate the information submitted. As the same session representatives of the Association of Commerce are expected to be present. They are said to have spent more than $360,000 collecting data and information regarding the smoke nuisance. The committee was told yesterday that the report of the association will not be completed for a month or six weeks. The aldermen are anxious, however, that the association representatives appear before the committee at once.

It has been charged by Ald. Long that the railroads have contributed the cost of the investigation by the association because they desired to delay electrification as long as possible. At times the impression has been spread that the city administration is not inclined to force a discontinuance of the use of steam.

Warning Given by Mayor.

The mayor has said privately that a clause in the Pennsylvania ordinance requiring electrification will cause the companies to reject the ordinance, and thereby the erection of the station will be prevented.

As a matter of political expediency it is questionable whether the mayor will aggressively advocate a mandatory electrification ordinance. It is understood such a measure requires only a majority vote. The terminal ordinances providing for the vacation of the streets require an affirmative vote of three-quarters of the entire council membership. This means the opponents of the Long ordinance must gather thirty-six votes to defeat it. The opposition to the Pennsylvania terminal ordinance can kill it with only eighteen votes.

Say Mayor Favors West Side.

Friends of the administration have said the executive is anxious to have the west side station erected, if a proper ordinance can be passed—one that safeguards both the city and protects the companies. This improvement might be classed as an asset of the administration.

Many of the aldermen said they believed the executive would not oppose the Long ordinance so the terminal ordinance can be passed.

Two or three times it has been rumored the Pennsylvania group of roads will ignore the city and start negotiations with the state public utilities commission. From an authoritative source it has been learned that the roads at present do not contemplate a program of that kind.

Roads Would Deal with City First.

The roads must deal with the utilities commission, but they plan to do that after they have completed negotiations with the city. They want, it was declared authoritatively, to be able to tell the utilities commission they have a plan for a terminal which is acceptable to the people of Chicago, so far as that opinion is expressed by the aldermen and mayor.

From another source it was learned the Pennsylvania group of roads favors the plan of certain aldermen to have the council approve of the Long ordinance. At least they prefer it to having a clause in their ordinance requiring them alone to electrify.

Most Athletes Fail to Figure the Distance Between Start and Finish

MURPHY HAS PLAN TO BALK FEDERALS

Will Keep Secret Names of Players Who Sign Contracts with Cubs.

PROTECTS HIM TWO WAYS

"Feds" May Approach Men Already Lined Up and Pass Up Athletes Still Free.

BY HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

President C. W. Murphy of the Cubs has evolved a plan whereby he hopes to cause the Federal league promoters waste of ammunition. The Cub boss has signed most of the west side performers for this season, but will make no announcement of those signed or unsigned before the team reports at Tampa for spring practice.

By this silence President Murphy thinks he may confuse the poachers. Possibly they will waste time and money seeking to enlist players already under contract. On the other hand he is protected in part on the men who still might be susceptible to the offer of a fat contract to jump. If the signed players were named elimination would indicate those without the contract fold. Absence of furrowed brow indicated that Murphy was satisfied with the situation to date.

Silent John Evers Returns.

Manager Evers returned from his "gumshoe" expedition, which supposedly was in quest of signatures from those players not already signed. In conformity with the policy of secrecy, he declined to state where he had been, but telegrams from Lincoln, Ill., stated the Cub pilot had been there looking for Artie Phelan, who happens to be wintering in Florida.

Manager John announced that the traveling uniforms of the Cubs this season would be of gray material with blue caps and stockings and the word Cubs lettered across the breast. Last season the traveling uniforms were of blue.

"I suppose the Cubs will wear those uniforms at Sox park in the city series next fall," ventured a baseball reporter new on the beat.

"I hardly think I would express it that way," interposed President Murphy. "Rather say we expect the team to wear the uniforms in the world's series next fall."

Walsh Due Here on Feb. 4.

Secretary Harry Grabiner of the White Sox stated he had received a letter from Ed Walsh which contained the information that the "Big Reel" would arrive in Chicago on Feb. 4. Walsh plans to leave for Paso Robles two days later to take a course of baths in advance of the arrival of the regular contingent. The purpose is to remove all rheumatic twinges from the once valuable right arm.

At Federal league headquarters, President Gilmore was reported to be in Indianapolis trying to help land major league stars for the Hoosiers. President Weeghman of the local club was looking over the north side site selected for a park, and Manager Tinker had chosen a sequestered spot to offer alluring terms to prospective Feds.

Catcher Owens of the Minneapolis American association club, who was drafted by Washington, was seated in the Federal offices acting very much at home, but no information was forthcoming whether or not he had signed with any of the Federal clubs.

Johnstone Not with Federals?

President Chivington of the American association was inclined to doubt the published statements that Umpire Johnstone had accepted terms with the independents. "While Johnstone has not signed with the American association," said Chivington, "I have corresponded with him and there was nothing in his letters to indicate he did not intend to continue with us."

"Nick Altrock, Chicago's favorite ball player," announce flaring posters on south side billboards, "will appear at the Alhambra hippodrome for four days, beginning Jan. 29." The poster does not state what Nick's act will be, but Nick has confessed to a monologue.

EVERYBODY WANTS 'FED' CLUB

Second Group of Cincinnatians Write to Gilmore Asking for Franchise in League.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—That Cincinnatians are more than eager to have a Federal league club in this city was again demonstrated today when Attorney Paul Connolley of a prominent legal firm announced he has sent President Gilmore of the Federals a letter to the effect that he represents 100 small stockholders who can raise $100,000 to finance a club here and that several available sites for a park are at the disposal of these men. This statement follows closely on the statement of Rudolph Gries yesterday that he and others have backing to the extent of $250,000 to place a team here. Chief Johnson, the Red pitcher, called on Garry Herrmann today and it is said will sign a contract tomorrow.

After the Brooklyn men departed tonight Charles Stengel said he would sign tomorrow. Wheat's contract is for three years and those of Riggert and Ragan are for one year each. Before his departure Robinson said all the Brooklyn players with the exception of Tinker had signed. Ebbets and Robinson will confer with Tinker in Chicago tomorrow.

SOUNDS LIKE OPIE DILLDOCK.

Story from Baltimore Says International Will Remove Draft and Take Club to Washington.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 15.—An afternoon paper here today said it learned "through an absolutely authoritative source" that the International league is to be turned into a major league by removing the draft and transferring the Jersey City franchise to Washington. The paper says a meeting will be called in New York in the near future to discuss "this latest plan to combat the invasion of the Federal league." President Dunn of the Baltimore International league club would not discuss the proposition.

WANTS ALIMONY FROM CHASE.

Former Wife of White Sox First Baseman Files Suit in California Court to Obtain $145.

San Jose, Cal., Jan. 15.—Suit to obtain $145 back alimony was brought in the Superior court here today by Helen H. Chase, against her former husband, Hal Chase, first baseman of the Chicago Americans. Mrs. Chase alleges that since Dec. 1 Chase has paid her no alimony. Mrs. Chase obtained her divorce on a counter suit when her husband instituted proceedings for a separation. She was granted $100 a month for herself and child.

WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND.

AMATEUR BOXERS LEAVE FOR MEET

Harry Forbes Takes Three Men to Cleveland for A. A. U. Tourney Tonight.

LOOKS FOR TWO TITLES.

Thinks Moore and Hayes Have a Chance to Land Bantam and Middleweight Honors.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

After spending from one to three hours each day during the last week in teaching three local amateur boxers the finer points of the game, Harry Forbes, former bantamweight champion and at present boxing instructor at Lewis' gymnasium, last night took his trio of fighters to Cleveland, where they will compete in the second batch of the Central A. A. U. boxing championships at the Cleveland A. C. tonight.

Howard Moore, who will be a contestant in the 115 pound class; Thomas O'Grady, a likely looking 125 pounder, and Daniel Hayes, a promising middleweight, are the boxers who will represent Chicago. Owing to the death of his mother, Davy Miller, who had been selected to take part in the heavyweight contests, will be unable to make the trip. If there are not too many contestants in the heavyweight class, Forbes said he would allow Hayes to compete in both middleweight and heavyweight contests.

Forbes Expects Two Titles.

The local boxers were given a final workout yesterday and showed so well that Forbes expects Moore and Hayes to win the titles in their respective divisions. Moore is one of the best bantams Forbes ever has boxed with, and Hayes is a rough, strong fighter who continually bores in and who has a stinging wallop in either hand.

Joe Rivers, the California lightweight, matched to box ten rounds with Ad Wolgast before the National A. C. of Milwaukee on Jan. 28, refrained from boxing yesterday, but put in about an hour's work in the gymnasium. For the benefit of local fans who care to see him in action, Rivers will box eight rounds at the Madison street gymnasium on Sunday.

White May Fight Rivers.

Fred Gilmore, manager of Jack White, and Joe Levy, who looks after the interests of Joe Rivers, held a confab relative to accepting the terms offered by Memphis promoters for an eight round bout on Feb. 2. White's manager already has accepted terms, but Levy believes Rivers is entitled to a larger percentage than the local battler. In an effort to secure the match, Gilmore said he would give Rivers 2½ per cent of White's end. Levy is considering the proposition.

WELSH OUTBOXES SHERIDAN.

Superior Science Earns Verdict for Briton in Ten Round Bout with Chicago Lightweight.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 15.—Freddie Welsh, champion lightweight of England, outpointed Mickey Sheridan of Chicago tonight and won a decision over the Chicago lad in ten rounds. The Englishman put up a wonderful exhibition of boxing against Sheridan's sturdy fighting. Sheridan seemed bewildered by Welsh's cleverness. The only effective blows landed came in the fifth round, when Welsh rocked the Chicago man's head with repeated rights and lefts.

JACK RACER OUT OF DANGER.

Pugilist Knocked Unconscious in Bout at Racine Is Able to Leave Hospital.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 15.—Jack Racer, the welterweight fighter from Davenport, Ia., who was rendered unconscious after being struck several low blows in a fight with Barney Richter last night, is out of danger. Racer was revived in the ring, but later lapsed into a semi-conscious condition and was hurried to a hospital. It was at first believed he was seriously injured. After an examination today, physicians told him he could leave the hospital.

JIM FLYNN SCORES KNOCKOUT.

Pueblo Fireman "Comes Back" by Beating Jack Driscoll in Six Rounds in New York.

New York, Jan. 15.—[Special.]—After several unsuccessful attempts, Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, scored a knockout tonight. His victim was Jack Driscoll, the Brooklyn battler, who lasted less than six rounds at the Atlantic Garden A. C. Flynn, however, did not have an easy time in accomplishing his object, as he took enough punishment to beat any ordinary boxer.

Drouillard Victor Over Goodman.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Patsy Drouillard, Canadian lightweight champion, had a shade the better of Danny Goodman of Chicago in a six round bout tonight. Drouillard had the better of the second, fifth, and sixth rounds, and Goodman in the third and fourth.

Preston Brown Shades Kauffman.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—After a layoff of several months, Preston Brown tonight handed Benny Kauffman a licking in a six round bout at the Broadway A. C. Kauffman recently returned from a trip abroad.

Thompson and Papke Matched.

Aurora, Ill., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—"Cyclone Johnny" Thompson and Billy Papke have been matched to fight ten rounds before the Beloit Athletic club. The bout will be staged next month.

COACH STAGG LOSES FOOTE

He's a Football Player Who Will Enter Dartmouth.

LOOKED UPON AS STAR END.

Desertion Following Withdrawal of Carolan Jars Maroon Fans.

BY MAROON.

Coach A. A. Stagg will be minus another of his strongest football stars next fall, as the result of early season action by Dartmouth college fans. The backers of the eastern institution yesterday secured the promise of Foote to compete with their team next fall, and the Maroon player informed Coach Stagg he would leave for the east this month.

Coming on the heels of the news that Penn Carolan had quit the Midway, the defection of Foote was a stiff jolt for the rooters. Foote declared he would not reconsider his intention. He will leave Chicago in time to start the second half of the college year at Dartmouth. He will attend summer school there in order to become eligible for the team.

Although Foote did not play with the Maroons last fall, Coach Stagg considered him one of the most sensational players ever at the Midway. He was the surest and hardest tackler on the squad and would have played an end without question had he been eligible. The athlete secured a dismissal at his own request.

The committe has cash in hand $16,500; amount due on unconditional promises, $14,500, and on conditional promises, $11,500. A considerable amount has been utilised for expenses and the liabilities amount to $4,190. PICK AUG. 31 FOR GOLF MEET

U. S. G. A. Fixes Time for Start of Ekwanok Tourney.

WOMEN TO BEGIN SEPT. 14.

Dates for National Open at Midlothian to Be Selected Later.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Play for the national amateur golf championship will be staged Aug. 31 to Sept. 5 at the Ekwanok Country club. These dates were selected by the executive committee of the United States Golf association. The women's championship will be staged Sept. 14-19 at Nassau.

Dates for the national open championship at the Midlothian Country club will be selected later. As the British open championship will be held at Prestwick, Scotland, June 18-20, the American event will not be scheduled until after July 15 so as to permit the American players who compete abroad time to get back.

It is expected the western open event will be held shortly after the national opens to give the eastern professionals a chance to compete.

Plans Junior Championship.

There appears to be no doubt the Western Golf association, at its annual meeting at the Blackstone hotel tomorrow night will formulate plans for a junior championship. In order to bring the matter to an issue, the retiring directors at their final session Saturday afternoon will take up the matter and present their suggestions to the delegates at the night meeting.

Although an age limit of 21 years has been proposed, the Chicago members of the board favor making it 19, so as to put the tournament on a par with that of the Metropolitan Golf association. It is proposed to hold the initial tournament over one of the Chicago courses and if it proves an attraction it will be staged the following year.

Garfield Club Doubles Dues.

The Garfield Golf club has doubled its dues with the object of raising money to obtain a clubhouse. By the time the new eighteen hole course at Austin is opened the officials expect there will be money enough to start a clubhouse in the vicinity of the new course. Officers for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, James D. Gibson; vice president M. W. Moreau; secretary, Ray Caldwell; treasurer, W. E. Walker; Captain, Harry F. Rauttenbusch; governors, William Rauttenbusch, W. E. Walker, M. W. Moreau, Sharpe Towle.

REFUSES FUND FOR OLYMPICS.

German Budget Committee Rejects Proposal to Appropriate $50,000 for 1916 Games at Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The budget committee of the imperial parliament today rejected a proposition to appropriate $50,000 for the Olympic games to be held here in 1916. The rejection of the appropriation was due largely to the feeling of resentment prevailing among the Socialists over the government's alleged systematic persecution of the workingmen's gymnastic societies. The Socialist deputies voted in a body against the appropriation and the Clericals joined them.

In the Wake of the News.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

FABLE.

There was once a site for a Federal league ball park that was not right in the center of the business district or ten minutes' walk therefrom.

Our interest in the Feds has waned since the announcement that Frank Smith had signed to pitch for the Baltimore bunch and would not be manager at Pittsburgh.

Gen. Public can hardly wait for the appearance of the first article in Ty Cobb's new series, "Bulling 'Em."

Willie Ritchie's proneness to injury may be inexplicable, but one would not be surprised to hear that Battling Levinsky had sprained his hand signing articles of agreement.

Needing only 270 in his last game to beat the season's record for high series, Bob Wagner rolled 244 and undoubtedly was ashamed of himself.

The Federal league is bound to have an interesting duel of spitters the first time Tim Hurst makes a decision adverse to G. Stovall's team.

An afternoon paper reported that Art Fromme had signed with the Federal league, supposedly a three year contract. "It was not decided," continued the story, "whether he would play with Stovall's band or go to Brooklyn. Joe Tinker also would like to get the pitcher." Possibly Joe is putting something over by signing all these fellows with the intention of turning them over to his friend Charley Ebbets.

Jas. if, would be the most popular player on Holy Trinity's indoor ball team if it were left to a vote of the composing room.

The appointment of Tim Hurst as a Federal league umps recalls one of the 748 stories told about him. Tim had called a White Sox player out at the plate.

"What for, you blind ——?" yelled the angered athlete.

"Cut that out," said Tim. "Call me a —— all you want to, but leave out the 'blind'."

We had the pleasure of witnessing the altercation that resulted in Tim's leaving the American league. The Sox were playing in Philly and Tim was umpiring bases. Eddie Collins hit to center field and tried to stretch his blow into a double. The Sox center fielder, whose identity we have forgotten, attempted to head him off. The throw was bad and it caromed off the glove of Jakey Atz, rolling some twenty feet away.

"You're out," cried Tim, and, turning his back to the play, walked toward first base.

Naturally Mr. Collins followed him, gesticulating wildly and speaking words which he never learned at Columbia university. Something he said—perhaps it was "blind"—grated on Tim and he wheeled on Eddie. The scribes were too far away to see what actually took place then, but were informed afterwards by three or four of the Athletics and practically all the Sox that Tim had mistaken Eddie's face for a cuspidor. This was duly reported in the Philadelphia and Chicago papers.

Next day the kind hearted players, wishing to save Tim's skin, denied the expectoration episode, but, strangely enough, the denial wasn't believed by the newspaper men and President Johnson. Soon afterward Tim was dropped from the roster and the ball players abandoned a plan to supply themselves with waterproof uniforms and umbrellas.

It is customary to run at least one poetical effort, but we don't feel equal to the effort. Therefore, let C. H. do it. The title of his work is "Ravings of Organized Baseball." Vamp, till ready!

As a whole this Federal league
Is a stuck up and a conceited pig.
My players they are beginning to take,
But, by golly, their heads I'll soon break.

Tinker and Brown are surely a loss,
But even them I'll some day yet boss,
And the whole dam Federal league crew
Will soon also feel the point of my shoe.

"The atmospheric conditions were unfavorable to carburetion," says Mr. Parker, and we are not inclined to dispute the point with him.

Wisconsin's football team might have done better if some of its regulars had been quarantined, giving the subs a chance.

SCALPERS LOSE BOOSTING HOGS

Speculators Lift Prices Early, but Sell Out Later Without Profits.

CATTLE DULL AND WEAK.

Lack of Demand Offsets Light Receipts; Sheep and Lambs Lower.

Speculators at Chicago yesterday bought hogs at an advance of 10@15c from Wednesday prices. Later they resold the same animals at prices that showed nearly all of the appreciation eliminated. Opening sales to scalpers were made up to $8.50, the highest price made since last October, and the general average price for the day was raised to $8.35. Shippers bought sparingly, while packers filled good orders, but did not get started until values had reacted from the high opening level.

Demand for beef steers was narrow and weak, in spite of the fact that total receipts of cattle were only 6,000 head, and sales were made at weak to 10c lower prices. Prime heavy beeves escaped the decline and topped at $9.50 for the second time this week. Cows and heifers sold at a decline of 10@15c, while calves held steady.

Sheep and lamb trade was sluggish and the bulk of fresh receipts of 21,000 head cleared at a decline of 10@15c. One string of prime western lambs reached $8.25, while strictly choice killers had to sell at $8.00@8.15. Yearlings were in good demand at $7.00 for desirable lots, while fat wethers made $6.15.

BOSTON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 15.—[Special.]—Stocks were in good demand throughout today's session on the local board, and prices advanced from small fractions to 5 in Calumet and Hecla and 2⅝ in Boston and Maine. Boston Elevated, however, was the soft spot, that issue losing 5⅛, probably because of fear that the arbitration report would be unfavorable to the company. New Haven was dull and heavy. Call money, 4@4½ per cent. Time loans, short dates, 4½@5 per cent; time loans, six months, 4¾@5¼ per cent; time loans, year, 5@5¼ per cent.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

The Central Freight association, through its attorney, J. L. Minnis, has filed with the interstate commerce commission further data on the subject of the application for an advance of 5 per cent in the freight rates. The statement outlines the results of operations in the central west by three groups of railways. Arguments with reference to group one give a fair view of the situation, as seen on the part of the companies. The report covers a total mileage of 34,366 miles. Referring to group one Mr. Minnis submits the following:

"Group one contains the mileage of thirty-eight companies, aggregating 31,937 miles—23,186 miles, or 73.6 per cent of the total mileage in the territory, and the 3,751 'outside mileage'—and includes all the mileage in the territory except 13.8 per cent of the mileage of the territory, and except also the mileage of forty-six short roads owned by forty-six companies, aggregating 2,725 miles, or 7.8 per cent of the total mileage in the territory, whose aggregate gross revenue for the year 1911 was less than $3,000,000.

"The lines of group one increased their mileage 1913 over 1910, first main track owned 684 miles, operated 828; all tracks owned, 3,320 miles, operated, 3,569, and increased their property investment $225,506,220.

"Operating revenue, 1913 over 1910, increased $71,368,883; operating expenses and taxes increased $84,984,236; operating revenue, after deducting operating expenses and taxes, decreased $13,636,403; or, after deducting operating expenses, taxes, and rentals, decreased $12,302,910; or, after deducting operating expenses, taxes, and hire of equipment, decreased $16,183,357; or, after deducting operating expenses, taxes, rentals, and hire of equipment, decreased $15,491,764. The decrease in net corporate income was $32,207,414."

Transatlantic steamship agents in Chicago are on edge in anticipation of the coming meeting at Paris of the directors of the various conference lines to consider the attitude of their respective companies with reference to the existent rate war, precipitated by the Hamburg-American line. As yet the clash in rates affects third class business only. The fight had its origin in territorial invasion upon the part of the Hamburg-American company, Liverpool having been the scene of the new activity. The Paris conference will open on Jan. 21, when practically every line interested in North American trade will be represented, with the possible exception of the Hamburg-American company.

Chicago agents for transcontinental railways and Pacific ocean lines, catering to the oriental business report that the earthquakes and tidal disturbances in Japan will not interfere with passenger travel. The upheavals are outside the regular track of tourist and other travel, and will not interfere with general shipping between Pacific ports, Japan, the Philippines, and China.

The Chicago and Northwestern railway announces several changes among officials in the operating department, effective today. E. E. Hall is named assistant to the general superintendent of motive power and car departments, with offices in Chicago. B. E. Tappaing has been appointed superintendent of the East Iowa division, W. D. Beck superintendent of passenger terminals in Chicago, and C. H. Shircliffe superintendent of dining and parlor cars.

Chicago's fleet of Lake Michigan passenger steamers is to have an addition in the coming summer. The new boat is to be the South American, now being built for the Lakes Michigan and Superior and Georgian Bay company, now operating the North American. R. C. Davis, general manager, announces the launching will take place at Detroit next month.

Increased railroad freight rates are favored by the National Business League of America. A special meeting of the board of directors of the league was held at the Hotel La Salle yesterday, and resolutions calling upon the interstate commerce commission to permit an increase of not less than 5 per cent were adopted.

BIG IMPROVEMENT IN METAL MARKET

Iron Age Scores Calamity Howlers, but Warns Also Setback Is Possible.

U. S. STEEL IS BAROMETER

Ingot Production of Corporation Increases 6 Per Cent Over Last Week.

New York, Jan. 14.—The Iron Age says today:

"Steel mill resumptions, after one of the longest and most extensive holiday shutdowns the industry has known, have indicated improvement, but it should not be overestimated, as has been done in some Pittsburgh dispatches.

"At the same time it has been shown in an effort made last week to sum up the number of idle men in the metal industries that unfavorable conditions also can be overstated. The list of idle blast furnaces in the misleading 'million idle men' exhibit paraded in congress on Tuesday contains at least eight large stacks that were only banked over the holidays and have since resumed. Not a single deduction was made for the three score or more furnaces that have blown in during the ten months covered by the figures.

Agree on Better Situation.

"Leaders in the steel industry agree in finding the situation better this week, but it is not forgotten that the comparison is with a fortnight of very low rate production and the possible setbacks of February are not overlooked.

"The Steel corporation's rate of ingot production, which was 50 per cent in the first week of the year, was 56 per cent at the opening of this week. That is a fair measure of the change.

"Statements as to increased buying of steel products are not specific, but some consumers have contracted for the first quarter at prices they would not consider four weeks ago. It cannot be said that the 1.15c Pittsburgh basis for plates and shapes has entirely disappeared, but it is rare and has applied only to a few large transactions. The 1.20c price is the rule for first quarter deliveries.

"The industry is still getting on with a minimum of railroad buying, even while sentiment is growing in favor of a rate advance which is now commonly put at 3½ per cent. A western road has bought 10,000 to 12,000 tons of tie plates. The rail inquiries of the Southern railroad and the Seaboard Air Line together amount to 45,000 tons.

Look for More Rail Business.

"The mills now look to February to bring out long withheld business. In cars the week's orders amount to 2,650, of which the Santa Fe took 800 and the Kanawha and Michigan 1,100.

"Pig iron sales have been heavy in the last two weeks and prices in all districts suffered. Chicago business was 60,000 to 70,000 tons; Buffalo's total was fully 100,000 tons, and one sale of southern iron to the leading pipe interest was 50,000 tons. Some of the low Buffalo prices have been withdrawn, but $12.50 can still be done in that district."

PHONE CO-OPERATION PLAN OF BELL COMPANY LAGS.

Because of Absence of Sick Official Details of Proposed Operating Agreement Not Made Known.

Details of the proposed operating agreement between the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the National Independent Telephone association were not made public yesterday as members of the Independent association had hoped.

N. C. Kingsbury, vice president of the Bell companies, who had agreed to outline a proposal, was detained in New York by illness.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the independents has been called for Jan. 31 at the Hotel La Salle to consider a proposal from the Bell interests.

"If the board ratifies the American company's plan," said Manford Savage, retiring president, "we shall forward it to the attorney general for his approval."

The officers for 1914 are:

President, N. G. Hunter, Wabash, Ind.; vice president, Charles Y. McVey, Cleveland, O.; secretary and treasurer, F. B. MacKinnon, Topeka, Kas. The new directors are: Manford Savage, Illinois; N. G. Hunter, Indiana; J. B. Earle, Texas; H. D. Critchfield, Chicago; W. J. Thomas, Kentucky; C. Y. McVey, Ohio; L. D. Kellogg, Chicago; Warren Pratt, Nebraska; F. B. MacKinnon, Kansas; H. C. Todd, Missouri; N. B. McMee, Chicago; C. E. Tarte, Michigan; W. G. Handlan, Virginia; P. J. Weirich, Wisconsin; J. M. Plaister, Iowa; Terry W. Allen, Tennessee, and Ray W. McCanne, New York.

The session yesterday ended the convention.

HOLDS STATE BANKS ELIGIBLE.

Attorney General Lucey Asserts in Opinion They Can Enter Federal Reserve System.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15.—Responding to a request from State Auditor James J. Brady for an opinion relative to the relation of state banks to the new federal reserve act, Attorney General Lucey today issued a voluminous statement in which he said that "from the consideration I have been able to give the subject I am inclined to the opinion that there exists no substantial reasons why state banks may not avail themselves of the provisions of the federal reserve act and become 'member banks' thereunder."

PROGRESS MADE IN SHERIDAN RD.

Annual Report of Improvement Association Tells of Paving.

WILL BE 80 MILES LONG.

Lincoln Park Engineers Busy Estimating Construction Cost.

The executive committee of the Sheridan Road Improvement association in its annual report issued yesterday says that substantial progress was made in 1913 to obtain a paved highway between Chicago and Milwaukee. The Wisconsin authorities have arrived nearer a completion of their end of the road than the Illinois officials. The road will be eighty miles in length and will be the longest paved thoroughfare leading out of Chicago.

The general assembly at the last session authorized the Lincoln park commissioners to assume jurisdiction over a roadway between Lincoln park and the northern boundary of Illinois.

Chicago Stretch Repaved.

The portion of the road in Chicago between Foster and Devon avenues has been repaved. The village of Glencoe and the commissioners of New Trier township have adopted the necessary ordinances transferring a roadway to the park commissioners. In Wilmette, Kenilworth, and Winnetka the reconstruction of a sewer in Sheridan road by the sanitary district has temporarily delayed the project. As soon as work is started on the sewer it is expected that the village boards will vote to transfer their part of Sheridan road to the park commissioners.

Highland Park citizens in massmeeting have expressed their approval of the project and the town officials will soon give their sanction. Lake Forest is now at work on the transfer of its portion of the highway.

On the Water's Edge.

In Evanston the roadway will be on the water's edge, and that suburb must provide a lake shore protection in addition to bearing its burden of the roadway.

Engineers of the Lincoln park commission are busy making estimates of the cost of both construction and maintenance, which they hope to complete within ninety days.

The members of the executive commission of the Sheridan Road Improvement association are Edwin L. Lobdell, Charles H. Thorne, John H. Hardin, Harrison B. Riley, and Charles T. Boynton.

CHICAGO BANKERS STIRRED OVER BANK RESERVE DISTRICT.

Clearing House Association Names Committee to Confer as to Size of the Tributary Territory.

A formal campaign on the part of Chicago bankers to present their views as to the size of the district to be tributary to the federal reserve bank to be established here was started yesterday by the Clearing House association.

A committee was named, made up of James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank; George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National; W. T. Fenton, vice president of the National Bank of the Republic; Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust company; and E. D. Hulbert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company.

This body is to confer with the committee from the Association of Commerce and join it in the conference called for next Monday by the federal organization committee. The latter group includes Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston.

The preliminary canvass, it was declared, indicates the district should include practically all of Illinois, excepting only that section nearest St. Louis; all of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Indiana; most of Minnesota and Iowa and parts of Ohio, North and South Dakota, and Nebraska. This is assuming there will be no reserve bank at Twin Cities. Much depends on what is done with St. Louis and Cincinnati.

Live Supplies Drop with Greater Receipts; Dressed Stock Easier.

BUTTER AND EGGS ACTIVE.

Trade Looks Up with Revision of Values; Potato Prices Steady.

Live fowls and spring chickens sold at a decline of ½c per lb at Chicago yesterday, with increased offerings exerting a depressing influence. Receipts were 5 cars and 1,025 coops, with 3 cars more due but delayed in transit. Dressed chickens were plentiful and easy, while ducks, geese, and turkeys were sparingly offered at former prices.

Dealers reported a fair trade in butter and eggs at recently revised prices. The demand was mostly local, but more outside orders were received than earlier in the week. Receipts were 4,974 tubs of butter and 3,123 cases of eggs.

Fresh receipts of potatoes were only 20 cars, but the demand was limited and prices held without material change. Only a few cars were sold, and they brought 65c to 70c a bu on track.

Green vegetables were in liberal supply and met with a moderate demand at former prices.

What were your sales in Cincinnati last year?

Did Peters & Co. buy more? or less? Did they buy all your lines? or only one? Which of your salesmen called on them? When? Did you mail them one of the books describing the X-42 line?

What are you doing to interest that other big Cincinnati concern? They usually buy from So-and-so, you know. When did your man call on them? What quotation did he make? What sort of a reception did he get?

What were your total sales in Cincinnati last year? How about the "Anchor" brand? Did it show as healthy an increase in Cincinnati as in Toledo? What advertising did you do? Did it pay?

Mr. Sales Manager, you may not know it, you may not quite believe it, but it is a fact that you could answer every one of these questions—and twice as many more—if you adopted the Library Bureau method of sales records. They put an end to guessing. With them you know where you stand—with every salesman, in every territory, in every line.

Don't forget this: L. B. sales records are just as helpful to a business that confines its sales to this county, or this state, as to one that sells "everywhere."

GOLD PRODUCTION LOWER FOR RAND

December Output of 672,000 Fine Ounces One of Small Months of Year.

APEX REACHED IN 1912.

World's Supply Increased Steadily Until That Year; Declining Since.

The December output of the Rand at 672,000 fine ounces was one of the small months of the year. The total figures for 1913 and the output by months indicate a decline in the production of South African fields since the beginning of the year.

In 1913 the opinion was expressed that the world's gold production was falling off. The output of the Rand certainly indicates a turn in the tide for that district. The apex was reached in 1912. Up to that year the average production had shown a steady gain. In 1911 the monthly average for the first six months was 682,092 ounces. The last six months showed an average of 710,262 ounces.

The first six months of 1912 showed a monthly average of 745,460 ounces and the last six months 763,565. Then the decline began. In the first six months of 1913 the monthly average was 739,752 ounces, and for the last six months the average was 692,000 ounces.

Figures Covering Four Years.

Following are the figures in ounces, covering the period of four years:

	1913.	1912.	1911.	1910.

Dividend on Traction Certificates.

Directors of the Chicago Railways company yesterday declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the series 2 certificates, payable Feb. 10 to certificates of record on Jan. 26.

The directors also declared a dividend of 4 per cent on series 1, thereby meeting all the unpaid back dividends against the issue. The next regular annual payment of 8 per cent will fall due on Aug. 1.

The ability to pay on the series 2 certificates has been largely due to uninterrupted good earnings. Even the month of December, which usually entails losses through traffic delays on account of storms and involves the cost of snow removal, proved an exception in these respects. The weather was highly favorable for surface traffic.

The resolution declaring this dividend did not define it for any period and there is no promise of anything more this year.

The dividend on series 1 is payable Feb. 10 to certificates of record Jan. 26.

National Carbon New Stock.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Carbon company, to be held on Feb. 11, the shareholders will be asked to authorize an increase in the capital stock from $10,000,000 to $17,500,000. The preferred is to be increased from $4,500,000 to $5,000,000 and the common from $5,500,000 to $12,000,000. Of the new common stock the shareholders will be asked to authorize the setting aside of $500,000 to be sold to employés and officers on such terms as the executive committee may determine.

National Carbon common stock advanced on the local exchange from 138 to 150. The preferred was higher, but not so active as the common.

Dividends Declared.

The Amalgamated Copper company declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share, payable Feb. 23 to holders of record Jan. 24.

The Grand Rapids Railway company declared the usual regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock, payable Feb. 2 to stock of record Jan. 15.

Directors of Sears, Roebuck & Co. have declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on common stock, payable Feb. 14 to stock of record Jan. 31.

The Elgin National Watch company has declared the regularly quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable Feb. 2 to holders of record Jan. 24.

The Cambria Steel company declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable Feb. 14 to registered Jan. 31.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Money was easy and discount rates were steady today. The settlement was concluded satisfactorily on the stock exchange, but the tendency was irregular. Indications of the collapse of the strike in Africa improved diamond and kaffir shares, while copper stocks and Americans were cheerful features, but Mexican 5 per cent consols fell ten and other Mexican state bonds about five points on the postponement of the interest payments. The good bank returns and the prospects of a reduction in the bank rate next week were offset by the news of an Indian railway loan. American securities were quiet and steady during the early trading. Prices opened unchanged and during the first hour the leaders advanced on light covering. Later the list advanced on Wall street buying. The closing was steady.

OUTLYING BANKS URGED TO CONDUCT "AD" CAMPAIGNS.

"Millions Being Spent Each Year to Keep Business in Loop, So We Must Advertise," Carroll Says.

"Millions are being spent each year to keep business in the loop, and outlying banks must use advertising to hold their own," John A. Carroll, president of the Hyde Park State bank, told the Cook County Bankers' club at the monthly dinner at the Hotel Sherman last night.

"The struggle between the loop and outside institutions has caused a great change of front in the last ten years," he said. "Large downtown banks are using advertising in the newspapers that would have caused a gasp a few years ago. Pictures and cartoons attract attention to their matter, and they use an intimate style of appeal that would not formerly have accorded with our ideas of dignity.

"The outlying banks have driven them to this, and to keep up we must also advertise. I favor strong publicity to offset the publicity of the loop houses."

Representatives of the seventy-five banks present were called on by President Oliver F. Smith, president of the Citizens' Trust and Savings bank, for short talks.

The association changed its name from "South Side Bankers' club" two months ago on taking in representatives of all outlying banks in and about Chicago.

BANKS, ROADS, AND FARMERS MOVE TOWARD CO-OPERATION.

Plans for Big Convention to Be Held in Chicago This Year Are Made at Conference.

Representatives of the banking, railroad, and land developing interests of the country met at the Hotel La Salle yesterday to plan a convention to be held in Chicago this year for the purpose of cementing relations between the banks, the railroads, and the farmer.

The meeting was under the auspices of the middle west soil improvement committee of the National Fertilizer association. The proposed plans include country wide representation and invitation to European delegates. An effort will be made to have Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture attend the convention.

It was estimated that 80 per cent of the railroad mileage of the United States was represented at the meeting. J. C. Clair, industrial and immigration commissioner of the Illinois Central and J. B. Lamson, agriculturalist for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, promised support.

"In view of the fact this is the first time such important interests have gathered in a spirit of coöperation, we consider it an epoch making event for the farmer," said Prof. Henry G. Bell, agricultural expert.

NEW YORK STOCKS CONTINUE TO RISE

Broader Market and More Active Speculation Sees All Classes Advance.

WILSON'S STAND FACTOR.

Confidence Increases on Belief Trust Legislation Will Not Be Drastic.

New York, Jan. 15.—Stocks of all classes rose vigorously today. Speculation was more active and the market was broader. Sentiment was decidedly bullish and buying was conducted with a degree of confidence which has not characterized trading recently.

Speculation for the rise was facilitated by the increased volume of outside buying.

Today's movement was a continuation of the rise which began late yesterday on the receipt from Washington of unofficial outlines of the administration's attitude toward anti-trust legislation.

Easy money rates, the scarcity of stocks, the broadening investment demand, and a more hopeful view of the outlook for business were other influences which contributed to the day's movement.

Steel led the market. Trading in this stock was unusually active and it rose nearly two points.

Call money steady, 2@2½ per cent; ruling rate, 2½ per cent; closing bids, 2¼@2½ per cent. Time loans easy; 60 days, 3½ per cent; 90 days, 3¾ per cent; six months, 4@4¼ per cent. Mercantile paper, 4¼@4 per cent. Sterling exchange weak; 60 day bills, 4.8350; demand, 4.8655. Commercial bills 4.82¾. Bar silver, 57⅛c. Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds strong.

RAIL ISSUES DRY OF WATER, BLEWETT LEE OF CHICAGO SAYS

General Counsel for Illinois Central Addresses "Prosperity Dinner" at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 15.—Instead of being watered, railroad stocks today represent less than the actual value of the properties, according to Blewett Lee of Chicago, general counsel for the Illinois Central Railroad company, who spoke on "Belated Punishment of Railroads," at the "Prosperity Dinner" here tonight.

"Undoubtedly a generation ago, when the railroads were in the hands of other owners, their stocks were watered," Mr. Lee said.

Discussing the question of rates, Mr. Lee asserted railroads the world over are barely paying living returns, as a result of increased cost of wages and supplies.

James Keeley, general manager of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, spoke on "Real Civic Spirit."

W. R. Dawes, vice president of the Central Trust company of Chicago, discussed proposals for accepting warehouse receipts for cotton as collateral for loans.

COFFEE AND SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—After opening steady, 3 to 5 points higher on scattered buying and reports of continued steadiness in Brazil, coffee broke under heavy realizing or renewed bear pressure. Easier closing cables from Havre contributed, as did the Santos cable reporting larger receipts at Sao Paulo. The close was weak, net 18 to 24 lower. Sales, 69,000 bags; January, 9.17c; March, 9.33c; May, 9.56c; July, 9.77c; September, 9.95c; October, 10.01c; December, 10.13c. Spot unsettled; Rio No. 7, 9⅛c; Santos No. 4, 12⅛c. Mild dull; Cordova, 13@16c nominal. Havre closed ¼@¾ franc lower; Hamburg, ¼@⅜ pfg higher; Rio, 50 lower at 5$525; Santos spots unchanged, futures unchanged to 25 lower. Brazilian receipts, 21,000 bags. SUGAR—Raw firm; Muscovado, 2.79c; centrifugal, 3.29c; molasses, 2.54c. Refined steady.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Corporation staple dress goods are to be opened in the near future at prices about on a parity with spring values. A larger volume of business was done in various cotton goods lines during the day. Yarns were steady. Raw silk was firmer.

WHEAT IN RALLY AFTER EARLY DIP

Reported Brisk Export Demand Is Chief Aid of Bulls; Shorts Late Buyers.

COARSE GRAINS DECLINE.

Mild Weather Is Bear Factor in Corn; Argentine Shipments Are Smaller.

Commission houses were again heavy buyers of wheat on a little setback in wheat prices yesterday, and towards the end of the session prices again tightened up, closing ⅛c to ⅛@¼c higher for the day, the top figures being nearly 1c from the low point of the day. Reports of further export business increased the speculative demand, and after the profit-taking sales early had been absorbed by commission houses there was not much pressure on the market.

The commission house buying was led by Armour, Jackson Bros., Colvin, and King-Farnum. Early there was quite a little selling led by Bartlett-Frazier, Packard, and Ware-Leland. Logan-Bryan were fair buyers on the break. The weakness in corn checked the buying demand early, and there was some disappointment because of the indifferent cables from Liverpool.

Foreigners Fair Buyers.

The main influence in stimulating buying were the sales reported for export, the demand evidently not having been checked by the sharp upturn in prices the last day or so. The sales here were 75,000 bu, including 50,000 bu No. 2 hard to exporters, and St. Louis reported 185,000 bu sold to exporters, with a good inquiry and relatively higher bids at Kansas City. The bullish reports from Australia and Argentina evidently have changed sentiment abroad to some extent. Foreigners have been credited with buying futures here the last day or two.

The exportable surplus in Australia is now estimated to be a little smaller than last year, and there were reports from Argentina saying the estimates were being reduced further in that country. Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 800,000 bu. At this time last year the South American country was beginning to ship freely, and exports were extremely large for many weeks.

Nebraska Sells Wheat.

Weather conditions continue mild over the winter wheat belt and there is no snow covering of importance. Receipts here were 35 cars, with 47 cars inspected yesterday. Offerings of Nebraska wheat to arrive were larger. Minneapolis and Duluth had 301 cars, against 413 cars a year ago, and total primary receipts were 609,000 bu, compared to 1,081,000 bu a year ago. Winnipeg had 183 cars; last year, 409 cars.

Minneapolis stocks showed a decrease of 50,000 bu for five days and Duluth gained 197,000 bu in four days. Clearances were fair at 652,000 bu, but mostly of Canadian wheat. While Liverpool did not show much enthusiasm on the bull side, closing unchanged to ¼d higher, Paris was up 1@2½c and Antwerp was ⅛c up. Berlin was ⅛c lower and Budapest was ⅛c higher.

Armour Big Corn Seller.

Corn was under heavy selling pressure all through the fore part of the day, Armour leading the selling, with Bartlett-Frazier brokers also on the selling. Following the rally in wheat late in the day, prices rallied quite sharply and net losses for the day were only ⅛c to ⅝@½c. Cash prices here were steady to a shade off and the demand was moderate, sales being 115,000 bu. Outside markets were generally easier. Mild weather continues throughout the belt. No. 2 mixed corn was offered in store at 6c under the May.

Liverpool was ⅝@½d higher on smaller Plate offerings and a better demand abroad. Receipts here were 153 cars, with 214 cars inspected yesterday. Primary receipts aggregated 824,000 bu, compared to 1,135,000 bu a year ago. Lamson and commission houses were good buyers on the break.

Oats Trade Is Narrow.

Oats were influenced mainly by the action in corn and sold off sharply early, later rallying and closing ⅛@¼c lower. The trade was without special feature except there was further selling by the big cash interests, Armour and Bartlett-Frazier. Buying was scattered. Sample market prices were steady at the close and there was a fair shipping demand, sales for shipment being 280,000 bu. Offerings from the country were reported a little larger. Receipts were 78 cars and 132 cars were inspected yesterday. Western points received 387,000 bu; last year, 614,000 bu.

Small Changes in Products.

At the close provisions were without material change, but during the day the buying was offset by liberal sales credited to packers, and considerable realizing was reported at times. However, the buying demand was sufficiently large to keep the market steady, and net changes for the day were small. The cash trade was said to lack a broad demand, and stocks at Chicago are still increasing. Receipts of hogs were 37,000, with 24,000 the estimate for today, and arrivals at western points were 87,400, or 400 more than a year ago. Prices at the yards were 10@15c higher early, but later lost part of the advance. Liverpool prices were unchanged except for lard, which was 3d higher. Receipts of products here were 26 cars, and shipments were 73 cars.

Fair Demand for Rye.

Rye met with a fair demand at steady prices. No. 2 sold at 61⅛c, No. 3 at 58c, and No. 4 at 57c. Receipts were 6 cars.

Barley was steady, with malting 58@75c, feed 47@50c, and screenings 24@45c. Receipts, 32 cars.

Timothy seed was easy at $5.50 bid for March and $3.75@5.25 for cash. Clover seed was quiet at $11.00@14.50 for cash.

Duluth flax closed 1c lower, with cash on track $1.51½, January $1.50¼, May $1.54¼. Receipts, 7 cars. Minneapolis was 1c lower at $1.48¼@1.51¼ for cash on track. Receipts, 34 cars. Winnipeg closed ¼@⅛c lower, with January $1.29, May $1.35, and July $1.37½. Receipts, 25 cars.

BOARD OF TRADE GOSSIP

Cash corn was steady to a little lower, and oats closed about steady. The demand for corn was moderate, but there was a little improvement in the volume of business in oats. Shipping sales were 115,000 bu corn and 280,000 bu oats. Some of the receivers reported larger offerings of both corn and oats from the country.

"We do not find any export inquiry at all for corn and if there was we would surely know it," said Rycroft of Bartlett-Frazier. "The intimation yesterday of 64½c track Boston, which caused a great many shorts to cover, would only net 56½c in store Chicago."

The cash demand for lard from the south is said to be less urgent, and there was also a comparatively light demand for meats.
